BRUCE FULLERTON.

That Joplin miner is not the only man in a hole these days.

Eleven more days and a lot of aspiring candidates will be out of their misery.

The farmers who opposed reciprocity because it removed their protection are beginning now to see the benefits of the new order. They are going to secure a downward revision of the tariff of the things they have to buy.

There is a woeful shortage of water in the south—and that's prohibition territory, too.

Really we feel sorry for the man who is taking his politics too seriously these August days.

A partisan supreme court is not calculated to increase the respect demanded for the courts.

"What is beer?" queries Mr. Wiley. Now what on earth is the Doctor trying to involve us for?

Those grasshoppers will have to go some if their egg-laying record keeps pace with that of the Nebraska hens.

Anyhow, the extra session of congress relieves us of a lot of jaw-talk-we stunts, for which let us be truly thankful.

We greatly fear that the yellow streak of the Nebraska republican insurgents is growing wider and of a deeper hue.

By this time President Taft is doubtless convinced that he opened a regular Pandora's box when he pried the lid from the tariff question.

Seattle has just buried a huge hammer, emblematic of the "knocker." Lincoln and Nebraska should go Seattle one better and bury the "knockers."

Governor Marshall of Indiana is now in a position to realize how easy it is for a politician to eliminate himself from presidential consideration.

Mr. Wickersham of Alaska is again proving to us that there is nothing in a name. The Alaska Wickersham is really trying to do something worth while.

Say, remember how we were worrying about the wheat crop a month or two ago? Well, just read the reports of big yields and cheer up. You can't beat old Nebraska.

Southern cotton mills have been forced to close down because of the prevailing drouth. Haven't heard of any breweries closing down for a similar reason, however.

Police Judge Crawford of Omaha has decided that it is not illegal to shave a man on Sunday if the barber is not remunerated until the next day. This is the same police judge who discharged an employer charged with violation of the child labor law on the technical point, raised by himself, that the employer was arrested as an individual and not as the president of the corporation.
