In the beauty of the lilies
Christ was born across the sea,
With a glory in his bosom
That transfigures you and me.
As he strove to make men holy
Let us strive to make them free,
Since God is marching on.

This department will be under the direction of J. M. Thompson, state secretary. Short items from Alliances on matters of general interest, questions when disputes have arisen, and any news bearing upon the great work of our organization will be welcomed by the editor. Write plainly, on one side of the paper only, and address "Alliance Department" ALLIANCE-INDEPENDENT, Lincoln, Neb.

We would be glad to get items from every county in the state on condition of the Alliance work.

The Burt County Farmers' Alliance will meet in regular quarterly session in the city of Oakland at 2 o'clock p. m. Oct. 25, 1892. S. A. McDOWELL, Pres.
FRANK ROTH, Secy.

We are pleased to note that Fred Jewell, the pioneer secretary of the Platte County Alliance and an earnest worker in the reform cause has received the unanimous nomination for the state senate from his district. Bro. Jewell deserves anything in the gift of the independents and should be elected by acclamation. He was a delegate to the national conference in St. Louis last February, and also represented his district in the Omaha convention July 4th. The 12th senatorial district will make no mistake in electing so worthy an independent to represent them in the state senate.

Powers and McReynolds in Platte County.

HUMPHREY, Neb., Oct. 12, 1892.

EDITOR ALLIANCE-INDEPENDENT:

Your corresponant attended a large meeting of independents, democrats and republicans held at Henry's hall in Platte Center on the evening of the 10th, when Logan McReynolds and J. H. Powers addressed the crowd. To say it was a success is treating it mild to say the least. Before J. H. Powers got through the building shook with applause. He handled both the old parties without gloves and in a manner that made it manifest to the crowd that the old hero was on the side of justice, and when he concluded if the hand shaking and "God bless you's" is a sign of appreciation, welcome and well done the old oak got a double allowance of it. You could count two independents the next morning when only one appeared the day before. I have been to over thirty of the people's assemblies in the last six months and I can say with all candor that the speech of J. H. Powers on this occasion was both masterly and instructive, and eclipsed any thing I have heard so far. He made many converts and will always be made welcome when he comes to speak to the citizens of Platte Center.

Fred Jewell of Platte county was nominated by acclamation at the senatorial convention held at Benton on the 10th inst., and as he will represent Colfax and Platte, the honest and liberty loving people who believe in justice to all will see to it that he is elected by a handsome majority.

WALKER.

Burt County.

The Poynter-Meiklejohn debate as previously announced came off this p. m. (Oct. 13th) at Dye's grove. It was plainly evident that Poynter was on the side with the people and that Meiklejohn's dead issues are no longer a go. People have been going to school some in the past two years and have got so they are pretty good judges of a political speech.

He Doesn't Want the Journal.

"It is an ill wind that blows nobody good," saith the proverb. The following will show that even the State Journal is capable of helping on a good cause. It is a copy of a letter sent to the State Journal:

SHELBY, Oct. 19, 1891.

Editor of the State Journal:—Sir, I want you to stop sending me that lying paper of yours. I have had enough of it. Do you think farmers are a pack of fools to believe half what you print? I know two-thirds of it is false, and I am suspicious of the other third. Any man that reads your paper six months and then votes the republican ticket must be a lunatic. I did not intend to vote for Van Wyck but the more I read your paper the more I think Van Wyck is the man to vote for.

My paper is paid for until February 1, 1893. Please send it to some republican and I think he will vote for Weaver on the 8th of November.

B. E. WOOLLEY.

Close to Plutocratic Government.

A suit of a laborer against a duke was one of the recent surprising events in England, remarks one of our plutocratic old party papers, and continuing the same authority says: "A still more surprising thing is the laborer's victory." Such a result in "free America" would be well nigh an impossibility. Hence the surprise of the plutocratic journal.

The other day when the Homestead people had some of the Carnegie leaders arrested, charged with murder for bringing in armed Pinkertons who fired on and killed several of the Homestead citizens, the case was prejudged by Judge Ewing, who stepped in advance of his authority and hastened, with scorn in his language to tell the Homestead people they had no rights in the case, and that the Pinkertons had every right to be there. The monopoly and monied aristocracy has made such insidious advances toward the subversion of republican government in the United States, that a judge declares that a corporation has a right to employ a foreign army to invade a state without permission from the constituted authorities of the state, and when a town is invaded by the hired mercenary soldiers, the people have no right to repel the invaders. This is the logic of Judge Ewing's volunteered decision. We are mighty near the time and the boundary line when corporate power will step over and post its proclamation in every city that its plutocratic princes will take charge of the government in future and relieve the people from all further care or concern in public affairs. Are the blind partisan voters ready for this? They have been and are voting as they are directed. What concern to them if the same authority say to them their vote is not necessary longer to keep our party in power? Have they ever considered there is but little if any difference between blindly voting to keep their party in power and its keeping in power without their voting? Think of this, ye party bigots.—Labor World.

Help the Poor Millionaire!

We observe that the Republican platform is in favor of 1 cent postage. This is perfectly proper and consistent on the part of the Republican party. There are thousands of wealthy corporations, immense banking institutions, huge monopolies, millionaire manufacturers and merchants who use thousands of dollars of postage stamps every year. To them it means a saving of thousands of dollars annually. On the other hand, there are millions of poor people who do not write half a dozen letters in a whole year. To them it means a saving of perhaps 5 cents in a whole year. Inasmuch as the Republican party is the party of millionaires, it is right that they should look after the interests of the rich. 'Rah for the 1 cent postage!—Chicago Free Trader.

Book Note.

"Confederation" as attempted in Barbados, West Indies. By John Bezn's Tynes.

This political sketch is a vigorous exposition of a scheme projected by the Earl Carnarvon, the English secretary of state for the Colonies in 1875, for the Federation of the Island of Barbados with other British Islands in the West Indies, and of the measures undertaken in connection with the scheme to force it on the Barbadians, through which it was sought to destroy the representative government of Barbados, and annul the chartered rights which its inhabitants, as the author tells us, have enjoyed for more than two hundred and fifty years.

The work presents many vivid pictures in its various delineations, and will doubtless be regarded in its entirety, as a substantial contribution to West Indian History.

The volume will contain about 200 pages of reading matter, electrotyped in a clear, finished manner, and issued in handsome form and style of binding.

Sold only on subscription. Price $1.25 per copy.

To be issued by G. P. Putnam's Sons, "Knickerbocker Press," N. Y.

Chicago Express: When Manton Marble wired Samuel J. Tilden for instructions as to how to word the financial plank for the St. Louis convention, the word came back: "Make it so nearly like the Republican plank as to give them no advantage over us in pulling Wall street." That is the sort of tricks both old parties have been playing ever since.
