

Adams County Alliance.

At its last meeting the Adams county Alliance passed resolutions:

1st. Denouncing the Pinkerton detective agency as a menace to American liberty, and condemning in unmeasured terms the dastardly attack on the locked-out wage earners at Homestead.

2nd. Endorsing the work of the Omaha convention and pledging their hearty support to Weaver and Fields.

3rd. Heartily endorsing the work of McKeighan in congress, and pledging him undivided support.

In Iowa.

LOVELAND, Iowa, July 15, '82.

The Weaver boom has started here in nice shape.

Col. E. A. Fletcher of Franklin, Neb., came here from the Omaha convention to visit relatives and was induced to talk to our people at Loveland on the 8th, and at the Valley on the 11th, and the manner in which he poured hot shot and shell into the old parties was wonderful. If he had remained about ten days he could have put our people (or at least a respectable majority of them) into the Weaver camp in good shape. He is a fine talker.

Old Or New Leaders, Which?

BROCK, Neb., July 18, 1892.

Please allow me through the columns of your paper to say a word to the Kearney state convention delegates. As to candidates I have no personal choice, but there is a principle that I hope will be observed. The g. o. p.'s have taken pains to advise us to put up good new men. Now this would be good advice if the word "old" were used instead of the word "new."

Thus, put up good old experienced men. There are men in the party today who in the past have taken off their coats and walked bravely into the fight, when nothing but darkness and defeat confronted them. These men through earnest effort and fruitless toil have brought the party up to its present greatness.

And now that the nomination without doubt means the election are we to take the g. o. p. advice and reject these old heroes. I hope not. The son who at maturity thrusts his father from the door cannot longer prosper. The same rule holds true in the reform movement. If we reject the fathers of reform we ought not to prosper. In my opinion, with old experienced men on our state ticket we can depend on old Nemaha.

OLD STAND-BY.

What They Think of Holden.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted by the Independent convention of Brown county:

RESOLVED, That we believe that the "Liberty," edited by W. C. Holden, at Lincoln, Nebr., was established for the purpose of creating a discord in the ranks of the People's independent party, and that we consider it unworthy of the support or patronage of any true independent.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted by the Loup county Alliance at its last meeting:

WHEREAS, A pretended independent paper called Liberty, published at Lincoln by one Holden, has made charges of a disparaging nature against Hon. O. M. Kem and other workers in the independent ranks, therefore be it

Resolved, By the Loup county Alliance, that we believe said charges are made at the instigation of and in the interest of the enemies of the people's cause and are utterly false and without foundation in fact;

Resolved, That we heartily endorse Mr. Kem's course since he has been a member of congress and favor his re-nomination by the convention which is to assemble at Kearney on August 3, 1892.

For Attorney General.

ST. PAUL, Nebr., July 19, 1892.

There has been but very little talk as to who should be the candidates on the people's ticket for the various state offices, but Howard county would like to support for the office of attorney general one whom they grew to love during the last campaign. We refer to Hon. T. W. Bartley, of Burwell, Garfield county, who is a forcible speaker, a No. 1 lawyer, and who is an able advocate of the principles of the people's party. In the last campaign he was a candidate for district judge in this district, running on the independent ticket with Hon. John Thompson against Judges Harrison and Coffin, the sitting republican judges, and to Mr. Bartley's credit, he polled more votes outside of Hall county—the home of both Mr. Harrison and Mr. Thompson—than any other candidate. It is hoped that the name of Hon. T. W. Bartley will be brought before the convention at Kearney and that he will receive the nomination and the support he deserves.

The party in Howard county is in splendid fighting trim, with no warring factions and all willing to work for what seems best for the people at large. Independent clubs are being formed and it is intended to make an organization in each precinct for effective work.

Yours for success,
J. L. CLAFLIN.

Farmers' Rally.

ALVO, Cass Co., Neb., July 20.

We had a very successful rally here yesterday. At ten o'clock there were at least 1,000 people on the ground. The exercises opened with a song from Mrs. Kerper's glee club which is composed of thirty talented young ladies and gentlemen, and furnishes most excellent music.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Fleharty, of Greenwood. Thank God we have some ministers who have the true spirit of christianity. Bro. Fleharty is one of them.

The forenoon meeting was addressed by P. J. Lynch, and O. Hull, who handled the issues of the day to the satisfaction of all.

A grand picnic dinner followed. It was free to all, and fully enjoyed by all.

After dinner Mrs. Clark favored the crowd with one of her recitations. Hon. W. E. Wright then spoke for about two hours. By this time the crowd had grown to 2,000.

Most of the people remained to attend the evening meeting, at which Mr. Wright was again the principal speaker.

I have never attended a political meeting were so much earnestness and enthusiasm was displayed.

Fairchild In Holt County.

The independents of northeastern Holt county and southwestern Knox held a rally at Newman's grove near Dorsey July 11. There was a crowd of over 300 present, some coming as much as 20 miles. Scottville alliance came in procession with a band at the head and banners flying.

Rev. N. H. Blockmer was the first speaker. He said that he felt that he was serving his Divine Master when he spoke for the people's cause.

Next followed a picnic dinner, after which, Assistant Lecturer Fairchild addressed the crowd. He challenged anyone present to contradict any of his statements. Although a number of republicans who have been always assembled to know everything worth knowing, were present, no one accepted the challenge. This is the first time a broadside of alliance hot shot was ever fired into this crowd of "wise men." The speaking was followed with a general exchange of opinion. Several who have always voted with the old parties declared themselves to be with the alliance party in the future.

The boys and girls had erected a swing and charged a small sum for its use, the proceeds going into the cam-
