If there is any truth in an old saying, how Mr. Bryan's ears must burn every time a certain element of the democratic legislative majority gets together to talk it over!

Merciful powers! Can't the administration that Teddy thrust upon us do a single thing to bring one yawn of approval from Oyster Bay?

ardice and a short-sighted business policy.

"We, therefore, urge upon all well-disposed citizens to ponder well their attitude in this matter and act in harmony with both the moral and commercial interests of Lincoln. If the saloon element under the guise of a business organization persists in reopening the question which has been so fairly settled in the last two spring campaigns, we will do all in our power to frustrate their plans for the sake of our homes, our schools, our university and in the interest of continued prosperity.

"In analyzing some of the statements of the Business Men's association it appears to us that all that is new in their platform is the creation in our city of fifteen retail saloons and four wholesale liquor houses.

"We would call the attention of our citizens to the fact that every plank relative to commercial prosperity advocated by the platform of the business men's league is now and has been championed by the advocates of the no-saloon policy.

"We believe the men who are agitating the question are endeavoring to draw the attention of the public from the real issue to that of a broader commercial policy. The object of this movement can indicate but one thing, namely, to bring back the saloons into our city."

BUILDING TRADES COUNCIL

Charter is Here and the Council in Working Order.

The Building Trades Council has received its charter from the American Federation of Labor, and is now ready for official business. Every department of the building trades is represented by active delegates, and there is an utter absence of the wrangling that has too often marred relations in times past. The enthusiasm of the delegates is marked, and results are confidently expected this season.

Naturally the organization of the council was aggravating to the union smashing organization of business men in Lincoln, and there was not lacking a few card carriers who viewed the matter from the standpoint of the bosses. But all such were speedily squelched when the time came for definite action as regards the permanent organization of the council.

Speaking of the building trades reminds us. When that university building was gutted by fire a month or so ago the directors of the Labor Temple immediately offered the regents the use of the rooms during the day for class purposes. This kind offer was reciprocated recently by the regents picking up all the "scab" building tradesmen they could find to repair the damaged building.
