REPUDIATED.

The Hestings Republican Comes Back to The Old Abraham Lincoln Doctrine and Will Support

W. J. Bryan. The following editorial appeared in the last issue of the Hastings Republican, which is published in Dietrich's own town, and which has been the leading daily and weekly republican paper in western Nebraska for the last twelve years.

"For twelve years the Republican has been a republican newspaper. Since 1888 it has made as best it could a clean, honest, manly fight for republican policies and measures and has supported republican nominees for national, state, county and city offices. Proud of its affiliation with the party of Lincoln and Sumner and Seward and Chase and Grant and Blaine and Garfield and Harrison, glorying in the record these great leaders had made and in the ideas of American government for which they had stood, the Republican has lent their party cheerful and loyal support. We can accord that support no longer. From now henceforth the Republican will be found advocating the election of the man who stands for the same fundamental principles for which Abraham Lincoln lived and died-William J.

"it will be found supporting fusion policies and fusion randidates because they represent those policies. It will do this because it finds it easier to adhere to the principles in which it has always believed and which the republican party has abandoned and discarded, then to follow that party in its desertion of those principles. With this statement of fact it desires in justice to its readers and patrons who have accorded such faithful support as well as in justice to itself to indicate briefly the conditions which have made this announcement imperative.

Bryan of our own state of Nebraska.

The republican party once stood for principle, for noble deeds, for American ideas, for devotion to duty. It was a party led by thoughtful patriotic, curnest men. It represented what was best and most healthful in American politics. That was before what Governor Pingree denominates 'that Ohio crowd got hold of it. It was before the views of Hannaism was inoculated in its veins. Since that time the republican party has undergone a trans-

as it is complete and undenlable. "The developments of the last two years have satisfied the Republican that when Marcus A. Hanna, with masterly skill and matchless craft, took it upon himself to accomplish the nomination and then the election of William McKinley four years ago, he acted at the instance and as the agent of a powerful unscrupulous and audactous combination of corporate and financial interests that were seeking for their own selfish aggrandizement control of legislative and executive branches of our national government. That conspiracy was successful. The trusts and money lenders became the managers of the republican party. placed William McKinley in power and for over three years have directed his acts and policies. They have exacted from him and from congress, which they equally control, gold standard legislation, further privileges to national banks, immunity for trusts, high tariffs to shield them from competition, a larger standing army and an unjust and un-American war, costing thousands of lives and millions of "All this has been done that syndicates may profit though the price were the blood of a brown people, that hungered for liberty; the blood of American soldiers and the endangered liberties of American people through the violation and repudiation of fundamental law which is the charter of their freedom. The republican party today stands for policies as eternally opposed to the principles of the Declaration of Independence as to the moral code of the Christian religion. It stands not only for special privileges to favored interests, for army and for empire, but for conquest, rapine and brute force. It has returned to the discarded ideas of kings and emperors against which our very existence as a nation is a living protest. It is the embodiment of a sordid and soulless commercialism and on its ev-

This is the product of Hannaism. It is this against which the Republican protests and to which it cannot and will not submit. If we hesitated to doubt the truth of these allegations before the campaign opened we can doubt no longer. The republican party stands self-convicted. Its silence gives assent to the charges preferred against it. Where is the republican newspaper where the republican leaders, where the republican campaigner who will discuss the issues of this he promised the people protection campaign? We were with him when, in 1896, he promised us international bimetallism; we were with him when he sent the money commission to Europe. But when he discredited his own commission and fastened the gold standard more firmly on the American people, our hearts were heavy.

"We were with McKinley in the war for the emancipation of Cubans; with him when he declared forcible annexation would be criminal aggression, that it was contrary to our code of morality and not to be thought of. But when he became the criminal aggressor, when he shattered our code of morality and entered upon the unthinkable policy of forcible annexation of the Philippine islands, our faith

Is it possible that our neighbors on the east of us cannot get enough feed to induce enough hens to lay eggs enough for the people of that section without calling on Germany? There is need for an improvement in hen management when such things are possible. Let the enterprising western man gather up the eggs from all over the west, preserve them and put them on the eastern markets. It does not look as though the business was being overdone when importations of this kind are taking place.

WINTER EGGS. The early hatched pullets have begun to lay ere this. Those that have not are singing around and soon will be laying. Old hens are in the molt and the winter's supply of eggs will come from the early hatched pullets. May or June hatched pullets may begin to lay in February if they are well cared for and kept in a warm place. It is the wrong season of the year for fowls to lay eggs, but they will do it if properly fed and sheltered. Getting a good coat of feathers will determine the matter with them. If they are poorly clothed they will not lay. The early hatched pullets must be fed about six months before they begin to lay. Late hatched ones will not lay before from seven to nine months. This is due to several conditions, climatic and otherwise. Good, week for McKinley. OPERATING AN INCUBATOR.

When using an incubator the conditions for success should not be overlooked. The temperature of a room in which an incubator is placed should be uniform, especially if it is a selfregulating machine and made without sawdust packing or air-spaces. Contraction and expansion are constantly going on, owing to the heat and atmospheric influences; hence, the temperature in the egg-drawer must be affected by it. In all political compaigns there is done, but the republicans seem to be determined to break the record on lyable thing about them is, that they lie when it will do them no possible good. Perhaps that comes from a habit, and they do it automatically, as it were. The eastern papers have been publishing a story to the effect that the chaplain of Bryan's old regiment rushed up to Roosevelt, shook hands with him and told him that four years ago he lain writes the following letter which can paper and all the mullet heads will
