

THERE'S ANOTHER WEEK OF

The July Clearing Sale

Another week of bargain giving such as only comes once a year. All the summer wares that have suffered during the season's selling, the lines that have become broken, the odd lots, the remnants, etc., are offered at less than their wholesale worth.

Come to the store if you can; If you can't, send for a circular; It gives the details.

nations of the world for their beloved country. Commandant Snyman was a resident of Cape Colony when the war broke out. He was a British subject, but influenced by his unbounded sympathy for the Boer cause he united his fortunes with theirs—voluntarily abandoning home, position, property and station to give them such help as he could. He fought in many battles and skirmishes. For six months he was a member of Dewet's staff. His young son, but 15 years of age, fought by his side for more than a year. That son is now in school at New York. Mr. Snyman lectures under the auspices of the Boer envoy. His aim is to keep alive and increase American sympathy for the cause of his countrymen. It is further to gain such financial aid as he can to succor sick and wounded and impoverished Boers and their families.

manded by Sir Alfred Milner. Then the jingo press began an outcry, saying that Kruger would not be treated, and as soon as the British troops were withdrawn Kruger would go back on his word. "Here President Steyn again stepped into the breach, and guaranteed his state and person as security that Kruger would abide by his promise. This dispatch, which was sent to Sir Alfred Milner, was by him kept back and never forwarded to the imperial authorities. Petitions were now gotten up by the people of the Cape Colony, and one by the women also, praying Sir Alfred Milner and the queen of England to do everything to avoid war, but these petitions were not listened to or regarded in any way. In the meantime the British were pouring troops into South Africa.

"Just before the war started a general election took place in the Cape Colony, and the friends of the Boer party were returned in a majority, again showing that the sentiment of the people in the Cape Colony was against the jingo or war party.

"Now, we come to the much-talked-of ultimatum of the Boer governments. Commandant Snyman spoke in part as follows:

"Ladies and Gentlemen: The South African republic was first prominently brought before the notice of the world by that ridiculous and still most outrageous raid instigated by John Rhodes against the Boer republic. The result, as you all know, was quickly brought about, as after two minutes' attack by General Cronje, Jameson surrendered.

"After some consultation it was decided that Jameson and his officers should be handed over for punishment to the imperial authorities, instead of being punished these raiders were held up as heroes, and their imprisonment was a farce. Jameson's room in the prison was luxuriously furnished, and his friends were allowed to visit him freely. Of course, this conduct on the part of the imperial authorities at once aroused the suspicion of Kruger and his government, and they saw that their country was in danger, and began to prepare for the war that every clear-sighted man could see was coming. As the Jameson raid was a failure, for the imperial authorities at once started on their line to accomplish their object, openly boasting that the next time they raided the Transvaal they would have the British government at their back.

"Now was started a plan of campaign against the Transvaal, with all its grievances and wrongs of the Uitlanders, men who came there with nothing, and in a short time were wealthy. Now we hear of the gold tax, dynamite monopoly, petition of Uitlanders, franchise—all these brought forward as possible excuses for interference of the British government.

"At this point President Steyn of the Orange Free State, recognizing the danger, arranged a friendly conference between President Kruger and Sir Alfred Milner of the Cape Colony at Bloemfontein. This conference was a failure, although President Kruger reduced the length of residence to qualify for a franchise from twelve to seven years, but Milner obstinately held out for five years. Kruger went back to the Transvaal and summoned his parliament. After a few days' discussion the parliament unanimously agreed to the five years' residence demanded by Sir Alfred Milner. Then the jingo press began an outcry, saying that Kruger would not be treated, and as soon as the British troops were withdrawn Kruger would go back on his word.

"Here President Steyn again stepped into the breach, and guaranteed his state and person as security that Kruger would abide by his promise. This dispatch, which was sent to Sir Alfred Milner, was by him kept back and never forwarded to the imperial authorities. Petitions were now gotten up by the people of the Cape Colony, and one by the women also, praying Sir Alfred Milner and the queen of England to do everything to avoid war, but these petitions were not listened to or regarded in any way. In the meantime the British were pouring troops into South Africa.

"Just before the war started a general election took place in the Cape Colony, and the friends of the Boer party were returned in a majority, again showing that the sentiment of the people in the Cape Colony was against the jingo or war party.

"Now, we come to the much-talked-of ultimatum of the Boer governments. Commandant Snyman spoke in part as follows:

can we get supplies and ammunition? I myself buried enough ammunition to last the war for two years. Whenever the Boers want supplies they lay in wait for a small British garrison or outpost and swoop down on them and get whatever they need. The war has to be kept up by the British supplies rendered Lord Kitchener and the other for General Dewet.

"The people in the Cape Colony are helping the Boers, and even the natives give the Boers supplies. Moreover, we have friends in England who help us, and by the British taxpayer, when the chancellor of the exchequer presents another budget with a large deficit, will begin to ask what benefit he is receiving for his money.

"The war has cost England more than $1,000,000,000 already, and continues to cost from $5,000,000 to $8,000,000 every week. What nation can long stand this enormous drain?

"Every dead Boer has cost $500,000. "I must not close without telling you of your mission, which is on behalf of the Boer women and children, who have had their homes, their property, their property looted, and now are in the hands of the British in prison camps, where they are exposed to great hardships and sufferings. They have been taken away, without clothing from their homes."

At the close of the plea hearty applause was given the speaker.

Against the War Spirit

Things have come to such a pass in England that the scholarship of the nation begins to speak out.

Herbert Spencer has written a letter pleading for the mitigation of the war spirit. In it he says: "Whatever fosters militarism makes for barbarism; whatever fosters peace makes for civilization. There are two fundamentally opposed principles of which social life may be organized—compulsory co-operation and voluntary co-operation—the one implying coercive institutions, the other free institutions.

"Just in proportion as militant activity is great does the coercive regime more pervade the whole society. Hence to oppose militancy is to oppose a return toward despotism.

"My prayer is that the retrograde movement will not become too strong to be checked by argument or exhortation."

A 20th CENTURY MARVEL

Doctors Who Treat and Cure Patients Without Pay This is What the British Doctors are Doing at their Office in the Sheldon Block Corner 11th and N Streets

A staff of eminent physicians and surgeons from the British Medical Institute, at the urgent solicitation of a large number of patients under their care in this country, have established a permanent branch of the institute in this city, at the corner of 11th and N streets in the Sheldon block.

These eminent gentlemen have decided to give their services entirely free for three months (medicines excepted) to all invalids who call upon them for treatment between now and July 10. These services will not only consist of consultation, examination and advice, but also of all minor surgical operations.

The object in pursuing this course is to become rapidly and personally acquainted with the sick and afflicted, and under no conditions will any charge whatever be made for any service rendered for the first month to all who call before July 10.

The doctor treats all forms of disease and deformities and guarantee a cure in every case they undertake. At the interview a thorough examination is made, and, if incurable, you are frankly and kindly told so, so advised against spending your money for useless treatment.

Male and female weakness, catarrh and catarrhal deafness, also rupture, goiter, cancer, all skin diseases and all diseases of the rectum, are positively cured by their new treatment.

The Chief Consulting Surgeon of the Institute, Dr. J. Boyd, is in personal charge. Office hours from 9 a. m. till 8 p. m. No Sunday hours. Special Notice—If you cannot call, send stamp for question blank for home treatment.

Hardy's Columbo

Sheridan, Wyo., Saturday Morning, June 28.—A comfortable slide in 24 hours from 95 to frost line. Living snow in sight. Since the white man's record, no season has had the fall or rain equal to the present in this region. Stock of all kinds never looked as well this time of year. We read of the "cattle of a thousand hills," but between here and Broken Bow there must be a thousand cattle to every hill and the hills can hardly be numbered. They have begun already to ship the fattest cattle east. Wool is being sacked and corded up for shipment. The English are still buying and shipping horses to Africa. The rangers admit that horses are well cleaned out. With all the stock in sight, not one acre in ten between Broken Bow and Sheridan ever felt the pressure of a tame animal's hoof. Think of it, over nine millions of acres of government land yet in the state of Nebraska, besides many thousand acres of unoccupied railroad land. We go from here thirty miles into the mountains to feed on trout, mountain scenery and perpetual snow. Few in Lincoln can appreciate the change from last Thursday's "sweat box" to the need of an overcoat on Saturday morning, but we brought the overcoat as good fortune would have it. It will not grudge our feelings to know that B. & R. Co. company are making money out of this country and for this country. Without the iron track this vast region would only be a dot in the world's commerce.

KRUGER'S VISIT HERE.

Preparations For Com Paul's Reception in America Being Made.

The Boer sympathizers in the United States are making preparations for Mr. Kruger's expected visit to the United States in the autumn, which was announced some time ago by Montague White, the Transvaal representative in Washington, says the New York Times. C. W. Van der Hoogt, an active Boer sympathizer of Washington, who recently returned from New York, says a conference of leading pro-Boers was held in that city a few days ago and that the chairman of the reception committee was chosen. He will be General Pierce of the Orange Free State, whose office is in New York.

Mr. Van der Hoogt says the Boer government in the United States are in possession of complete information, both by telegraph and mail, about the progress of the war and that their cable advices show that Mrs. Botha's visit to Mr. Kruger is in no way connected with peace negotiations. Mrs. Botha took with her to Europe detailed information from her husband and from General Schalkburger, the acting president.

"Cable advices of a private nature which I saw while in New York," said Mr. Van der Hoogt, "prove beyond all doubt that the Boers have gained great ground, that they are now in control of all the country in the Transvaal, Orange Free State and Natal and that all that the English control is the main cities and the stations along the railroad lines. The seat of the Boer government is still in the Ermelo district, which is within 40 miles of Pretoria. In the Orange Free State and in the Transvaal the Boers have 15,000 regular fighting men in the field, and the force invading Cape Colony is made up of about 4,000 picked men, divided up into mobile bands, who are recruiting constantly and sending the recruits to Botha and De Wet."

Mr. Van der Hoogt said that General Botha was permitted to communicate by cable with Mr. Kruger on condition that he would get Kruger to agree to certain peace terms, favorable to Great Britain, and that the British authorities should see the dispatches. Botha carried out the agreement, and Kruger's reply was that independence was the first basis of any terms of peace.

MACHINE TO HANDLE FRUIT

Electric Device Expected to Save Its Cost, $25,000, the First Year. In the immediate future there will be installed at the Illinois Central's fruit wharf in New Orleans by the United Fruit company an apparatus operated by electricity that will almost automatically unload the fruit vessels that bring their cargoes to New Orleans. The machine is the invention of a Philadelphia, S. J. Sidney, and it will cost in the neighborhood of $25,000 to erect. It will save this much nearly in the handling of bananas alone in a year and will revolutionize that part of the fruit business.

Incidentally it will dispense with the greater part of the Italian labor employed on the wharf. Now it costs the fruit importers 2 1/2 cents a bunch for the handling of bananas. The machinery will cut this to 1 1/2 cents a bunch. Last year 3,000,000 bunches were handled at this wharf, and the prospects are that the imports next year will be much larger. For the privilege of allowing the United Fruit company to place in position this wonderful money saver the board of commissioners of the port of New Orleans will receive $600 the first year of its operation and $1,000 each succeeding year.

A DINOSAUR FOUND.

Professor Riggs Discovers Remains of One Near Grand Junction, Colo.

Professor Riggs of the Field Columbian museum of Chicago, who has been delving in the earth ten miles below Grand Junction, Colo., on the other side of the Grand river, has discovered the remains of an immense specimen of the dinosaur, the prehistoric monster that used to drink out of the vast lake that once covered the territory now known as Grand valley, says the New York Times. The fossilized remains of the dinosaur are nearly perfect and as complete as any yet discovered in any part of the continent. The one under discussion must have been over 70 feet in length and nearly 9 feet in height.

Professor Riggs has been at work across the Grand river for the past few weeks, being assisted by skilled workmen. The skeleton will be taken to Chicago and set up in the museum. The discovery of the magnificent specimen will add fresh laurels to the fame of Dr. Riggs.

"Ben-Hur" in Greek.

General Lew Wallace's "Ben-Hur," which was recently issued in a new and illustrated edition called the Players' edition because of the novelty and interest which the scenes of the play lent to the illustrations, has also been the recipient of another compliment, which must be gratifying to the author, says Harper's Bulletin of Literary Gossip. "Ben-Hur," it appears, fell into the hands of a Greek scholar who, on his own confession, never reads novels, but who was so captivated by the great tale of the Messiah that he immediately made application to translate the book into modern Greek. This is now being done, and so the book makes its way, conquering new worlds for itself, in one language after another.

May Wear Shirt Waists in Court.

The judge of the circuit court of St. Louis said the other day, according to the New York World, that jurors, witnesses and attorneys will be permitted to wear shirt waists in court during the heated term.

A JEWISH EXHIBITION.

Planned to Hold One in New York Next Winter.

TO BE HISTORICAL IN CHARACTER

Scope of the Project, in Which All Organized Hebrew Bodies Will Co-operate—Dr. Cyrus Adler Chosen as President of the Executive Committee.

It has been determined by a number of prominent persons interested in the subject to have in New York city during the winter of 1901 and 1902 an American Jewish historical exhibition similar in some departments to the Anglo-Jewish Historical exhibition held in London in 1887, says the New York Times. When the American Jewish Historical society held its last meeting in Philadelphia, a committee was appointed with full powers to plan for this exhibition.

The committee, in whose list of members are many prominent persons, reported that such an exhibition would do credit to the Jews of America and convince the American people that their Jewish brethren have played an important part in the development and history of the United States. Upon this report it was agreed that such an exhibition should be held. An executive committee was immediately appointed as follows:

New York—Oscar S. Straus, Max J. Kohler, Joseph Jacobs, N. Taylor Phillips, Professor Morris Loeb, Professor Richard Gottheil, Leon Huhner, George Hellman. Philadelphia—Mayer Sulzberger, Dr. Herbert Friedenwald. Baltimore—The Rev. Dr. William Rosenaue. Chicago—The Rev. Dr. B. Felsenthal. Cincinnati—The Rev. Dr. Philipson. Galveston—The Rev. Henry Cohen. San Francisco—The Rev. Jacob Voorsanger.

Dr. Cyrus Adler of the Smithsonian institution of Washington has been elected president of the exhibition. Among the things to be shown are historical records of the Jews in America, including such things as Columbus' earliest records of his discovery written to Jews in Spain, inquisition records, Washington's letters to Jews, portraits and pictures of well known American Jews and the histories of Jewish institutions in America. There will also be included a collection of all books written by the Jews of America or pertaining to American Judaism. An international exhibit of things pertaining to ecclesiastical art and to Jewish antiquities is to be a feature.

Not only will antiquity be represented, but whatever it is thought will be interesting will be utilized. While objects having to do with American history will be the largest part of the exhibition, it has been determined to give Jews from Russia and Germany proper space. It has been thought best not to give the exhibition as an American Jewish Historical society function, but to invite all other important Jewish societies to participate. Among those asked to aid are:

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY.

Lloyd's Agency Said to Have Developed a New System.

Two new systems of wireless telegraphy, which are claimed by the inventors to be superior to that of Signor Marconi, have been developed by the Lloyd agency of England and will be tested in the presence of Commander Richardson Clover, United States naval attaché in London, says a Washington special dispatch to the Philadelphia Public Ledger. Apparently satisfied with the Marconi system, the British government is negotiating for 50 additional sets of instruments, which will be installed on board the larger ships of its channel, Mediterranean and Asiatic squadrons. Developments made by Marconi and other inventors in the field of wireless telegraphy convince officials of the navy department that by the end of the present year a system can be purchased by the navy which will give entire satisfaction.

Lloyd's agency has offered to supply the American navy with its instruments at a much smaller cost than fixed by Marconi. The Lloyds, according to Commander Clover, in an official report to the navy department, claim that they were able to communicate 195 miles by means of their system. The greatest distance covered by a message sent by the Marconi system is 155 miles. No details of the two systems perfected by the Lloyds have been furnished the navy department by Commander Clover, and it is unlikely that he will be supplied with information until after the proposed test. It is believed at the navy department that the principles established by Marconi are the basis for the new systems being exploited.

CHANCE FOR KANSAS APPLE

English Fruit Dealer Says It Has No Superior. William N. White, an extensive fruit dealer from London, arrived in Topeka recently to make an investigation of Kansas apple orchards and ascertain the best grades of apples for packing and storage purposes, says the Kansas City Times. Mr. White believes that Kansas has a great future before it as an apple producing state. He says soil that will raise good wheat will raise better apples, and Kansas farmers would do well to plant orchards on some of their wheat land.

Rich Women Paint a House

They Show Their Independence of Man Who is "Too Busy." Misses Josephine and Mary Derby, wealthy residents of Round Hill, near Greenwich, Conn., are painting the residence they occupy. Caleb Farrington is the painter of the village, but he has been too busy decorating the houses of the New Yorkers who summer there to attend to the Derbys' order. They are now showing their independence by doing the work themselves, says the New York World. They use no scaffold, but stand on ladders. They wear feed bags tied about their waists to protect their skirts, and it is said they wear bloomers beneath them.

Ten Billions For the Railroads.

A gigantic scheme is on foot to transfer the railroads to the government, says a Denver dispatch to the Galveston News. A western financier declares that the Rockefeller, Gould, Harriman and Morgan interests will turn over to the government every line of railroad in the country, the government to pay the total value of about $10,000,000,000, a string of banks controlled by the same interests to finance the deal.

SATISFIED WITH AMERICA.

Jewish People Said to Be Disinterested in Zionist Movement.

Cleveland Jews do not take much stock in the scheme of the Zionists to purchase Palestine and in the reports that come from London that the project will be successfully carried out. Dr. Theodore Herzl, the leader of the Zionist movement, has just reached London from Constantinople, where he had a conference with the sultan, and, according to the press reports, he was much encouraged by the interview. Dr. Herzl is sanguine of the success of his propaganda, but the Jewish people of the United States are not so sanguine that the Zionists will succeed in carrying out their plans, nor do they take much interest in the matter.

"I don't take much stock in the dispatches coming from Europe indicating that the plans of the Zionists to purchase Palestine are about to prove successful," said Dr. M. Machol recently to a reporter of the Cleveland Plain Dealer. "I think that it is possible that the statements were given to the press to stir up interest in the propaganda of the Zionists. As a matter of fact, the Jews in America have never taken a great amount of interest in the movement to purchase the Holy Land and make a Jewish kingdom of the country and have all the Jews go there. As far as the American Jews are concerned this country is good enough for them, and they could not be induced to emigrate to Palestine.

"As far as I know little has been done in this country to help the plans of the Zionists. Reports have been circulated to the effect that a large amount of money has been raised, but this has not been authenticated.

"A meeting was held in Philadelphia some time ago in the interest of the Zionist movement, and the work in this country was placed in the hands of Professor Richard Gottheil of Columbia university and Stephen Wise of Portland, Or. The most practical result accomplished at the meeting was the raising of $500 for Roumanians who came to this country. The two members of the committee are very enthusiastic in the matter, but I do not think they can accomplish much in this country.

"All orthodox Jews are in sympathy with the movement as far as its charitable features are concerned. They are in favor of providing homes in Palestine for the oppressed Jews of various lands, but they do not go as far as to desire to purchase Palestine and make a Jewish kingdom of the country."
