

WILL MAUPIN'S WEEKLY

THE WAGEWORKER

WILL M. MAUPIN, Editor

Published Weekly at Lincoln, Nebraska, by The Wageworker Published Company.

"Entered as second-class matter February 3, 1911, at the postoffice at Lincoln, Nebraska, under the Act of March 3, 1879."

ONE DOLLAR THE YEAR

Men who write jokes about Easter bonnets evidently have no millinery bills to pay.

It transpires that Senator Cummins of Iowa performed most of his insurging in the index.

At any rate New York can lose nothing by getting an O'Gorman in place of a Depew.

Congressman Victor Berger will experience difficulty in maintaining discipline in the minority of congress.

Nebraskans will doubtless be willing to pay $600 to each of her legislators provided the legislators are worth it.

President Diaz is sitting so far forward in his presidential chair that he is in danger of toppling off almost any minute.

Senator Tanner got his city charter bill safely past the veto shoals that wrecked so many bills at the entrance to the executive chamber.

Senator Bailey is somewhat peeved over the pernicious activity of W. J. Bryan. But being peeved is the chronic condition of Bailey.

President Taft has a pass good to any ball game in any organized league. And that's the only thing William has that we really envy.

The army of the unemployed is another problem that the national capital has to face since the economy of the democratic congress got in its work.

Admiral Togo is soon to pay us a visit, and Richmond Pierson Hobson is due to throw a series of frenzied fits that will fairly convulse the universe.

Speaker Clark will kindly pardon our seeming unconcern about what the extra session is doing. We do not know as yet just how our wheat crop is coming out.

An Iowa wife in a fit of peevishness hit her husband over the head with a hammer. The coroner was called. Let this be a warning to wives not to try any substitutes for the always handy rolling pin.

The man who sells a Nebraska farm in order to get money to invest in farm lands elsewhere could have an augur bored into his skull for four inches without bringing anything but boneshavings to the surface.

A Kansas candidate for mayor took for his platform the Sermon on the Mount and was successful. It is when it comes to dividing the loaves and fishes that he will experience his trouble. There will be no remnants to pick up for another day.

WET OR DRY

Will Maupin's Weekly is for Lincoln, for Lincoln wet or dry will continue to grow and prosper; will continue growing bigger, broader and busier. Keep that in mind. Don't be misled by those who tell you that Lincoln will be "shot all to hell" financially and industrially without licensed saloons. Nothing to it! Do not believe that by keeping the licensed saloons out Lincoln will have come anywhere near solving the liquor question, or achieving municipal perfection. Nothing to it!

Don't get excited. Keep cool and sweet. And above all, be a Good Loser. Take the cards that are dealt to you and play the game. Then, win or lose, smile and

BOOST LINCOLN

Don't be a piker! If you are a "wet" and Lincoln remains dry, smile, be a man, and Boost! If you are a "dry" and Lincoln goes wet, smile, be a man, and Boost! It's a dirty bird that fouls its own nest. Don't you be that kind of a bird. Be a clean bird--and Boost!

ARMSTRONG OR MALONE

The city will not go to the demnition bow-wows if your preferred candidate is defeated. No city's success is contingent upon the election of any one man. Don't forget that. A city's success is measured by the loyalty of her citizenship. Be a loyal citizen--and Boost!

WILL MAUPIN'S WEEKLY

a Journal of Optimism, is boosting for Lincoln and Nebraska all the time. Whatever happens, while life lasts Will Maupin's Weekly will always be found Boosting. Get into the game by becoming a subscriber to Will Maupin's Weekly--a newspaper that never "knocks."

ONLY ONE DOLLAR THE YEAR