News From the New Republic.

New York, Dec. 16.—The steamer Horrox arrived here today from Brazil. She left Rio Janeiro November 23. On the second day of the revolution a cipher dispatch was received announcing that there had been an uprising in Bahia and that a fight had taken place between the militia and the imperialists and that 500 persons had been killed. After that the government at once stopped all cipher communication and placed a strict watch on all ordinary messages.

So complete were the arrangements of the republicans that when the republic was announced all of the imperial war vessels that were lying in the harbor were so fixed it was impossible for them to participate in any uprising that might possibly have occurred.

Another rumor was one regarding the fate of eight naval officers who had refused to submit to the republicans. These officers were secured a boat and rowed out upon the harbor waters and put in prison. Some of them had been seen up to the time that the Horrox left, and the general belief is that they had been secretly shot while in prison, the noise of a discharge of firearms had been heard in the prison next day.

Butler's Emigration Scheme.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—The bill introduced by Senator Butler today providing for the emigration of colored people from the southern states provoked that the head of any family, or for himself if not married, may make application to the nearest federal commissioner under oath, setting forth the fact that he desires to emigrate to a foreign country for permanent residence and citizenship and that he is too poor to pay the cost of transportation. The certificate shall be forwarded by the commissioner to the quartermaster general who shall furnish to the applicant the necessary transportation by the cheapest route. For this purpose the bill appropriates $5,000,000.

Football is a boisterous game and requires a violent exercise of lungs and muscles. The victory generally falls to the team with the longest wind.

An optician at Rochester thinks a fortune awaits the man who can invent a concave or convex glass which would conform to the shape of the eyeball, and be made thin enough to be inserted underneath the eyelid.

An astronomer says that in the moon the days and nights are each a fortnight long. Tramps who have to sleep in 10 cent boarding-houses would like the moon days but not the nights and lovers would like the nights but not the days.

FRANCE is the greatest nation for the consumption of snuff, and a few years ago it averaged seven ounces a year per inhabitant. After the Franco-German war the amount was reduced, until now only five ounces per inhabitant is used.

In ancient times oratory was the only channel of communication between men, and the only method of disseminating intelligence. It filled the place which is now filled by the daily press. People did all their thinking through the orator, just as many now do through the newspapers.

A DISTILLERY at Lynchburg, O., had in store the other week just an even million gallons of whisky. If you have a piece of chalk and a barn floor you can perhaps figure up the number of drunks, murders, fights, cuss-words and family rows such a quantity of red eye is capable of producing.

The countries of Europe, taken on an average, spend dollars on food investigations where this country spends cents. In this comparatively thinly settled country it should not be necessary to spend a proportionate amount; but as a matter of fact, the proportion of adulterated to the pure food sold here is higher than in any European country.

WASHINGTON is certain to have one piece of statuary which will be thoroughly representative of the best French talent in sculpture, and that is the statue of Lafayette, on which the sculptors Mercie and Falguieres have lavished their best skill. Mercie is a man of genius, and Falguieres is considered as certain to be one of the glories of French art.

They have an effective way of dealing with habitual drunkards in Norway and Sweden. They put them in jail and feed them entirely on bread and wine. The bread is steeped in wine an hour before it is served. The first day a man will take it, but before many more he will have the sight of it. After an incarceration of this sort many become total abstainers.

A St. Louis woman thinks that married men ought to wear rings on their fingers, as the ladies do, indicating their social status. She says that if they did there would not be so many wounded hearts lying around. When a gentleman approached a lady she could readily determine whether or not he is in or out of the matrimonial market, and demean herself accordingly.

The citizens of Windham, Me., are laughing at a newly married man, of that town who went to Portland, shopping, taking his bride with him, but who forgot her when he started for home, and had nearly reached Windham before the uneasy consciousness that he had forgotten something finally resolved itself into the realization of the fact that it was his wife who was left behind.

A "PENNY famine" is what threatens the large cities of the west and southwest. The people have learned to use the long-despised 1 cent coin, and the needs of circulation have increased far beyond the power of the government machinery to supply them. The Philadelphia mint is two months behind with its orders for these pieces, in spite of keeping at work night and day turning them out.

DR. KRAFFT-EBING, an eminent professor in the University of Vienna, says that 60 per cent of all cases of insanity inherited a predisposition from their ancestors. In 20 per cent of all cases, intemperance is found to be the sole or chief cause, and in 30 per cent more or one of the causes of mental disease. He advises legal measures to combat the habit of intemperance, or the formation of societies to counteract it.

This is simply awful. The 1890 almanac of the Paris Illustration presents a good half-face portrait of Grover Cleveland and labels it "M. Harrison, le nouveau president des Etats Unis," and one of Mr. Thurman, which has underneath it the legend, "M. Morton, le nouveau vice-president des Etats Unis." This is worse than the same paper's publication of a portrait of another American president, with the legend, "M. Arthur Chester, president, etc."

A Thousand Miners Strike. RECHSTER, N. Y., Dec. 17.—A thousand coal miners in the Wabash and Adrian mines struck this morning.

All Over the State.

There are now fifty-eight local granges in the state with a membership of over 2,000.

A prairie fire in Rock county destroyed about 100 tons of hay and considerable other property.

Several parties living on the Niobrara river intend to do some prospecting for coal this winter.

In attempting to get into a buggy at Gering, a young lady named Thornburg fell in such a manner as to cause instant death.

Ex-Governor Furnas shows his faith in the Billings theory by having his hogs inoculated for the prevention of swine plague.

York has had another failure, the jewelry stock of Wes Fisher having been taken to satisfy the claims of two of the local banks.

John Jones, living seven miles north of Box Butte, died last week from the effects of a wound made by running a rusty nail into his foot several days ago.

Mrs. Larson, wife of the man murdered near Julesburg last August, died recently at her home in Deuel county, having been demoralized from the effects of the tragedy since its occurrence.

Hake and Borchwinkle, the Banner county cattle thieves, were sentenced at Cheyenne, Wyo., to a term of seven and five years respectively, in the penitentiary.

After reaching a depth of 198 feet workmen employed on the town well at Harrisburg were compelled to stop work on account of gas which rendered it dangerous for anyone venturing inside.

A new national banking house has been organized at Allion and will open up for business in a few days with a paid up capital of $50,000. The officers are: M. B. Thompson, president; Lorin Clark, vice-president; Willard Baker, cashier; D. V. Blatter, assistant cashier.

Dakota City Special: A bold attempt was made to liberate the prisoners in the jail here Tuesday evening at about 8 o'clock. There was only one man guarding the jail, and on some small pretext he was sent down town. As soon as he was gone a crowbar was handed to the prisoners by a brother of one of the men confined in jail. With this they broke out some of the bars of the steel cage and then pushed out the part of the brick walls where some prisoners had made their escape before. Only three got away, as the deputy caught just then and prevented the rest from escaping. The three that escaped are held here on a charge of highway robbery. The sheriff has a large posse in pursuit of the escaped.

A well dressed woman with a little baby in her arms alighted from the train at Dorchester last week and at once went to a hotel, where she employed a nurse and left the little one in her care after liberally providing for its keeping. The mother boarded the next train, and where she came from and whether she is still a mystery. Quite a sum of money was found in the child's clothing.

A few days ago a citizen of Ainsworth went down to Long Pine, and the Piners, thinking to have some fun with him, drugged a few of his drinks. They had fun for a few minutes, says the Ainsworth Graphic, then it came his turn. He pulled a wicked looking pop out of his pocket and started on the war path. In fifteen minutes he had the whole town to himself, and it was broad daylight the next morning before the prominent citizens of that burg dared venture out upon the streets.

J. J. Nelson, living near Newman Grove, died last week from the effects of a kick received from a horse about six weeks ago.

That European Plague.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Dr. Edson of the health board today reported that there had been a discovery in this city of eight cases of foreign influenza. The first victim, a young lady, was taken down Thursday last. It is supposed she contracted the disease from a family who returned from Europe a few days ago. Her first symptoms were vertigo, speedily followed by headache and chills. Then she became deadly sick, with pains in her limbs and muscles. This was succeeded by bronchial catarrh, soreness of the throat and coughing, followed by a high fever and an exceedingly rapid pulse, which at times reached 120 to the minute. Since then seven other members of the family have been attacked by the disease. The health officers say it is not dangerous, but if it tends to become an epidemic all cases will be quarantined. The treatment is the spraying of the affected membrane freely with a solution of quinine, and an internal administration of quinine, belladonna and camphor.

The Cronin Murderers Sentenced.

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—Jury has just entered and taken their seals. Verdict as follows: "Coughlin, O'Sullivan and Burke guilty of murder, penalty, life sentence; Kunze three years, Beggs not guilty."

The verdict of the jury was as follows: "We, the jury, find the defendant, John F. Beggs, not guilty. We, the jury, find the defendant, John Kunze, guilty of manslaughter and charged in the indictment and fix his punishment at imprisonment in the penitentiary for the term of three years. We, the jury, find defendants Dan Coughlin, Patrick O'Sullivan and Martin Burke guilty of murder in the manner and form as charged in the indictment and fix the penalty at imprisonment in the penitentiary for life."

Forrest, of counsel for defense, at once requested that the jury be polled. To each juror the question was put by the clerk of the court: "Was this and is this now your verdict?" "Yes, this and is this now your verdict," was the answer to the affirmative. Eleven others followed in turn and gave the same answer. Simultaneously with the answer of the verdict, Coughlin, O'Sullivan and Burke turned deathly pale, while Kunze started suddenly from his seat and in a moment dropped his head on his breast and broke into tears. With Beggs was luminous with joy and immediately after the polling of the jury he arose and said: "I thank you, God bless you, the jury box and during the breathless lull that followed, shook Foreman Clark's hand warmly."

"Gentlemen, I thank you. I trust that the future may confirm your judgment upon me and that you will never regret that you did not acquit me of this charge." As he shook hands with the jurors each juror bowed his head in acknowledgment of the words of a liberated man. The only sound that broke the stillness were the deep sobs of the little German, Kunze. He burst out with "God bless you, my friends, and God bless you, Lake View that night. Oh, God knows I am innocent, gentlemen."

"Oh, was that only one of the other three men, who found refuge in tears. For a moment they trickled down his cheeks. A moment later his blue eyes flashed with defiance on a committee of courage and dashing his head across his brow he braced up in his seat and cast a glance around him. He was looking at a committee of horror to be perceived in Coughlin was increased pallor that overpowered his face. After reaching a depth of 198 feet workmen employed on the town well at Harrisburg were compelled to stop work on account of gas which rendered it dangerous for anyone venturing inside.

Quite a Sensation.

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—A Tribune special from Bismarck, N. D., says: In the senate yesterday, Senator Lamoure of Pembina county, made a savage attack on ex-Governor Ordway, charging him with bribe-giving, bribe-taking and other misconduct. During the recent contest for the United States senate ex-Governor Ordway was bitterly opposed by Lamoure, who now claims that since the senatorial fight Ordway has been making all manner of charges against him. Having defended himself against Ordway's charges, Lamoure said, he was now making a charge against him. He said he had no more idea of being found guilty than he had of being declared an accomplice in this crime."

The House.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Butterworth of Ohio, rising to a question of privilege, offered a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee of five to make a full and thorough investigation and report on the alleged irregularities in the position of lands comprised within the military reservations that have been relinquished by the war department. The resolution was referred to the committee on the post-office and post-roads.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—A resolution reported by McKinley, from the committee on ways and means, for the distribution of the president's message among appropriate committees was adopted.

Republicans Return to Power.

MERIDEN, Conn., Dec. 17.—The republicans elected all the tickets today except one clerk, and are returned to power after being out for three years. Ben Pace, republican, for mayor, has 243 majority. Herman Hess, democratic, wins the city clerkship and the position of postmaster. The council will anticipate the collection of a revenue bill that will carry sugar a long way toward the free list. He says he would favor the placing of sugar on the free list directly if it were not for the fact that sections of the country efforts are being made to cultivate sugar, which should be encouraged by the government. His bill will anticipate the collection of a revenue bill that will carry sugar a long way toward the free list.

Reducing the Duty on Sugar.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—General Browne of Indiana, who was a member of the committee on ways and means in the last three congresses, and who would have been next to Chairman McKinley on the committee in this congress had he not requested Speaker Reed to put him upon some other committee owing to the deplorable condition of his health, will upon the first call of the house for the introduction of measures introduced a bill that will carry sugar a long way toward the free list. He says he would favor the placing of sugar on the free list directly if it were not for the fact that sections of the country efforts are being made to cultivate sugar, which should be encouraged by the government. His bill will anticipate the collection of a revenue bill that will carry sugar a long way toward the free list.

CONGRESSIONAL.

The Senate.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Petitions were presented from various parishes in Louisiana in favor of a national election law by Ingalls, Sherman and Everts.

By Mr. Ewing of Virginia—To abolish the internal revenue tax upon tobacco in all its forms and upon spirits distilled from fruits.

By Mr. Post of Illinois—A bill to reduce letter postage to one cent per ounce.

By Mr. Springer of Illinois—To provide for the reclamation of the arid lands in the United States and their settlement under the homestead laws.

By Mr. Payson of Illinois—Appropriating $75,000 for the payment of the unpaid salaries of the members of the Fifty-first Congress caused by Sillcott's embezzlement.

By Mr. Dockery of Missouri—Introduced that the duty on lumber, salt in bags, barrels, etc., woolen and worsted cloths, clothing ready made, and all other articles of domestic manufacture.

By Mr. Morse of Massachusetts—To establish a postal telegraph system.

The deaths of James Laird, Nebraska, S. C. New York, W. Townsend, Illinois, were announced to the house which as a mark of respect to the memory of the deceased, adjourned until Friday.

Three Were Killed.

WATERLOO, N. D., Dec. 13.—A mixed train on the Manitoba railroad ran off the track yesterday near South Shore, twenty-two miles from Waterloo. Six cars and a combination car were precipitated down an embankment, instantly killing Engineer James P. Haines, Fireman John Eivanson, and brakeman John Rooney, all of Benson, Minn. Conductor Blake was also injured, but not seriously. The train was running at a low rate of speed when the accident would have been much more serious.

Four Killed.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 16.—The pay car of the Ohio, Indiana & Western railroad with General Superintendent Wilson and J. Cummings, train master, on board, was wrecked at Hartsville, Ind., on Saturday morning. Both Wilson and Cummings were killed. The paymaster and engineer were also killed. It is believed, but details are rather meagre.

Judge Brewer Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The following nominations were confirmed by the senate yesterday: David J. Brewer of Kansas, associate justice of the supreme court, by a vote of 53 to 11; William Walter Phelps, minister to Germany; Thomas H. Anderson of Ohio, minister to Bolivia; Frederick Douglass, minister to Haiti; A. London Snowden of Pennsylvania, minister to Greece; Robert S. McCormick of Illinois, second secretary of legation at Paris; Frank W. Palmer of Illinois, consul at Genoa; Evans Blake of Illinois, consul at Genoa.

The negative vote on Judge Brewer's confirmation is said to have been cast by Blair, Wilson of Iowa, Cleggitt, Allison, Chandler and Pettibrew. Senator Edmunds is said, decided to vote.

Iowa as a Horse State.

DES MOINES, Dec. 15.—The phenomenal success of a fair attracted considerable attention to Iowa horses and awakened great interest in horse matters in the state. The commercial exchange of this city took the horse for its subject at its last monthly lunch. A plan is being discussed to build a first-class mile track near this city and make Des Moines the leading horse market for the northwest. It is proposed to hold a great horse fair and sale here during the latter part of August, which shall attract the noted blooded horses of the country and bring buyers here from all over the United States. The superiority of Iowa's climate and pasturage for raising fine horses has been demonstrated in a number of instances, and it is believed, that a might might honor with Kentucky in this matter. Mr. Williams, of Independence, the late owner of Axtel, and the man who has raised so many famous horses, is now building a mile track, and bringing buyers here from all over the United States. The superiority of Iowa's climate and pasturage for raising fine horses has been demonstrated in a number of instances, and it is believed, that a might might honor with Kentucky in this matter.

Federation of Labor.

BOSTON, Dec. 14.—At today's session of the American Federation of Labor the discussion on the report of the committee on constitution was resumed. The debate was animated, and great interest was manifested in the arguments of the speakers. The representatives of the International Typographical union and a number of printers from the central organizations were decidedly opposed to the question of amendments to meet the expenses of the expected strike May 1. The following section was adopted: The executive council shall have power to levy a strike assessment of 2 cents per member on June 1, 1890, on all national and international bodies under the jurisdiction of the federation.

Towards the Knights of Labor the federation states its position as follows: 1. That the Knights of Labor shall discontinue their efforts to secure charters of all trades assemblies in the order. 2. The American labor and trade unions will urge their members and encourage them to become members of the national assemblies of Knights of Labor. The time has arrived when trade unions should claim their own, the treasurer, organizer, shows the wage earners of America are weary of having their interests adjusted by the measure of the huckster or yard stick of the merchant. We assert the natural right of trade unions to occupy trade union territory. When this right is conceded the Knights of Labor and organized labor be more closely united."

The Navassa Rioters.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 17.—The evidence for the government in the case of Oscar Fisher and Henry Jones for the murder of Thomas N. Foster on the island of Navassa was concluded this afternoon, and the defense opened. John Muggs told the jury that he heard Alfred Jones, alias "Texas Sherry," say he was going to kill Mather. Henry Jones French swore he heard Henry Jones say he was sorry he killed Foster, but he had to do it for Foster had come to Baltimore and appear against him. He saw Fisher strike Foster with stones and saw Jones cut him up. He heard "snow" and Jones say they better kill all hands to prevent their testimony. Henry Jones, the accused, then took the stand and confessed to the killing of Foster, justifying the act by stating that he (Jones) was frightened. Foster was running toward him and he thought he would be a "good coon" if he did not kill him. Court adjourned until tomorrow.

The Two Replies.

LONDON, Dec. 15.—Mr. Gladstone, replying to a request to throw his great influence in favor of an eight hour movement, declines, on account of his great age and the engrossing character of the Irish question, to initiate the agitation of the subject. He says that he will dispassionately consider the matter whenever a bill embodying the number of hours proposed, and also the profits of the capitalist; but the latter disadvantage, if such it be, would be largely outweighed by the increased comfort and contentment of the laborers.

World's Fair Plan.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Committees representing Chicago, St. Louis, New York and Washington met tonight for the purpose of agreeing on a common plan to be presented to congress for the world's fair, leaving to congress the question of site to be decided in congress. A senator said that it was the purpose of the senate to pass on the world's fair site within sixty days. Some fear was expressed that the house committee might not be appointed before the holiday recess and it was finally agreed to urge the speaker to announce the committee before adjournment. The question of the size of the world's fair on Saturday night discussion. The New Yorkers favored a committee in which even of the contesting cities should have three members friendly to them with one member from the committee. Judge Walker of Chicago thought each city should have the selection of only one member. Congressman Springer expressed his willingness to leave the whole matter with the speaker, whose office he is believed to be holding. Finally the motion offered by Springer carried. A committee representing each of the four cities be appointed to wait on the speaker and request him to secure a meeting of the committee on rules with a view to having it report on resolutions to create a committee to select the site of the world's fair next and that the speaker be requested to appoint the committee before the adjournment for the holiday recess. The committee is as follows: Congressman Bowdler of the District of Columbia, Congressman Bolden of New York, Mr. Hitt of Illinois and Mr. Frank of New York.

Cheers and Greans.

LONDON, Dec. 17.—Parrell, who is to speak in reply to the speech made by Lord Salisbury at Nottingham, arrived there today. A great crowd at the railway station greeted him, and he was cheered and greeted.

Must Read and Write.

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—The papers brought from Rio Janeiro by the steamer Brazil contain many proclamations issued by the new government of Brazil regarding the temporary transaction of business. One of the most important of those relates to the election which the revolutionists pronounced to be null and void. The first clause of the decree shows that even in the revolutionary body which deposed Dom Pedro and sent the imperial family out of the country, there is an active conservative element, for universal suffrage is rejected, and only such voters as are able to read and write are eligible to vote. This leaves all the freed slaves out, and confines the power of the government to the educated and moderately well-to-do.

The Dead Poet.

LONDON, Dec. 13.—When stricken with his last illness the poet Browning had just received the freedom of the city of Asolo, Italy, which he never proposed going. The dean of Westminster has offered a repurchase for his remains in Westminster abbey, but it is probable that it will be decided to bury him in the grave with his wife.

Another Beef Combine.

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—It is a settled fact that two of the largest beef and cattle firms in the country, the Munroe and Bacon and Hammond company of Hammond, Ind., have united. For several years the Munroe company has purchased live cattle here and slaughtered at Albany and Boston. Their Boston dressed beef plant, it is understood now, has been turned into a new company and managed by one of the eastern representatives of the Hammond company, which is a member of the "big four."
