NEBRASKA NOTES.

A bar association has been formed in Dundy county. Another canning and pickling company has been organized in Hastings.

Edward Harrington, an Omaha mailman, ended his earthly career with a Jack traffic. David C. Stuart, one of the pioneer settlers of Cass county, died at his home near Union.

Gingrich & Conrad, dealers in fruits and confectionery at Grand Island have assigned. John Pickering, aged 74, dropped dead in his field, near Silver City, while plowing corn.

The cost of assessing the various precincts in Wayne county varies from $17.50 to $97. A divorce case is the most important case to be tried by the district court now in session at Broken Bow.

The recent heavy rains have stopped work on the irrigation ditches in the western part of the state. Judge John H. Blair of Omaha has been appointed state fish commissioner to succeed B. E. B. Kennedy of Omaha.

A colonization company is being organized at Washburn to build a new city on the Pacific coast in the state of Washington. Several prominent merchants will consolidate their business and organize a department store, with a capital of $150,000.

A. D. Frank, the aged father of Mrs. Judge G. W. Lewis, dropped dead in his dooryard at Beaver City of heart disease. Two children of George Myers, aged 8 and 3 years, living near Diller, were bitten by a rattlesnake while playing in the dooryard.

Captain August Kleinschmidt of company F, Nebraska national guard, was drowned in the Blue river near Sisseton while fishing. The Missouri Pacific main line extension to Omaha via Plattsmouth, was completed Monday by its connection with the line at Gillette.

Annie Peterson, a 5-year-old daughter of Ole Christ Peterson, living eight miles northwest of Grant, was bitten by a rattlesnake and died. B. J. Kendall has sold from his Blue River stock barn, near Fort Calhoun, four teen standard bred horses to James Woods, of Rapid City, S. D.

Mrs. Newton Dobbins of Spear, Ill., while visiting friends in Beatrice, died while sitting in a carriage preparatory to taking a drive about the city. Forty Russians, employed digging sewer trenches at Hastings, struck for higher wages and refused to go to work. Superintendent Heffron, after considerable incivilities, put other men to work.

Wm. Palmer of Norfolk, a prominent Grand Island merchant, was killed by a fall from a horse. He was on the streets in apparent good health thirty minutes before his death. Andy Johnson, an old settler living near Plattsmouth, had an altercation with his farm hand, Matthew Bunge, Johnson was shot and fatally wounded.

The Burlington and Missouri railroad received $5,070 and the Ribbar $6,451 for transporting soldiers during the Indian war last winter. Several freight bills are yet unpaid. Charles F. Carpenter of Beatrice, who was charged with manslaughter for causing the death of his wife by failing to provide her with the necessities of life, was on trial, acquitted.

The Northeast Nebraska Catholic assembly has been located at Jackson. The new college will be under the auspices of the Sisters of Mercy, and the first term will open in September. A 10,000 head of sheep which a man named Harris took through Gering a week or so ago was caught in the storm and about 1,000 of them got away in the hills. They can't find a trace of them so far.

At Brownsville a son of C. W. Kaufman, while drunk, attacked his father and sister with a butcher knife, inflicting injuries upon the elder Kaufman which may prove fatal. The son has been arrested. During a circus parade at Nebraska City several teams broke loose and ran away. Many persons were fatally injured, but they regained consciousness and will recover.

A young married man of Superior, named Frank Wallace, got drunk, went home and whipped his wife, was arrested, jailed and returned to his home, where he was killed by a fall from a horse. The total assessed valuation of Hall county, as found by the assessors and state board for the year 1891 is $3,633,174, which shows an increase over last year of $473,923. While real estate has increased 607,687, personal property has depreciated $625,883.

The west bound freight train, No. 45, was wrecked three miles west of York. The engineer, I. L. Delaney, and head brakeman, W. H. Moore, were instantly killed, and the fireman, O. J. Bean, mortally wounded. The wreck was caused by a washout. Morris Alexander, a well known business man of Hastings, tried to board a moving freight train at Elm Creek and was thrown under the wheels, mangle his limbs in a terrible manner. He was taken home on a special train and died as soon as he reached there.

MISSOURI VALLEY FLOODS.

Several Lives Reported Lost at Wilber, Neb.—The Missouri River Out of Its Banks.

BEATRICE, Neb., June 30.—The Blue river is rising rapidly and an overflow is threatened. It is reported that at Wilber station, twelve miles above this city, the dam has given way and several lives lost and great destruction of property caused. The mills at this place have shut down owing to the high water.

WILBER, Neb., June 30.—The river continued to rise all night and by daylight had passed the danger line and flooded the low lands. The entire town of Harlem is under water up to the first floors of the houses, with the exception of a few built on knolls. The street car line running to Midway has abandoned operations, as the tracks are under water the entire distance. In West Kansas City many families have been driven from their homes, but as there is little or no current in the overflow to damage the property will not be heavy.

At St. Joseph. ST. JOSEPH, Mo., June 30.—The river is running over the bank on the Kansas side and a rise of a few more inches will inundate the French bottoms on the Missouri side. Many of the settlers in the bottoms have already moved out.

At Leavenworth. LEAVENWORTH, Kan., June 30.—The river is two feet higher than at any time before this year. Many farms near the city are submerged.

At Nebraska City. NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., June 30.—The Missouri river is out of its banks here and is still rising. The river is now but three feet lower than during the great flood of 1889.

Trunk Line Schedules. NEW YORK, June 30.—The passenger rate committee of the Trunk Line association met in their rooms at the foot of Liberty street. It was the general expectation that action would be taken on the new schedules of rates adopted by the western lines in order to meet the cut of the Chicago and Alton. Having received no official intimation as to the reduction the matter was not taken up and the only business transacted was in making a few minor changes in east bound rates. A meeting will be called in a day or two and the subject will be brought up and some sweeping changes made.

The Philo Captured. DIXON, Ill., June 30.—Mrs. E. L. Philo, the handsome blonde who leaped from a train on the Chicago and Northwestern road at Ashton last Thursday while being conveyed to Denver by Detective Reno, was captured at Aurora by Sheriff Straubnick of Lee county. She was badly bruised about the head and one arm was broken. She was placed in Detective Reno's keep and chained to him. Thus they started for Denver. She declares she will never go there alive.

Lottery Law Violation. DETROIT, Mich., June 30.—Twenty-eight thousand copies of The Detroit Commercial Advertiser and Home Journal, issued June 26, are held in the post office here under the lottery laws. The president, vice president, secretary and treasurer of the company were arrested and fined $500 and costs.

Four Killed by an Explosion. WEST HAVEN, Pa., June 30.—The boiler of a locomotive exploded here and killed Thomas Thrupp, John Pope and two brakemen, named Gallagher and Smith. The men were literally blown to atoms. Low water caused the explosion.

Disastrous Storm in Kansas. ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., June 30.—Yesterday's heavy storm did great damage. Half broke hundreds of windows and the wind shifted several structures, besides leveling to the ground thousands of acres of grain.

As Iowa Failure. CLINTON, June 30.—Lefgewell Bros., the noted sportsmen and crack shots, the senior member being W. B. Lefgewell, failed in an attempt to make a fortune in the West.
