ARE YOU IN THIS?

THE AMERICAN believes in bestowing upon deserving mortals some little token of appreciation for loyal and patriotic services. To this end we have concluded to raise a fund to purchase an appropriate present for Miss Emma Connor, of Crawfordsville, Ind., who courageously placed and kept in position the stars and stripes at the school house in which she taught, after they had been torn down and trampled in the dust by three disloyal Indiana citizens. In order that others may be lead to emulate her example we will give her a beautiful gold emblem, on which will be engraved a "little red school house," above which will fly a miniature flag. All those who desire to aid in purchasing this beautiful and appropriate gift, are requested to send in whatever amount they feel able to contribute. Let us honor a woman who will protect our flag. How much will you give? Credit given in this column:
