

pelled to heave an over-ripe tomato into the physiogomy of the Shoemaker person on that sad day, but we managed to suppress our inclination, largely because there were no over-ripe tomatoes at hand. But for the good of the game we hope that there will be no repetition of that scene. Also hoping that there will be no more umpiring like that calculated to arouse the ire of the fans.

Write "June 28" in the top of your hat, and then watch the hat!

Last Wednesday we occupied a private section of the grand stand, and while enduring the agonies of a tiresome game indulged in a few reminiscences with some old timers anent the greatest game of ball ever played in Lincoln. Wednesday's game reminded us of that greatest game because it was so different.

It was the famous Lincoln-Minneapolis game that went seventeen innings and wound up with Minneapolis on the long end of a 5 to 4 score. Darnbrough for Lincoln and Duke for Minneapolis went the whole route—and neither was ever worth a continental afterwards. There are a few of us, including Ed Young, sr., who still talk about that game in our sleep.
