HORRIBLE FATALITY.

The most horrible fatality in Lincoln's history occurred last Tuesday evening when the two little sons of Mr. and Mrs. Sapson, 835 North Fourteenth street, were burned to death.

The little lads, aged twelve and fourteen, were sleeping in a boyish playhouse constructed under the back porch of a neighbor. A lighted candle was not extinguished when the lads went to sleep, and when it burned down it ignited some material and the flames were communicated to the porch. Owing to the cramped quarters the youngest boy could not get out. The oldest boy managed to get out, although badly burned, and could have saved himself had he not made a heroic effort to save his little brother. The little fellow was burned to a crisp under the blazing porch, and Hyman, the older brother, received fatal burns in endeavoring to rescue him. The double funeral was held at the family home Wednesday evening.

WELL SATISFIED.

A few weeks ago W. P. Hogard filed complaint against the Beatrice Creamery Co., alleging short weight in his supply of ice. The policy of the company has always been to investigate such complaints without delay and settle to the satisfaction of the consumer. In this instance Mr. Hogard moved a day or two after reporting the short weight to the company's office, and when the investigator went out to settle could not find the complainant. Not until Mr. Hogard had filed complaint with the city attorney could the company locate him. Immediately thereafter the company made an explanation entirely satisfactory to Mr. Hogard and he expressed a desire to dismiss. This the city attorney declined to do and the case was continued a couple of times. Thursday the case came on for trial and Mr. Hogard refused to prosecute, giving his reasons, which were to the effect that he was satisfied the company was doing its utmost to give good service and leaving nothing undone to remove any cause for complaint.

PROTEST FILED.

The Lincoln Commercial Club has filed an emphatic protest against the proposal to close the customs office in this city. Statistics will be submitted showing that the office here is not only a convenience to a great many people, but profitable to the government. There are a number of customs offices where the receipts for a year will not pay the collector's salary for a month, but the Lincoln office pays the government upwards of $15,000 a year.

SILENT CONTEMPT.

Acting Mayor Leonhardt will neither veto nor sign the council resolution ordering a lowering of the sidewalks in front of the Leonhardt property on N street between Seventeenth and Eighteenth. The acting mayor intimates that the resolution is merely a bit of spite work on the part of certain councilmen who have been unable to make the acting mayor bend to their wishes.

LABOR DAY PLANS.

Program About Ready and Will Be Announced Soon.

The committee having in charge the arrangements for Labor Day in Lincoln has almost completed arrangements. Announcement of the full program will be made in a day or two. It has been decided to omit the usual parade and confine the day's activities wholly to a picnic and its attendant features. The picnic will be held at Capital Beach, a goodly percentage of the day's gate receipts going to the Labor Temple fund. The chief speaker of the day has not yet been decided upon, but several speakers have been secured. Bishop Theine will be one of these. An afternoon of sporting events that will please all tastes is being arranged. There will be a ball game, athletic contests of all kinds for attractive prizes, rowing, swimming and diving contests and other diversions.

All wage earners are cordially invited to take well filled lunch baskets to the park, and spread a big picnic supper. The married wage earners are asked to take along enough edibles so that all the unmarried wage earners may have a good supply of home made cooking. The intention and desire is to make this part of the day's program the best part.

An investigation discloses that practically every city in the country will dispense with a parade this year, owing to the expense such a demonstration involves. But big picnics will be the rule, and an effort made to cultivate more friendly social relations between the workers and their families.

SLIGHTLY DIMINISHED.

Will Maupin's Weekly has been appearing in "ensmalled" form for the last two or three weeks, owing to various causes not necessary to explain. This, however, is the last week of the "ensmalled" size. Hereafter it will consist of not less than sixteen pages. Some improvements in mechanical equipment are contemplated and when these are secured this newspaper will be the handsomest weekly newspaper issued from any Nebraska printery. Despite the fact that for six months the subscription list has been pruned of all deadwood until it is now the liveliest kind of a list, it numbers upwards of 1,700 names, exclusive of exchanges. We make the confident prediction that before the beginning of 1912 Will Maupin's Weekly will have upwards of 3,500 bona fide subscribers. Our basis for this claim is our belief that intelligent Nebraskans will realize what a good thing it is and act accordingly.

LABOR DAY EDITION.

The Labor Day edition of Will Maupin's Weekly will be the handsomest edition of any weekly newspaper ever printed in Nebraska. It will have a handsome cover with an original Labor Day poem written by the editor, and not less than thirty-two pages of interesting matter, not the least interesting of which will be the advertisements of progressive Lincoln merchants.

A HANDSOME BUILDING.

Work has progressed far enough on the new Chapin Bros., building at Fourteenth and O to show that it is going to be a credit to Lincoln's chief business street. It will be three stories in height. The Lincoln Gas & Electric Light Co. will occupy the corner, and the Nebraska School of Business will occupy the second floor and a part of the third.
