From official material compiled in the division of insular affairs of the war department at Washington an abstract has been prepared concerning the province of Tayabas, which occupies the western of the two great peninsulas which terminate southeastern Luzon. It has an area of 2,334 square which can be read when held before a bright miles, with an acreage of 1,483,760, or more than twice the size of Rhode Ismountains which sends out lateral ranges toward the Pacific Visayan and Mindoro seacoasts and ranges in elevation from 400 to 2,250 feet. The Tayabas river, the largest stream, has from six to twelve feet depth near its mouth. The shores of this province are indented by three of the largest and finest bays in the archipelago. Its population is 109,780, nearly as much as that of the state of Delaware. The inhabitants are Tagalogs and Bicols, both languages being spoken. There are twenty-three towns and 425 villages, besides rural settlements. The capital, Lucena, the second in size in the province, is

FASHIONS FOR MEN.

Many New Styles In Neckwear-Nega ligees For Fall.

Women who do shopping for their husbands from time to time will find an attractive variety in the line of neckwear. Green, according to the New A staff of eminent physicians and York Tribune, is the color par excellence for fashionable neckwear this season. There has been a prejudice against it in the past, but this has evidently disappeared, to judge from the numberless shades and combinations in which it figures. Russian green is the newest shade. This combines well with other colors, being bright, yet not startling. One sees such odd faicies as olive color used with navy blue or hunter's green and navy and myrtle with purple.

The turndown collars are somewhat lower now than formerly and have more space for the tie; hence larger scarfs are admissible than have been commonly worn. Batwings are to be popular, and the ends are frequently embroidered.

There is almost as much room for distinctive taste in selecting men's hose as in women's these days. Ribbed silk half hose with lace openwork between the ribs are much in favor. Daisy blossoms of the tiniest kind embroidered on silk hose in white, red or gold are really strikingly pretty. Then there are stripings, horizontal or vertical, in lisles and cashmeres and quiet toned embroidered effects. Black half hose, perfectly plain, are chosen by many men for lounging wear with low

The golf gloves are usually made of gray or white buckskin, with tan points arranged ornamentally on the back and tan dog or deer skin in the palms for greater durability. One large horn button closes the glove on the upper part of the wrist, and there are holes on the knuckles, so that freedom of action is secured for the hand in playing.

The latest thing in colored shirts is a pale yellow or corn color ground, with either black or white stripes running up and down. Five plaits are often made on each side of the center of the bosom. The full negligees ining equally stylish. Polka dots are as Home address, 235 Rivington street. popular with some men as the stripes are with others. Much ingenuity has been displayed by the different shirtmakers in having their plaitings harmonize perfectly with the pattern of the goods.
