COLORADO EXCITED

The Economist, Miners and Poets all Discussing the New Process of Extracting Gold

At this writing Colorado seems still to be all "wrought up" over the Wynn process of getting gold out of the old dumps, sand banks, talc deposits and almost any sort of material that is "comatable" in that state.

An "element" in chemistry is what may be called an original substance; that is, a substance which cannot be divided into two or more component parts. It is a question whether or not we have knowledge of a real "element" or primary substance.

The Wynn process, which seems to have enlisted the confidence of Messrs. Willard Teller and Sidney Williams of this city, and which is exciting a vast amount of interest in all the mining states, is based upon a somewhat similar theory.

The weight of experience is against the claim. If the owners of the process were to attempt to sell stock or otherwise to obtain money from the public the wise man would decline to part with a single nickel to them.

But, in any event, the wide discussion of the process is likely to produce great and lasting good. Chemistry owes to the alchemists most of the great discoveries which contributed to its development.

Two or three years ago the populists of Nebraska lend Colorado their post, J. A. Edgerton, and they seem inclined to refuse to let him come home.

He takes up the Wynn process and versifies concerning it after the following fashion: Gold!

More than the human tongue ever has told! Taken from tailings, from dumps and from sand,

Taken from water and taken from land, Taken from sawdust and taken from air,

All you can hug of it, All you can lug of it, Till there's a drug of it Everywhere!

Gold! More than the treasure chests ever can hold! More than the mills can crush out of the dirt!

More than the mints into coin can convert! More than the ships and the railroads can haul!

Limitless wads of it! Loaded-up hods of it! Each one with seeds of it! Plenty for all!

Gold! Alchemists sought it in centuries old, Puttered with chemistry, acids and gas;

Thought they could make it of iron and brass; All their lives long for the secret they tried.

Gold! See, in the present, the wonder unfold, All of those efforts of ancients have paid.

Fakirs have won where philosophers failed, We have the secret that baffled the past.

There is no routing it, Though men are scouting it; No use of doubling it, We've nailed it fast.

Gold! This is the way that the thing is controlled, Buy up some acids and pour in a tank, Shovel in gravel from out a sand-bank.

Prove! You have it; and that is no dream, There is a crop of it, Gold, every drop of it, Off of the top of it, Skim it like cream.

Gold! This is the marvel we now may behold: It is converted from elements base, Grows on the bushes—or any old place.

Yet, were the dream a fact, what is it worth? Avarice raves for it, Men become knaves for it, Others are slaves for it—Dust of the earth.

Gold! Heaven and happiness for it are sold, For it what crucibles the toilers endure! For it what burdens are piled on the poor!

Unto mankind 'tis a scourge and a rod— Poison distilled for it: Blood has been spilled for it; Men have been killed for it. It is our god.

Great Big Me!

In times past Americans had good ground for most of their boasting concerning their form of government, but having given themselves over to spending their time in shouting: "Look at great big me," instead of trying to keep up with the age in which they live, they are now more commonly looked upon by the scholars and economists of Europe as self-satisfied egotists, whose only god is the almighty dollar.

tions in the tenement districts that amounts to a row of pins. In London, Paris and Berlin the government is looking after the welfare of its working force. In a short time the London county council will possess 250 blocks of workmen's dwellings, yielding an annual net of $805,000.

The project of housing the London poor involves the expenditure from the city treasury of $20,000,000. This sum is expected to furnish homes for 92,000 persons.

In January next homes for 2,200 persons will be ready for occupancy. In February 286 more will be accommodated, in May 610, in July 473. All are in Battersea, Duke's Court and St. Pancras. In Clerkenwell, Totterdown Fields, and Swan Lane homes will be furnished during the coming year for thousands more.

The biggest scheme of all is that known as the White Hart Lane, Tottenham, scheme, which, for buildings alone, will cost £1,530,858 to carry into effect, and upon which 34,784 persons will be accommodated.

Work of building the homes is in progress in many other places in the congested districts of the city, and nearly all buildings projected will be completed during the year.

Government Ownership

When the populists first demanded the government ownership of railroads and telegraphs it was denounced as visionary by those who never stopped to think that all the governments of the world had adopted it as a permanent policy and already owned, in whole or in part, the telegraph and railroads of every civilized nation.

Men begin to look at the demand of late in an entirely different way. The Denver Daily News remarks that by the time all the roads have been gathered into half a dozen gigantic groups the stocks and bonds of the half dozen groups will have a face value more than double that of the stocks and bonds of the hundreds of original separate lines.

The magicians of Wall street will have performed to greatest feat of manipulation in financial history if they ever persuade Uncle Sam to exchange government bonds, worth 100 cents on the dollar, for the hundreds of millions of water they are pumping into railway capitalizations. They are capitalizing the growth and progress of the country and hope to make the people pay them for the wealth the people have created.

But when the time for government ownership comes, and it is coming fast under the pressure of continued consolidations, the public will have something to say about the price to be paid for the roads.

THE NICARAGUA CANAL TREATY

Enterprising Newspaper Men Appear to Have Obtained the Text of the

NEW TREATY WITH ENGLAND

And the Great Trans-Isthmian Canal Will Undoubtedly Be Built in a Few Years.

Most Americans are firm believers in American ownership of the canal to be cut through the isthmus of Darien, and Pauncefote and Clayton have agreed upon a new treaty which shall abrogate the Clayton-Bulwer contention and make practicable the construction of the Nicaragua canal under American auspices. It is to be a and proper guarantees that it shall not be closed to international commerce in the event of war are not unreasonable. The present administration is committed to this important undertaking.

The trans-continental railway systems can be expected to oppose an enterprise. It will not be surprising, therefore to read paid editorials in some of the leading newspapers, apparently favoring the canal, but really devoted to an effort at its defeat.

THE PEOPLE ARE DETERMINED

however, that this attempt to connect two great oceans by a maritime highway open to the world of commerce shall not fail. Therefore, the newspapers which lend themselves to any movement for delay are seriously risking the good will of the people. It is observed that when once Americans set their hearts upon any purpose subservient politicians and subsidized journalists are unequal to the task of turning aside public sentiment.

It is this fact which makes institutions like Nebraska's successful insurance company, the BANKERS RESERVE LIFE, strong with the people of Nebraska. They are rapidly becoming educated to the doctrines for which this aggressive institution stands. They have rallied most manfully to its support, and $275,000 was written in October. Half a million more will be added to the total risks of this home company for November and December, and the increase for the year will approximate $2,000,000. The period of doubt and distrust caused by alien enemies of home companies is passed.

B. H. ROBISON, PRESIDENT.

the apostle of home life insurance, predicts with the greatest confidence that the Bankers Reserve will write $3,000,000 next year. He is securing a solid force of unusual strength, but wants 100 more of the best underwriters in the country to push the new Gold Bond Policies which the company has adopted. These are new, modern, liberal, profitable to insurers and great sellers. Write him, McCague building, Omaha, for full particulars regarding

ARTHUR LANGGUTH PRESIDENT OF THE MICHIGAN PRESBYTERIAN PUBLISHING COMPANY

An Interesting Incident in the Life of a Successful Man as Told in a Personal Interview.

Mr. Arthur Langguth is president of the Michigan Presbyterian Publishing Company and is known as a conscientious and reliable man as far as the official organ of that church, the Michigan Presbyterian, circulates. The home office of the concern is at No. 15 John R. street, Detroit, and in that town he is known as the successful manager of a large business and a leading citizen. In a recent interview he said:

"Several years ago, in some manner I strained my back. Instead of getting better it became worse and the pain increased so much that I could not lie down on my back, and when sitting I was obliged to lean forward. It was not only very painful, but caused me great inconvenience and in spite of all the remedies I took it did not become any better. I did not want to leave my business, but at last I reluctantly decided to go to Colorado for the change and rest.

But as I was making my preparations for the trip, the wife of a minister who is a friend of our family advised me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and so strongly did she recommend them that I put off the journey and tried the pills. "Well, it was wonderful. I improved from the very start. I had been extremely emaciated from the pain and loss of appetite, but by the time I had taken a box my appetite began to return, the pains began to leave me and I picked up in health. In a short time I was completely well again."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People will not only effect a cure in cases similar to the above, but acting directly upon the blood and nerves, are an unfailing specific for such diseases as partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, nervous headache, after-effects of the grip, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexion and all forms of weakness, either male or female. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold by all dealers, or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price, fifty cents a box or six boxes for two dollars and fifty cents, by addressing Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

BILLS ALL PAID

Report of the Treasurer of the Populist State Committee—Full Accounts of Receipts and Disbursements

Treasurer Meserve, of the people's independent party state central committee, on Monday filed with the county clerk of Lancaster county his sworn statement of the receipts and expenditures of the state committee during the last campaign. This statement includes all expenses and payment up to the 12th day of November.

The Independent is informed that headquarters have been kept open since election and that under the direction of Chairman De France a great deal of work is now being done along certain lines, preparatory to the campaign of 1902. There is still about $1,500 as from the various counties, and The Independent suggests that if this amount were paid in now and properly expended in doing necessary work during this winter that it would save three times that amount in expenses next August and September. It is gratifying to note that there is no deficit this year. The old debt of 1900, however, not fully paid, are only about one-sixth or one-eighth the amount usually spent by a state committee in a campaign. Treasurer Meserve's reports is as follows:

State of Nebraska, County of Lancaster— In accordance with section 18, article 2, chapter 28, consolidated statutes of Nebraska (1901), I, J. B. Meserve, the duly appointed and acting treasurer of the state central committee of the people's independent party of Nebraska, hereby submit the following report of my receipts and disbursements, as such treasurer, from and including the 17th day of September, A. D., 1901 to and including the 12th day of November, A. D., 1901:

Hon. Judge Wing of the federal court of Cleveland has just issued a permanent injunction with costs and damages enjoining a lawyer named Gorey from the manufacture and sale of an imitation of CASCARETS. Gorey imitated the boxes, the shape of the tablet and used a similar sounding name. This decision is to be commended. It is a long step in the right direction. Any dealer who will offer a substitute or say that something "is just as good" when CASCARETS are called for, does it for the purpose of making a few cents extra profit, which must always be at the expense of the customer's health.

CASCARETS have been advertised freely in our columns and as the result of making them known, CASCARETS today have the largest sale of any bowel medicine in the world. They are always packed in metal boxes with the long tail "C" on the cover and each tablet stamped C. C. C. They are never sold in bulk or from jars. We deem it our duty to warn our readers against an imitation or substitute of this meritorious medicine, and if at any time they have ever been offered a substitute or an offer made to sell something "just as good" when CASCARETS have been asked for, we will be pleased indeed to have a letter to that effect or write direct to the Sterling Remedy Company, New York or Chicago.
