MR. VOORHEES IS HOT.

He Scores the Silver Men in the Senate in Great Shape.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—In the senate this morning, Mr. Voorhees, leader of the repeal forces, after a sensational denunciation of the New York bankers and a defiance to the press that has been criticizing his actions and questioning his motives, demanded that the minority senators name a date for a final vote; and Mr. Dubois of Idaho met the demand by a positive declaration that the anti-repeal men would oppose the passage of a repeal bill by availing themselves of every advantage afforded them under the rules and usages of the senate.

HE MOVES FOR LONGER SESSIONS.

Mr. Dubois Says the Anti-Repeal Men Will Oppose the Passage of the Bill by Availing Themselves of Every Advantage. 'Will Force a Vote.'

ANXIOUS TO MEET THE ISSUE.

The Administration Decided to Bring Repeal Matters to a Test. WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The administration has at last decided to force the fighting upon the repeal bill, even at the risk of defeat.

ITEMS AND IDEAS.

There is a village called A. B. C. in New York state.

The hat and coat racks on the walls of the Astor house are monograms in wood of the letters A and H. Color photography seems to be a fact. All the beauties of Yellowstone park have been taken by the process.

GRAINS OF GOLD.

Love fills most scanty measures. Oll and truth get uppermost at last. In jealousy there is more self-love than love. The characteristic of heroism is its persistency.

PICKED UP.

In Austria women are employed as boot-makers and are paid at the rate of twenty-five cents a day. An old Continental hat worn in 1787 is the treasured relic of a Coatesville, Pa., gentleman. The hat belonged to his uncle.

DOG AND CAT TALES.

Chester E. Hall of Danville, Ind., boasts of an educated cat. One cold night the door-bell rang and when Mr. Hall answered the bell what should walk in but the family cat. Since then, whenever the cat wants to come in the house it rings the bell and continues the ringing until admitted.

DOG AND CAT TALES.

A poor citizen of Nassau, N. Y., sued a rich neighbor to recover damages for the attack of the latter's small dog, which he maintained was "snapping, snarling vicious brute." In answer the defendant maintained that the canine was a "great pet, and of gentle nature," but he lost his case and must pay $1,000 damages.

DOG AND CAT TALES.

How a dog saved his master's life was told recently at the Philadelphia coroner's inquest into the case of the death of William Pittman. It appeared that Pittman and a companion named Wallace, were walking along the Pennsylvania railroad unconscious when a train was behind them. Wallace's dog saw the danger and pushed his master off the track just in time. Pittman had no such dumb friend and was struck and killed by the train.
