

TRUE GOVERNMENT.

Paraphrased from Andrew Jackson. 'Tis not in governments, however high, In conscious power or towering pride of state...

The Third Party.

EDITOR FARMERS' ALLIANCE: Under various names in different parts of the country, and sometimes in the same state, economic associations have been formed for the purpose of bettering the condition of their members...

The People's Party is based upon the economic reforms of the various organizations, The Farmers' Alliance, both north and south, The Farmers' Mutual Benefit Association, The Patrons of Husbandry, The Knights of Labor, The Federations of Labor, and all labor organizations of the country...

The first and leading reform demanded by the people's party is economic. A reform of the money system of the country. What is money? Money is the measure of labor...

Such noble words from such a noble man should at least be given a few thoughts by every one that reads them. Do you know that the persons whom Cardinal Manning speaks of as political economists are the same identical persons that the subsidized press of America calls demagogues, blatherskites, calamity-howlers, vagabonds, etc., ad nauseam?

Now on the other hand, see the millions of wealth piling up in the hands of the few men who subsidize the press and write and talk about "honest money," "sound, healthy basis," "stable basis."

It is also demanded that the act under which national banks are chartered shall be repealed and that the government shall issue in their own name paper money, and thereby get rid wholly of an interest bearing government debt...

The government must provide reasonable and easy transportation facilities for the people. The common carrier system must be controlled or owned by the government and be made feasible like the post mail system.

system must be controlled or owned by the government and be made feasible like the post mail system. It must be furnished to the people at cost like the mail, and the country be made free from the endless absorbing extortions of the railroads and electric systems.

The great mineral fields belong to the government by right of public domain, and must be worked also for the interest of the people. Corporations and individuals should be made to disgorge their questionable titles to such necessary and useful properties.

The People's Party has a glorious mission to correct evil usages and laws, and to ameliorate as far as possible the condition of a suffering people by elevating labor to its right position and power in government.

Cardinal Manning and the Labor and Money Question.

EDITOR FARMERS' ALLIANCE: The following is an extract from an article by that grand and noble man Cardinal Manning:

"Heretofore the poor have accepted their lot as if it was the will of God. They thought there was no seat for them at the banquet of life. But of late these who mingle with them have noticed a portentous change. The political economist has been among them. They have found that some have more seats than they can stand on, and that there are empty seats for all. The effect has been straight. Lazarus is no longer lying at the door steps begging for crumbs, but is standing erect on the street corner gesticulating, and his burning words are sinking deep into the hearts of a crowd of hungry looking men."

Such noble words from such a noble man should at least be given a few thoughts by every one that reads them. Do you know that the persons whom Cardinal Manning speaks of as political economists are the same identical persons that the subsidized press of America calls demagogues, blatherskites, calamity-howlers, vagabonds, etc., ad nauseam?

Notice the prices we have to pay for bread and meat. Yet the farmers who raise the corn, wheat, beef and pork are in just as bad condition as we. They are losing their farms by the thousands. I am one that lost mine. The merchants are being closed out over the country by the hundreds. All this in the midst of plenty.

"honest money" fellows have by combinations and trusts managed to extort high prices for many of the necessities of life from the consumers. As an illustration the Standard Oil Company have entire control of all the oil fields in the world. They get a high price for the oil, but the men who produce the oil (the men who work for them) get a very low price.

Go ye now, ye bankers, lawyers, kidglove preachers, editors of Democratic and Republican newspapers, and court house politicians and tell the railroad people, the carpenters and mechanics, the school teachers, the hotel keepers, the merchants, the doctors, the day laborers, the store clerks, the unemployed, both colored and white, the ungloried preachers, the ignorant, complaining farmers, and their garden-working and cow-milking wives and their un-schooled, ignorant and ragged children, that they are our slaves.

Ye, our henchmen and hirelings go to and tell the great herd of voting sheep that they must believe the lie we are having Oates of Ala. and Mills of Texas, and ye balance of our henchmen are telling that their substitute bill is unconstitutional. We have no proof to offer that the plan is unconstitutional, but the voting herd must be split. Tell the common herd that it is class legislation. Tell them that they must not be a privileged class, but they must work more and wear and have less in their homes. They must be contented with their condition. Ye must lie to them, and make them believe that they are not slaves but prosperous freemen of America. Tell them that their substitute bill will ruin them. This will be hard to make them believe as you have aroused their suspicion by telling them that their plan is class legislation. They know that class legislation always benefits classes. They know that we bondholders have been very prosperous for twenty-five years, and they know that they have been getting more and more in debt all these twenty-five years while we have had you tell them they were prosperous and the farming and other enterprises were on a boom, but you must continue to lie to them and advise them that their substitute plan is "impracticable" tell them that the government can't take the risk of advancing money at 2 per cent interest on wheat, corn, cotton, manufactured goods, (Oh, that detestable whiskey class had to be favored) and railroad bonds and farm lands. Tell them the banks are lending money and that the national banking system is the grandest banking system the world ever knew, and that it is based on United States 2 per cent bonds which are better than all the wheat, corn, cotton, land, railroad beds or manufactured goods in the United States as the bonds are bottomed on all these things and gold besides. Oh, ye bankers, lawyers, kidglove preachers, Democratic and Republican newspaper editors, big henchmen (Oates, Mills, John Sherman, Campbell, of Ohio, ex-President Cleveland, President Harrison, Palmer, George, of Mississippi, Hall, of Montana, Governor Hogg of Texas, Northern, of Georgia, Tillman, of South Carolina, and a great host,) and little henchmen (The court house politicians) go to, and keep at work we, and save us the bondholders from the political Waterloo defeat which awaits our two grand old parties in 1892 should you fail to divide the sentiment and votes of the dear people on the sub-treasury bill in the next presidential election. "Wall Street Bondholders" in the Southern Alliance Farmer.

EDITOR FARMERS' ALLIANCE: I have often thought I would write to tell the women that have written how glad I was that they had done so, and how glad the Editor has given us such a cordial invitation and has set apart a column for our special use, we should endeavor to show him how grateful we are by doing our best to help fill the space allotted to us. Let us send him so many wise, witty and helpful suggestions, ideas and plans that he will wonder how he ever managed to get along without us. I was a farmer's daughter and am a farmer's wife, and am not only a member of the Farmers' Alliance but also an officer; being such, it is almost needless to say that I am interested in all things pertaining to farmers, their lives and interests.

THE FARMER'S CALLING.

It is Noble and should Command Respect From Legislators.

In view of the magnitude of your calling, what thoughts should enter the minds of your legislators? What attention should they give to your requests? asks John Smith in the Journal of Agriculture. Whose servants are they, and whom have they obeyed? Echo answers, Wall street! Wall street!! Where are the good shepherds? They are not to be found; they have fleeced the flock and fled to the mountains, and were it not for the Alliance, and other farmers' organizations, in vain would we hope for anything better.

This organization is perfecting itself, and preparing for the great conflict which is going on between the oppressed and the oppressor. In its onward march it asks for nothing more than justice. At first it was thought by many that the Alliance was too small, to insignificant to attract attention; but to-day it is recognized as a power in the land; yea the Alliance power shall be more surely felt by the priests and levites of our nation. The uppermost seats in the synagogues of our land shall be filled with another people unless the pillars of the soil shall give a voice in all matters of law-making; and nothing else will do the royal nabobs of our country. A long caravan of agriculturists may be seen marching toward Washington to cleanse the White house of putrefaction, and to administer wholesome meats and drinks to its inmates. We are on the war-path; we mean business; we will no longer listen to the hoot of the owl or the bark of the wolf, for the voice of the politician is now known; his soft words and fair speeches are omens of no good; we know that he, in no case, is worthy of trust. We must look in our own ranks for men of honor, men of integrity and men of trust, and not to political demagogues, as we have, in a great measure, formerly done. In our ranks are to be found men of true grit, tried nerve, and not easily made afraid. As to natural gifts, the farmers will rank with any other class; and the Alliance is the proper place to fit them for any station in life. Then why should we look to another class of people for persons to fill positions of honor and sacred trust? Or to direct the affairs of the nation and guide the old ship of state? When the proper influence is brought to bear, health, wealth, and a sound mind will flow through the channels of agriculture, while cheat, fraud and bigotry have no place within our borders. She is heaven-born, God-given. The flat has gone forth that "In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread." Then, brother farmers, awake to a sense of your duty! Gird on the whole armor, quit you like men. Come to the front and take the lead; elevate the standard of agriculture by educating your sons and daughters, and fitting them for every event in life. Now let no one look down upon the farm with any degree of shame, but rather let all rejoice that their lot was cast among the sons of toil.

The People's Journal: Alliancemen as well as others should not believe one-half the reports of Alliance doings that are telegraphed to the city dailies from the east. They are generally framed to suit the schemes of the enemies of the Alliance movement, and if they can cause dissensions in the ranks of the Alliance on this coast, or deter farmers and laborers from joining the organization the object aimed at will be accomplished. The leading organs of both the great political parties either sneer at or boldly antagonize the Alliance movement, and the smaller fry copy their remarks as so much solid truth. From this time on till the election next fall Alliance men may be on the lookout for all manner of papers, calculated to injure a movement that is becoming a terror to the capitalists and monopolists whose golden riveted collars the conductors of such journals wear.

ALLIANCE HERALD: The people want a cheap way of getting money, and one with which they can comply. They are at the mercy of a combination of capitalists that can not be defeated by any power not as powerful and possessing as great means as it can control. There is no other power that can defeat them except the government; for no combination can be made that possesses the facilities and ability to compete with them except the government. It is called paternalism for the government to accord this protection. A government that does not exert enough paternalism to protect its people is wanting in the essential purposes for which it was organized and for which the people pay taxes to support. The government ought to discharge every function it has or can command in order to protect its existence. That is the intention of it. In fact, that is all the use the citizen has for government. It has the power to compel him to hazard his life in battle for its perpetuity. In return it ought to hazard its life to protect him in all the essentials of liberty.

The Western Call: Government bonds converted into legal tender treasury notes would be only changing the form of the credit of the government from one class of security to another. The legal tenders would be equally as good and safe as the bonds. In the one form it represents idle capital bearing interest; in the other capital employing labor; building up the industries of the country in place of dragging them down. The nation's credit should never be in the form of bonded interest bearing debt. The people will always accept the government's credit in the form of legal tender treasury notes. The people will render the government any service it may require in time of peace or war for them. Make them a full legal tender for all debts both public and private and you have a currency as good as the government with only the cost of printing. Every man will give up any class of property in exchange for them, knowing they are good as gold. They are redeemed every time they change hands and are independent of gold. This is the kind of money that is always at home when needed, and is always at home when needed. It stays with the people at all times and never goes visiting.
