IF Pope Leo is infallible as the Roman Catholics claim, why should it be necessary for the college of cardinals to approve his latest encyclical?

WHEN the Roman Catholic church claims that it believes in equal rights of man, it certainly is not in accordance with their sayings and doings.

It is the duty of every American to subscribe for a patriotic paper, and send it to some friend when through with its contents. This means you.

THE board of fire and police commissloners are not dead-they are only sleeping. It is, however, about time for them to awaken and discharge another batch of Protestant-Americans from the police department. Don't go back on Rome, gentlemen.

WHAT IS YOUR DUTY?

Since the day we first opened an office in Counts we have worked to fireworks in the eveningthe best of our ability in the interest of been of some benefit to that organication. We have also done what we could to advance the interests of the Layal Orange Institution, the Jr. O. U. A. M. and the P. O. S. of A. at the same time. An increased membership in each tells more elequently than we possibly could how well the work has been done. To us the result is indeed gratitying, and to our friends and brothers it must be equally so, yet what a small proportion of them really give the papers that are lighting their battles a second thought. Indeed, what a small proportion of them contribute to their support, either francially or with words of encouragement.

The question now is, are you going to allow the papers which are published here today, in the interest of true Americanism and true Protestantism, to starve to death or are you going to take hold of the hands of the men who are doing so much for you comes from Hungary that the church and your posterity, and make it possible for patriotic papers to live in this city? forth in the paragraph above.

Trusting in God for aid and courage to scatter the truth; in the Protestants of the community for their moral and financial support; in the regard and esteem of Protestant friends and in the undying hatred of the Roman Catholic church, I present you with THE AMERI-CAN.

THE STRIKES.

We have said some very strong things about the miners' strikes and strikers, because we believed the trouble was not caused by American laborers, but ROME has again adopted her usual had no sympathy with our laws and methods of argument by slugging the institutions. We find now that we are secretary of a St. Louis council of the not alone in that opinion, as witness A. P. A., and stealing his books and the following from the Logansport, Ind., Chronicle:

The miners' strike has been settled and the Chronicle regrets that it has been without the stern exclusion from who has resorted to lawlessness. that had been done both employers and employed would greatly profit by it. It is well established that employers could much better afford to pay increased wages to legitimate American labor than to have their property and their persons exposed to the turbulence of allen revolutionists. But they are here, and until they can be driven from our industrial centres there will be little hope of just wages to American workingmen in our mines.

Nearly or quite every mining section fighting the A. P. A., and it won't be of the country is crowded with ignorant long before they realize that in the A. P. WILL CELEBRATE.

The patriotic citizens of Council Bluffs intend having a regular oldfashioned, stem-winder celebration on the Fourth of July. All the civic and military organizations of that and surrounding towns have been invited to take part in the exercises. The committee in charge are determined to make it the most complete and imposing celebration ever held there. Invitations have also been extended to the patriotic orders to take part.

TO FATHER JOHN WILLIAMS:

How do you reconcile your defense of the Roman Catholic church against the charge that it branded Protestant wemen as concubines and their children as bastards, with the information that is bending all its influence to persuade the women that "CIVIL MARRIAGES MEAN CONCURINAGE IN THIS LIFE AND DAMNATION IN THE NEXT?"

The Pope's Encyclical.

It would be unfair very strongly to criticise the views of the pope as they are contained in his encyclical letter. before that letter itself is issued to the public The assumption is permitted, cable marks of their preceptor's "kindly however, that the digest of the testament transmitted by cable is substantially accurate, and it must distress many to find that the enlightened Leo XIII. has departed somewhat from the spirit of ecumenical philanthropy and charity that seemed to prevail with him a few months ago. That he should revert in a denunciatory way to the old subject of Free Masonry is even more wearlsome than it is surprising. The public is not apt to increase its confidence in the intellectual superiority or spiritual supremacy of the church that is ever-spienetic toward a body the schools, American ideas and American college, Colonel Norman M. Smith, of worst charge against which is its supposed antagonism to that church. If the moral influence of the church is not sufficient to protect it against the destructive energies of Masonry exeathedra bitterness of condemnation will hardly prove to be a saving grace. As long as Masonry is recognized by the non-Catholic world as an institution of humane, benevolent, charitable, ROME must indeed be in desperate and even religious purposes, Rome will but impair her power as a religious loyal sons to be kidnapped and tarred propagandist by anathematizing that and feathered by a gang of her ignor- order. Yet claim the indisputable right to think progress of our beloved church. that is exactly what happened in Colo- for themselves in matters secular everywhere, while they consent to yield their inherent right to feel and think for themselves in religious affairs.

There is also an apparent attempt to discredit the public school system of America by urging the Catholic world to submit entirely to the tutelage of the Catholic church, though the pope should be aware that some of the most earnest and discriminating supporters of the public school system of free and thorough education are intelligent, thinking, educated Catholics. Why should the pope expect that men who have learned the value of a means to the equipment of their children to fight capably and victoriously the batties of life should be so indifferent to the welfare of those children as to yield up the sensible things, editorially, regarding temporal gain rather than spiritual himself, Mr. Roth has visited six Proand intellectual benefits for its object?
