FREMONT'S COLLEGE. An Institution of Which the Whole State is Proud. Some Particulars as to the Progress One School Has Made.

An ALLIANCE representative had the pleasure of attending the opening and formal dedication of the new chapel hall of the Fremont Normal and Business College last Tuesday evening. This occurrence was something more than a "passing event" in the educational affairs of the state as was attested by the presence of quite a number of prominent educators from different parts of the state. The new Chapel Hall affords a seating capacity of over 1,000, and standing room was at a premium on Tuesday evening. The people of Fremont truly have great reason to feel proud of this institution which has grown in so short a time to such magnificent proportions, both in fame and capacity for handling the great attendance it is receiving. The new "Chapel Hall" is in reality only a small portion of the immense addition which has been made to the college building proper. The college now has an immense modern structure, with ample class and lecture rooms, library, chapel, etc. These we cannot attempt to describe in detail. A large dormitory has been running for some time, and the capacity is now being more than doubled in this line by the erection of new buildings. Board is here furnished at a mere nominal cost to students of the college, affording them every opportunity to obtain an education at the lowest expense.

crowned this institution in so brief a period. In conversation with leading business men of Fremont, and with students at the college and others, the writer finds that the responsibility for the phenomenal success of the Fremont Normal and Business college is laid upon the shoulders of the distinguished president, Prof. W. H. Clemmons. Three years ago, when Professor Clemmons was called upon to take charge of the school, he was struggling along in daily danger of complete collapse, with an attendance of about fifty students. Today under the magnificent management of Professor Clemmons, the college has something over four hundred regular students. The writer had an opportunity on Wednesday morning of seeing this large body at chapel service, and he wishes to record the assertion here that a more earnest or dignified looking assemblage of young ladies and gentlemen have never been gathered within the walls of any institution of learning in this state. They are all enthusiastic in their work, and in conversation with many acquaintances and others among them we heard not a word of complaint, but on the other hand, only praise of the methods employed in the management and instruction in the different branches. Full courses in science, music, shorthand, etc., may be taken in this school. Special attention is paid to the normal department, and the success attained here in fitting teachers for their work is not approached by any school in the state. A prominent feature is the business department. This is a complete business college in itself, and a most thorough education in commercial affairs can be as well acquired here as in any of the eastern commercial colleges. The moral and elevating influences surrounding the college are noticeable, even to the casual visitor. Professor and Mrs. Clemmons are most estimable people, and their influence for good morals and dignified demeanor is easily observed as permeating throughout the entire institution. When THE ALLIANCE observes a worthy enterprise in any line, it is willing to recognize it, hence this extended notice of the Fremont college. Education is the lever that moves the world. To all our readers we take much genuine pleasure in recommending the school above described.

Endorsing the Cincinnati Platform. The following resolutions were adopted by the Fairfield Alliance, No. 575, in regular session June 6th, 1891.

WHEREAS, We, the members of said Alliance, in obedience to the principles of the order and lovers of true, just and honest political reform, and as friends of the poor, are in accord with the proceedings of the Cincinnati Conference, therefore Resolved, That we adopt the platform as laid down in said conference, also, that we express our wishes in favor of a national convention to be held by the first of June, 1892, for the purpose of nominating candidates for President and Vice-President of the United States on said platform; also that a copy of this resolution be offered to the independent papers of the county and state for publication. J. O. COULTER, Sec.

The J. I. Case Threshers are having an immense sale this season, and Mr. Gus States, the genial and energetic general agent has his hands full in attending to orders received from all over the state. The branch house in this city is headquarters for the event, and has a full supply of threshers, engines and supplies. The splendid reputation of the Case machine has pushed it to the front rank among threshing machines, and it has given such thorough satisfaction that it is almost without a rival. From the date of its first introduction in 1812, nearly fifty years, it has steadily improved until today its many superior points are recognized over all other machines and fully appreciated by thrasher men generally. Those who anticipate purchasing a machine should visit Mr. States and inspect the advantages which the Case possesses over it would be rival.

Notice to Contractors. The following bridges were ordered advertised by the county commissioners of Furnas county: Cambridge: Bridge across Republican river, 200 ft. long, 12 ft. high, 12 ft. wide, approach, said bridge to be built according to plans and specifications in the clerk's office at Beaver City, Neb. Malone: bridge across Sapper creek 45 foot span, 14 foot roadway, 12 inch hard pine flooring, approach at each end 12 ft. Sealed bids received on both combination and iron. All bids must be accompanied by a good and sufficient bond by plaintiff thereon in the office of said county on or before noon of July 28, 1891. Commissioners reserve the right to reject any and all bids. Said letting takes place at the above named place July 28, 1891. J. W. OATMAN, County Clerk.

Notice to Non-Resident. Fabien S. Petvin, defendant, will take notice that on the 22nd day of August, 1890, H. A. Merrill, plaintiff, filed his petition in the District Court of Lancaster county, Nebraska, against said defendant, Fabien S. Petvin (imposed) with J. Frank Harrist the object and prayer of which are to foreclose a lien for taxes on certain lots of said defendant in Nebraska, February 13, 1888, to plaintiff for $28.18 for taxes of 1888, on east half of lot 3, block eighty-eight, in city of Lincoln in said county, and on which the following items of accrued taxes have been paid by plaintiff: March 10, 1888, city taxes 1887, $20.40; May 23, 1888, State and County taxes 1887, $7.45; June 4, 1888, State and County taxes 1888, $22.20; October 4, 1889, city taxes 1888, $73.62, which lot has not been redeemed from said sale, and a good and sufficient bond by plaintiff thereon would be void; and plaintiff elects to treat his claim as a mortgage lien on said lot, on which the aforesaid sums with 20 per cent interest on each item from date of payment, is due and unpaid. Plaintiff prays that said Fabien S. Petvin be foreclosed of all interest in said lot, and the same sold to satisfy plaintiff's said lien and costs, including an attorney fee of 10 per cent amount found due. You are required to answer said petition on or before the 27th day of July 1891. Dated June 11, 1891. H. A. MERRILL, By H. F. ROSE, Atty. 1-41 Plaintiff.

The Philadelphia Press says: "The prompt measures taken by the officials of this city for the uncovering and punishment of official rascality has done much to retrieve Philadelphia's fair name. This is all right. But when her fair name is fully retrieved what will she do for banks and treasury officials?"

The N. M. Journal says Mr. Burrows was "a failure as a farmer." We protest against such vile slanders. Mr. Burrows was not only not a failure as a farmer, but he was and is a very successful farmer. Nor was it his own choice to leave the farm to become an editor. No doubt the Journal wishes he was back on the farm, where it could abuse him without his having a chance to reply, as it did for years before he became a thorn in its side as an editor. The lying campaign the Journal is carrying on against Mr. Burrows will be sure to react against it.
