

THE PRESSMEN'S HOME.

Retreat For Disabled and Aged Workers Dedicated.

The International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' union held its twenty-third annual convention in the auditorium of the technical school and administration building on the union's properties at Hale Springs, near Rogersville, Tenn.

The dedication ceremonies were held on the opening day of the convention, and all the speakers were generous in their praise of the doubly worthy and noble purposes of the union's new institutions. When fully completed these will include three separate main buildings—a home for superannuated members, a sanitarium and a technical school and administration building. The first and last named of these buildings are completed. The plans for the sanitarium have been accepted, but construction work has not yet been begun.

The completed new buildings as well as all the smaller auxiliary buildings which were on the property when it was acquired by the union are of frame construction, the lumber coming from the hillsides on the property and was cut on the ground.

The home for the superannuated is a typical summer hotel building, with all necessary appointments and 125 rooms. There are spacious accommodations here for a library, a substantial nucleus for which has already been provided by James L. Regan, a leading Chicago employing printer, who was in his earlier connection with the trade a pressman and still cherishes the associations of that time.

In the administration portion of the technical school building are housed on the main floor the offices of the president and secretary-treasurer of the international union. It is purposed that the American Pressman, the official journal of the union, will also be established here after next September. The auditorium occupies the space on the second floor above the offices and will seat about 300 persons.

TEACHING UNIONISM.

Women's Trade Union League Adopts New Methods.

A novel method of spreading the gospel of unionism among Chicago's foreign population has been adopted by the women trade unionists. Lessons in English are being given foreign working girls, but the old primer has been discarded and a new one substituted by the Women's Trade Union League.

The time honored cat, which has done service in connecting ideas with objects, has been discarded and the "union" substituted. In getting her first lesson in reading the pupil no longer reads "I see the cat." Instead she reads "I am a union girl." The lesson proceeds: "I start work at 8 o'clock in the morning. I quit at 5 o'clock in the afternoon."

In another lesson the condition of the nonunion girl is contrasted with the union girl. It reads: "I am not a union girl. I begin work at 7 o'clock in the morning and I work until 6 o'clock in the evening. I get $4 a week."

Big Strike May Spread.

It is very probable that the garment workers' strike in Cleveland may spread to Chicago and cause a renewal of the big strike which tied up the clothing industry there during the winter. Cleveland manufacturers have been shipping their goods to Chicago factories and having them made up into clothing there. This the union men object to and declare that unless the practice is stopped immediately they will call a strike in every Chicago factory where such work is being done.

New York's Organizer.

Calvert Wyatt of Pittsburg, the new organizer of the American Federation of Labor, has taken charge of the New York office of the American Federation of Labor in place of Hugh Frayne, who resigned to take a position as manager of the United Stores association. Mr. Wyatt is an old member of the International Typographical union and has for fourteen years been traveling as an American Federation of Labor organizer.

Trade Union Notes.

Governor Tener of Pennsylvania has signed the full train crew bill passed by the last legislature.

Twenty thousand miners are on strike in Norway over wages and conditions of employment.

The Green liability bill passed by the Ohio state legislature has been signed by the governor.

The organization committee of the Minneapolis trades and labor assembly has just organized a shoe repairers' union in affiliation with the National Boot and Shoe Workers' union.

The state of Ohio has five free public employment offices, one each being located at Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton and Toledo, under the supervision of the bureau of labor statistics.

The international convention of the Boot and Shoe Makers' union re-elected its old officers as follows: General president, John F. Tobin; general vice president, Collis Lovely; general secretary-treasurer, Charles L. Baine.

The Quarry Workers' International Union of North America reports that thirty-eight local unions have this year effected new agreements which run from one to five years and with an increase in wages of from 1 to 6 cents per hour.

Miners Show Solidarity.

A fund of $25,000 was subscribed by the United Mine Workers of America, in state convention at Seattle, Wash., to assist the striking coal miners in the Crows Nest fields of British Columbia and Alberta.

TRADE UNION NOTES.

In Manhattan borough, New York city, 50,000 organized workers paraded on Labor day.

Since 1878 the Cigarmakers' International union has paid out in sick, death, strike and out of work benefits more than $7,000,000.

Twenty-four states require factories to be so ventilated that a sufficient amount of air space shall be provided for each operative.

Cleveland Federation of Labor has voted an assessment of 10 cents per capita to aid the striking garment workers of that city.

During the last ten years nearly 10,000 cracker bakers have been eliminated from the trade union movement through the tactics of the cracker trust.

Organized labor in Connecticut has decided to enter the political arena and oppose the re-election of the members of the Connecticut legislature who were responsible for the defeat of their measures.

In Los Angeles the Garment Workers' union has more than doubled its membership within the last year, and practically every union garment worker is employed, so great is the demand for the garment workers' label.
