

"Choose Ye This Day Whom Ye Will Serve."

DEDICATED TO PROF. ANDREWS.
 "Ye cannot serve your God and mammon"
 Yet you're serving mammon well.
 To obtain the "spoils of office,"
 Conscience and your soul you'd sell,
 By the 'fruits' of all we know them,
 Parties just the same as men;
 So we know the greedy watchmen
 Who love not their fellowmen.
 Isaiah LVI 10-11.

"Ye cannot serve your God and mammon."
 "Open thy mouth, judge righteously
 Plead the cause of poor and needy,"
 Trusting God to pay your fee.
 Lo! your brothers now are hungry,
 Thirsty, naked, sick and cold,
 And you dare deny them succor
 To uphold the power of gold.
 Prov. XXXI 9—Matt. XXV 41-45.

"Ye cannot serve your God and mammon."
 Oh "blind leader of the blind,"
 In the book you feign to honor,
 We thy condemnation find.
 And it tells us it the people
 Do not wish to be deceived
 "Hypocrites" from posts of honor
 And of power they should leave.
 Job. XXXIV 30.

"Ye cannot serve your God and mammon."
 And I ask you "in His name"
 On behalf of suffering millions
 For whom the Redeemer came,
 If you will not at the toiler,
 Stand not idly in his way
 Or the blood of countless thousands
 Rests upon your soul today.
 Ezekiel XVIII 13—Ezekiel III 18.

"Ye cannot serve your God and mammon."
 Have the "spirit of the Lord,"
 Preach "good tidings" to the lowly
 As He bids you in His word,
 To the captive life proclaim,
 Open prison doors of bondage
 "Priest of the Lord" shall be your name.
 Isaiah LXI 1-6.

"Ye cannot serve your God and mammon."
 He "hath sworn by His right hand,"
 By His "arm of strength," injustice
 Shall be driven from the land,
 Those who build homes shall inhabit,
 Those who raise shall drink the wine.
 If you cause delay of justice,
 Quake with fear: "vengeance is mine."
 Isaiah LXII 6 12—Micah. III 5-11.

Red Willow Independents.

INDIANOLA, Neb., July 21.

The Independent Hope Club No. 58, holds its meetings every two weeks. We are discussing the issues of the day. Every meeting is adding numbers and interest. There is a county seat fight here now. A railroad town known as McCook, wants the county seat, and is going through the usual routine to get it. The independents are taking advantage of the fight, and are hammering the old mossbacks with government ownership of railroads by saying that if the government owned the railroads it would not make any difference to it where the county seat was. Neither place is getting but little satisfaction out of this corner of the county, but we take especial pains to tell those that are for Indianola that have been voting for monopoly, that if we would vote against the railroad monopoly, they would go to the polls this fall and vote for monopoly. When they strike one of us they soon find that we are not the man they are looking for and move on.

The demo-republicans are in favor of burying the bloody shirt until the county seat fight is over. Of course we have nothing of that kind to bury. If they would propose to bury the two old parties in November we would be urging them on our best.

JOHN LONG.

Notice.

The Seward county Farmers' Alliance will meet on Saturday July 30th, at 10 a. m. The session will be held at Seward and it is hoped that every alliance in the county will have full representation.

It is recommended that officers for the several positions in the various wards and precincts be placed in nomination at the time of the holding of the primaries.
 M. HOWE, Chairman.

W. W. KERLIN, Secretary.

The Blue and the Gray.

The following statement was handed to us by Mr. J. B. Romine, who received it from the secretary of the Kansas state convention. It shows how deeply the independents of Kansas have buried the bloody shirt:

In the State Kansas People's Party convention held June 15, 1892, a one-armed Northern soldier stood up and placed in nomination W. A. Harris, an officer of Beauregard's staff, for congressman at large. Dozens of old soldiers made speeches seconding it when an old gray haired soldier of 76 grabbed a flag and moved that every old soldier in the convention that wanted to second it should stand up and 274 old soldiers, the majority of the delegates of the convention, stood up and seconded it with wild huzzas. He was nominated by acclamation and will go to congress elected by 20,000 majority.

D. M. OSBORNE'S

Steel Harvesters and Mowers.

When D. M. Osborne built the first all steel Harvester and Binder in 1885 it marked a new departure that left all our competitors far in the rear. They have all complimented us by imitation.

The New Osborne placed upon the market this year is also a long stride in advance that places us at the head and proclaims us the leaders in all that pertains to cutting and binding grain.

THE NEW OSBORNE

IS THE

Lightest Strongest and Simplest Machine Made.

WHY?

BECAUSE its frame is all made of angle steel and put together with steel bolts. No round or square iron pipe about it.

BECAUSE it has the steepest deck, thus insuring a quick delivery to the packers, and avoiding all trouble from packing and choking.

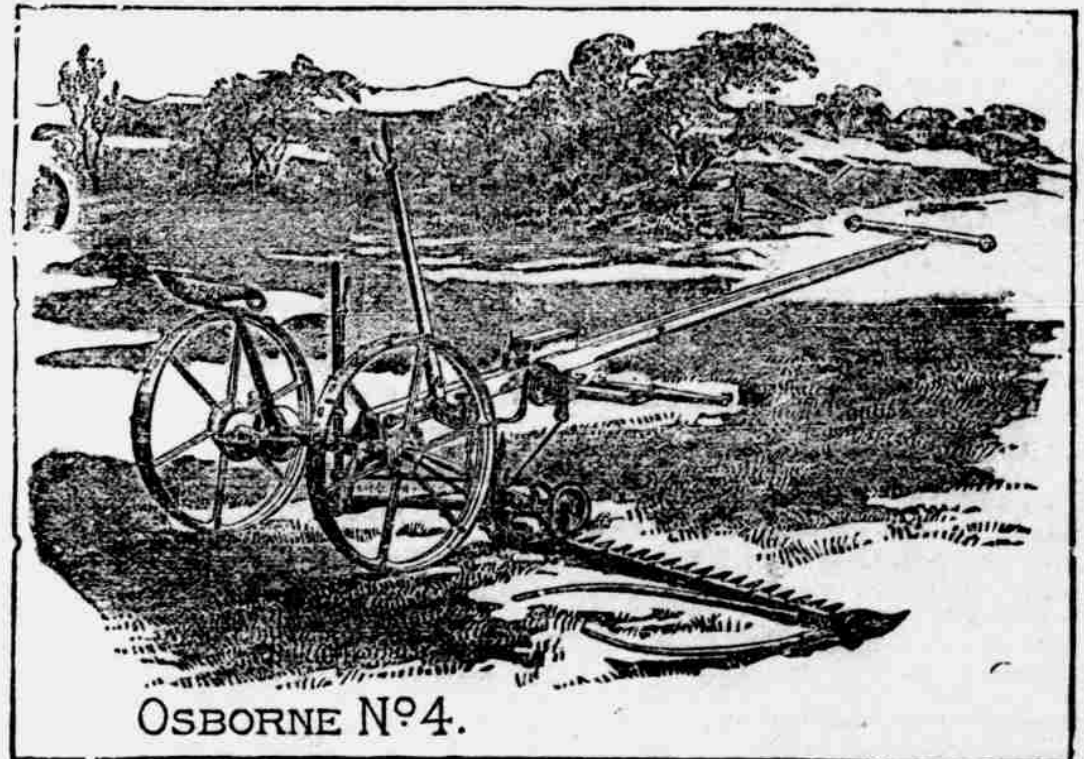

BECAUSE it has the widest drive wheel, being over 10 inches on the face, thus avoiding all danger of sliding in dry or sinking in wet weather.

BECAUSE you don't have to elevate the grain so high.

BECAUSE all its parts are steel and malleable iron, thus insuring four times the strength at half the weight of cast iron.

BECAUSE its chain drive, front cut and straight pitman apply their power direct. No lost motion.

BECAUSE, it is the easiest adjusted, easiest handled, and best built machine on earth. Don't buy a machine until you have seen the New Osborne. Two horses can handle it. Its use on a farm is proof of an intelligent farmer.

No. 4 MOWER.

The Number Four Mowers; 4, 5 and 6 feet cut stands at the head of the list. Ask any one of its hundred thousand users and the same reply will be made. "It is good enough for me."

AN ALL STEEL RAKE can only be bought of an Osborne agent. Farmers, the best is none too good for you.

WE ARE NOW fighting the Harrow trust on your behalf.

BINDING TWINE. We offer you all the best grades of Binding Twine at fair prices, and are not in any way interested in the great Twine Monopoly that is trying to squeeze the last cent from the already overburdened farmer.
