The decline in the price of the German sugar from 53-10 cents in 1873 to 2 2-10 cents in 1901 was about 60 per cent and the decline in the price of the Cuban sugar in our money from 53-4 cents in 1873 to 24-10 cents in 1901 was about 58 per cent. The fall of 60 per cent in the price that the German producers were receiving has produced wide-spread distress in

I have shown conclusively that overproduction of sugar did not cause the decline in the import price of the German sugar from 53-10 cents in 1873 to 2 2-10 cents in 1901.

Now as to just what did cause the

The Cuban sugar was and is practically paid for with the ounce of silver. In 1873 it was worth $1.29. At that time the Cuban received as his import price 53-4 cents (.0575) per pound, and the American consumer paid 53-4 cents per pound. In 1880 the Cuban received 53-10 cents per the commercial price of the ounce of per pound for his sugar instead of
