ABOUT PROFIT SHARING.

American Federation Opposed to Morgan System.

The American Federation of Labor is opposed to the system of profit sharing proposed by J. P. Morgan & Co. with the design to avert strikes. The following official statement has been issued by the A. F. of L.:

That J. P. Morgan is quietly arranging with a score of his industrial corporations a plan whereby the employees of these corporations may be "shown the advantage" of buying shares and becoming "partners" with the great financier is a matter that is being watched closely by labor leaders in Washington.

The United States Motor company is one of the concerns manipulated by Morgan, and it has based its profit sharing system on the model formulated by the United States Steel corporation. All of these systems are frankly acknowledged to be for the purpose of preventing strikes.

Reports from England just received through the consul general, John L. Griffiths, tell of the complete breakdown of this profit sharing system as tried in the great shipbuilding yards of Sir Christopher Furness, who in 1908 took about 3,000 of his employees into copartnership with him. The men paid for their shares out of their wages and were guaranteed a 4 per cent return on the amount of their investment in addition to a share in the profits after paying the ordinary shareholders 5 per cent. Finding that the actual result was merely to curtail the power of their unions to protect their wages and working conditions, the men voted to discontinue their "partnership" with Sir Christopher Furness.

This same English corporation has established what is called a works council, where matters that the company fears may breed friction can be discussed and met. This council is of particular use to the company in providing means whereby the immediate business interests of the firm may be explained to the men when the directors are of the opinion that a demand for a raise in wages is not warranted by the state of their finances or, on the other hand, that a lowering of wages seems necessary.

Wilson Defends Rights of Labor.

Woodrow Wilson, governor of New Jersey, in a recent address before the Illinois Manufacturers' association said:

"Business is the economic service of society for profit. There are two partners in it, the business concern itself and the public. Politics is the adjustment of all affairs to the common interest."

"The trouble with business in this recent period of extraordinary expansion has been too much exploitation, too little regard for the permanent interests of society and of all concerned. It will not do to exploit the public. It will not do to dominate markets and prices."

"It will not do either to make of the workingman a mere instrument instead of a partner. There must be a very real partnership between capital and labor if modern business is to be put upon its right footing."

A Parlor Trick.

Request any person to mark upon the wall the exact height of an ordinary silk hat, supposing the hat to be placed on its crown on the floor. Exhibit the hat before its height is marked, and it is curious to observe how entirely different are the ideas of half a dozen persons upon the subject, the greater number marking high enough for two or three hats.

SAVING VS. SUFFERING

The real truth of the matter, Mr. Wage Earner, is that it is better to save than to suffer.

To save a little every week from the pay check and invest it in such a way that it will be working for you all the time.

Better that than to suffer privations, more or less acute, in the coming days when age has lessened your earning capacity.

Men grow old. That's a fact. Wise men look ahead and prepare for that time. Let us help you prepare. Deposit a little with us every week, and we will put it to working for you--working day and night. In the days to come you will have something to rely upon. This is just the application of plain commonsense to the problem of life. We pay four per cent interest. Investigate our methods. We will gladly explain.
