

A WILY PRIEST FOILED.

How a Young Girl Was Saved From Being Ruined.

"I am surprised to see you carrying a loaded revolver, Mr. T. May I ask why you do so?"

"Thereby hangs a tale. It is not safe for me to walk the streets of Dorchester without some weapon of defense, and so I bought and carry this loaded revolver."

"And the tale, what about it?"

The above conversation was held by a young gentleman who lives near Upham's Corner, Dorchester, and his tailor, who was taking his measure for a suit of clothes. We will let the young man tell the story as it occurred, and as he related it to his tailor, who informed the writer. Both men are reliable and truthful citizens of that district.

"One day last spring, as I was coming home from business, about 7 o'clock in the evening, I started down Kneeland street to catch the Upham's corner car. I saw a man pulling a young girl by the arm, mumbling something to her in an undertone. The girl hung back, and begged him to let her alone, saying that she did not want to go into that house with him. I saw at once that something was wrong, and so, with my hands full of packages that I was taking home, I accosted him and demanded to know what he was doing with that young girl."

"As soon as the girl saw that I would befriend her, she said, 'O sir, save me from this man! He is trying to take me into that bad house.'

"I then changed my packages into one hand, and with the other pushed the man—who turned out to be a Roman Catholic priest—up against the Albany depot on Kneeland street, and held him there while I questioned the girl as to what had happened."

"When the priest found that he was cornered, he asked me what I was going to do, and if I was aware that I was interfering with the church?"

"I replied that I did not care what I was interfering with, but I intended to save that girl from being ruined by him, and that I was going to hold him there until I could signal a policeman if my strength held out. Presently an officer came in sight, and I called loudly to him, and when he came up I gave the priest into his custody, and asked him to lock him up for trial. This he did after taking the young girl's name and hearing all of her story."

"The priest, who was a little boozey, protested against being held or looked up, but all to no purpose, as I was bound he should be exposed."

"The next day he was brought to the court room and the officer and I were on hand, but the girl never put in an appearance. I suppose she was under control of Roman Catholic friends or relatives, and so was not permitted to appear against the priest. So the case and the priest were dismissed."

"A few nights after that adventure I was coming through the same street and I was accosted by a man who probably saw the arrested man. He came up to me, and shaking his fist in my face, wanted to know what business I had going against the Roman Catholic church by having a holy priest arrested and sent to the station house."

"I told him that I did not care a continental for the Roman Catholic church nor the holy priest; that when I saw a loafer trying to ruin an innocent girl, I intended to protect and save the girl if I could."

"And so now I think my safest way is to be armed when I go through those streets after dark."—American Citizen.

Foolish Boasting.

We find the following characteristic piece of foolish boasting in the Catholic News, and we notice that it has been copied (apparently without question as to authenticity) into the Fitchburg Sentinel and other intelligently-edited papers:

"The first fort erected by union soldiers on Virginia soil was Fort Corcoran; and the man to raise the stars and stripes over it—the first thrown to the breeze beyond the Potomac—was Captain, now Brigadier-General, Cavanaugh, of the 'Irish Sixty-ninth,' a native of Tipperary."

"The first man to reach Little Round Top at Gettysburg was Col. Patrick H. O'Rourke, who fell at the head of his troops, and whose widow is now an honored sister of the Sacred Heart."

"The regiment that made the success of McClellan's retreat after the battle of Antietam possible was the Massachusetts 'Irish Ninth,' by its victory at Gaines Mills."

"The last union soldier killed in the war was Brigadier-General Thomas A. Smith, the Irish-born hero of Cold Harbor, who fell before Petersburg, April 9, 1865."

"The only general to defeat 'Stonewall' Jackson through the war was General James Shields, an Irish hero of two wars for the Republic."

"The first man to reach the summit of Mission Ridge was Phil Sheridan, born in Albany one year after the arrival of his parents from Ireland."

"The first general to triumph in the South-west was William Stare Rosecrans, brother of the late Catholic bishop of Columbus, Ohio."

"The first shot fired in the defense of the flag at Fort Sumter was by an Irishman born—Patrick Gibbons, still living in Erie, Pa.

The monument that holds the place of honor on the field of Gettysburg, is that of the Pennsylvania Irish Sixty-ninth.

The first regiment to form and protect the retreating union army at Bull Run was the New York Sixty-ninth.

The last blow that caused the surrender of Lee was dealt by General Phil Sheridan.

The above is so thoroughly Irish in its swaggering ridiculousness, that it will excite simply contempt for a people who will thus exhibit themselves.

In the first place, hardly one item is true, or possible of verification if true.

In the second place, nearly every item is insignificant, and unworthy of publication.

It would be just as foolish for a Protestant church paper to fill its columns with such facts as the following, which no one will deny:

President Lincoln was a Protestant. Every commander-in-chief of the union army was a Protestant.

Ninety-five per cent of the soldiers were Protestants.

All the eminent naval commanders were Protestants.

The only Roman Catholic officers (Sheridan and Resereans included) who accomplished good work, were under Protestant superiors, and their successes were planned by these Protestant superiors.

Anderson, who defended Fort Sumter so bravely, was a Protestant.

Or the following might do for a change:

General Beauregard, who fired on Sumter and led at Bull Run, was a Romanist.

The first regiment to run at Bull Run (the Twelfth New York) was largely made up of Romanists.

Fifty per cent more Romanists than Protestants deserted. (See records of regiments, Adjutant General's office.)

The Draft Riots were wholly of Romanist origin. (See Century April 1889.)

The pope was the first foreign ruler to recognize Jeff Davis, and gave him his blessing.

The notorious Wirz, of Andersonville was a Romanist.

In the Birmingham, Ala., Age-Herald of Oct. 19, 1891, appeared a full report of a lecture given by a noted priest in various cities in the South—Priest Dally—in which he said:

"The brave Mitchell, whose three sons were killed in our (confederate) service, shows in the Richmond Examiner where 92,000 Irish were placed along the front of the battle, from the Potomac to Vicksburg."

* * * In the Memories of the late Jefferson Davis, written by his widow, we read:—"Catholics were friends who know how to be true in days of disaster and defeat."

But the wholesale Irish-Romanist brag—hitting a monster boast on the slightest sort of a peg—shows how little they really have to be proud of. If they would cease their bluster, people would forget the black side of their history; but when they so outrageously falsify for self-glorification, inquiring minds start in to look up the Romish record and are amazed at its unwholesome complexion.—Primitive Catholic.

SOME CHOICE SAYINGS.

What the Roman Kansas City World Warbled Before Election—A Collection of a Few Remarkable Anti-A. P. A. Lies.

"Sunday, Monday and then—then the overthrow of those who have conspired to fight men on account of their religion."

"A year and the political A. P. A. will be but a memory."

"While still proclaiming himself to be a Jeffersonian Democrat, and although nominated to office by both the Republicans and the Populists, John B. Stone is neither a Democrat, a Republican nor a Populist. He is, purely and simply, the candidate of the A. P. A., and nothing more—neither flesh, fowl nor good red herring." [However, John B. Stone was elected as an A. P. A.—EDITOR.]

"In a column and a quarter, informing the people of an 'indignation' meeting to be held at Turner Hall Wednesday night, October 31, 1894, under the caption of 'Grand Gory Opening!' the World printed some expressions, which are found below:

"Great A. P. A. attractions!"

"Beginning with the Republican A. P. A. Rogue's March."

"The merry, merry turnout and the tar introducing seventeen changes in coats, one coat in each of the seventeen stanzas, in seventeen minutes; music by the Royal Renegade band of 157 pieces.—Col. John B. Stone."

"Blood in buckets will at this interesting intermission be passed around by the gentlemanly headsmen, each arrayed in scarlet and crimson, trimmed with the letters A. P. A. in orange, and each carrying an axe, a cleaver, etc."

"Fresh, hot, red blood at the bar, drawn right from the corpse, 10 cents a gulph; per glass, 50 cents."

"Skulls, 75 cents each, or $6 a dozen, etc."

"Knives, axes, guns, cleavers, black-jacks, ammunition, ropes, feathers, tar, the letters A. P. A. in wood or metal," etc.

In an editorial the same paper said "We firmly believe that the election of the A. P. A. candidates to office would be a calamity, the extent and influence of which it is impossible to conjecture. Let the people of Kansas City and Jackson county stand firmly together and drag anarchy, riot and fraud from local politics."

Again: "Bear in mind that John B. Stone is a political bushwhacker. He has conducted the campaign of a political assassin. He has not fought as brave men fight." The World said this because John B. Stone made his campaign from the stump on A. P. A. principles.

"The Kansas City A. P. A. AMERICAN is beginning to look for a soft spot on which to drop and give up the ghost next week," said the Roman Catholic sheet, the Kansas City World, in its issue of November 2, 1894. We would like to ask the World, which terms its standing for "convenience," how thick the rock is which the paper fell upon after the election. THE AMERICAN will be here when the stench of the World has ceased to offend the nostrils of respectable people.

The "truthful" World again snores in its sleep: "The KANSAS CITY AMERICAN, one of the local organs of the A. P. A. politicians, is looking more and more and more like the last rose of summer. After next week it will probably give up the ghost and go down to its grave unhonored and unmoored." As a complimentary remark we would like to state that before THE AMERICAN is done with grave digging, the World will find THE AMERICAN one of the longest-lived organs that the upholders of the "ring" ever waited to see depart.

Pennsylvania News.

The Houtzdale Observer says: We present to our readers this week our poultry, the first being the game cock of the A. P. A. of Clearfield county, who has won his spurs in his first battle—a battle royal against political corruption and alien rule which had grown notorious in this county.

The result of Tuesday's work shows that it is not absolutely necessary for a candidate to go before a notary public and swear that he is not an A. P. A., and does not believe in the principles of the order to ensure his defeat, although such proceeding is likely to add largely thereto. The American spirit is aroused in Clearfield county, and henceforth a purer ballot and more conscientious officials are likely to be the rule rather than the exception.

Did it ever occur to you that the A. P. A. is abroad in the land and cut quite a figure in the result in this country. The woods are full of them, and they were diligently engaged on Tuesday. As a result Mr. James White is left.

We wish to state that candidates in future need not be afraid to call at this office when visiting in Houtzdale. The result of Tuesday last has demonstrated that we do not stand utterly alone in advocating American principles.

The gathering of the clans—including the A. P. A., Jr. O. U. A. M., the P. O. S. of A., the A. and I. O. K. of M., and the Mystic Clan, backed by the G. A. R.—meant business on Tuesday.

The denunciation of the A. P. A. by the Democratic state convention, together with Singery's wild utterances against American orders have borne fruit in the shape of one of the greatest Republican majorities for Hastings ever given a governor in this state. Democrats will no longer stand the party lash, especially when thousands of them belong to said orders.

SEDALIA, MO., NEWS.

(From our Special Correspondent.)

Cushman and Pilkington ("were left in the hole.")

A great justification meeting was held Saturday night by the American people. Americans rule again.

The Roman Democrats here are setting up the cry that there were illegal tickets in the field, but it is only wind.

The A. P. A. and Republicans combined and elected their ticket by a large majority. All Romans were shut out.

The Sedalia Democrat has not a word to say about the "secret organization" since the election. The paper is in mourning for what it has said about the A. P. A.

John T. Heard was badly defeated in his own county. The people in Sedalia and Pettis county wonder if he will denounce the A. P. A. when he is asked again for his opinion.

The Roman "push" hung around during the evening of the election and tried to trade the entire Democratic ticket for votes for Cushman and Pilkington, but it did not work.

The little A. P. A. sample ticket with the "Little Red School House" at its head did the work, and smothered Rome in Pettis county politics. You could see them in almost everybody's hands, and the streets were covered with them.

The election went straight American in Sedalia and Pettis county. The Roman candidate for congress, Heard, was completely snowed under, and it is greatly due to the fact that every voter in Pettis county received a copy of THE AMERICAN before election.

"The state has no right to educate; and when the state undertakes the work of educating, it is usurping the power of the church." Bishop—McQuaid to these wifeless princes of mammon and perdition!

BEYOND ENDURANCE.

Continued from Page 1.

If there is to be a convent left in the land let it be open to the inspection of interested respectable people, open to the free choice of its adult inmates to go or stay, and guarded by the spirit of real goodness, instead of high walls, blood-hounds, brutal blows and iron bars, under the rule of the pompous and wifeless fathers.

We believe in religious liberty. Let Catholics believe in transubstantiation or non-substantiation, if they choose. They may believe anything and worship anything; but when they begin to kill heretics for not believing as they do; teaching assassination, if oaths be true, assination, and imprisoning helpless human beings, without cause or trial, it is then time to draw the line against such diabolisms, whether called religion or called what it really is—the basest of all human meanness!

We say take the walls, the dogs, the vicious guards and thongs and bars from the convents, make them constitutional, and let the law of love make of them homes of purity and happiness!

A vote for a Roman Catholic is a vote to sustain these prisons.

ROMANISTS AS JURORS.

Poor Hands to Trust a Case in for Honest Settlement.

SIoux CITY, Ia., Nov. 9.—A startling sensation came to light in the district court here. About two years ago a young Englishman named Arthur Rhys sued Walter Strange for $30,000. He claimed to have advanced for use in building the Central stock yards and which he claims was misappropriated by Strange. The jury returned a verdict for Strange. Now Rhys asks for a new trial on the ground that Strange bribed the jury. Peter Madison, an expellee, who was on the jury, went on the stand and testified that during the trial of the first case Frank McNear another jurymen in the case, came to him and told him that Strange had supplied him with money to secure a verdict for him and that McNear at every intermission in the case bought all the jurymen liquor and continually talked to them about what a good fellow Strange was. Finally he admitted that McNear and Strange drove to his brother's saloon one night during the progress of the trial and there paid him $50 to use his influence to secure a verdict for Strange. McNear owned the corn and admitted on the stand that he, too, was paid to vote for a Strange verdict in the jury room and was supplied with money by Strange to use in influencing the other jurors.

Michael Dolan, another juror, testified that during the trial Strange offered to get him a customer for a piece of land if he would vote for a verdict for him in the jury room. He said he did not get the customer for the land, but that Strange bought his daughter a piano and paid his expenses on a trip to visit relatives in Boston. The attorneys for Rhys claim that they will prove other jurors were bribed today. No arrests have been made yet, but they are expected at any moment.

Advice to A. P. A.

The following words of advice were written by W. J. H. Traynor, supreme president of the A. P. A. They are timely and to the point. We commend them to every member of the A. P. A., and also to every "sympathizer" of the order:

"If we would perpetuate the order we must maintain our patriotic press, the guardian of its infancy; to maintain our press we must encourage advertisers to give it their countenance. Those who are known to be the enemies of our organization should be the last to receive our support. Let each member inquire of the merchant with whom he is about to trade if he advertises in the local patriotic newspaper, and if not, why not? Let them once see that it is their interest to patronize the patriotic press and there will be no lack of support in this direction. The majority of merchants are simply afraid of the papists, whose press—supported almost entirely by Protestant advertisers—they are boycotted into patronizing and so dare not advertise with us. If the members of the A. P. A. will show themselves as determined upon this point as their enemies, the boycott will soon be shelved as a sword which cuts both ways."

A Priest Advises.

The Roman Catholic Universe, published in Cleveland Ohio states:—

"The freedom of opinion that prevails among Catholics outside of the domain of faith and morals was illustrated last week. While the Catholic archbishop of Baltimore was enunciating his widely quoted views against woman suffrage, Rev. T. P. Malone, through his paper, the Colorado Catholic, was impugning the women of Colorado 'to do their duty' at the polls in the coming election."

Where Poor Folk's Money Goes.

The Rt. Rev. Bishop left for Rome on Monday afternoon of this week, to be absent till about Christmas. He will present to the holy father the papal collection raised in this diocese this year, amounting to the generous sum of $3,361.88 as published. We wish the Rt. Rev. Bishop a safe voyage and a safe return to his beloved flock.—The (Roman) Catholic Universe.

RARE CHANCE TO MAKE MONEY

Juvenile and Other Holiday Books.

Rare Wherein? Let Us Give You Particulars!

If you want to make from $250.00 to $400.00 between now and the Holidays, write to us at once for a canvassing outfit of our BEAUTIFUL JUVENILE HOLIDAY BOOKS. We guarantee the

BEST TERMS AND BEST BOOKS

In Every Particular. Most Amusing, Interesting and Instructive Stories, writes the children. Prices, 50c, $1.00, $1.50, graded to suit all ages.

Big Sales! Large Profits! Exclusive Territory!

If you want your choice of Territory, send immediately 45 cents to pay express charges and we will send you full instructions and

Our Beautiful $4.50 Outfit Free.

No Experience Necessary. [Address] We Give Full Instructions.

DEPT. RARE, S. I. BELL & CO., Publishers,

Philadelphia, Penn.

---

PRESS COMMENTS.

The A. P. A. are the people here.—Troy Times.

The A. P. A. did good work in Illinois.—Chicago Mail.

Roman Hopkins knocked out by the A. P. A.—Inter Ocean.

The A. P. A. has proven itself a power in politics.—New York Times.

Nearly every congressional and assembly district in the United States fell the hand of A. P. Alsm.—Peoria Journal.

Patriotic orders are on top in this state, led by the A. P. A.—Chicago Tribune.

Singerly will not forget the Junior boys and their voting power.—New York Tribune.

Romanism routed from our city office holding force by the A. P. A. boys.—Cleveland Leader.

Father Cronin will learn soon that the A. P. A. is able to do what it claims.—Buffalo Express.

The Democratic party will not forget the A. P. A. for some time in Massachusetts.—Boston Globe.

Somewhat the fight on the A. P. A. in New York state did not have much effect.—Morning Dispatch.

The A. P. A. elephant now owns the earth and some of the more progressive heavenly bodies.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

A good many are wondering if the Democratic party will denounce the patriotic orders in '96?—The Constitution.

Allegheny county was well protected on last Tuesday by the patriotic orders, and the A. P. A. boys were in it to the hilt.—Pittsburg Commercial.

The man who cries out bigot to the A. P. A. demonstrates all that he, himself is the colossal bigot of the 19th century.—New York Tribune.

A. P. A. lsm out a good row through the Democratic party this time, but as they are non-partisan no knowing who will get it next.—Pittsburg Leader.

For the first time in all her history Peoria county has gone Republican at a general election. There must be about 2,500 to 3,000 A. P. As. here according to the returns.—Transcript.

The Illinois Democratic state convention said by their platform and resolutions we denounce the A. P. A. The people said at the ballot box, we denounce the Democratic Romanism.—Blade.

The Dispatch yesterday advised voters to "vote for the U. S. of A." Judging from the course of events here it is suspected by many that the Dispatch meant "vote for the A. P. A.—Evening Herald.

The next congress will be an American congress, which will pass laws to protect Americans from being kicked out of their own shops and factories by the alien boot of foreign competitors.—Cincinnati Commercial.

Some of our leading Democrats are saying that it was not so much Wilson's free tradeism that broke the "solid south" as it was A. P. Alsm. At any rate, the "solid south" is a thing of the past.—Knoxville Journal.

Where are the Democrats in Nebraska and their platform, wherein they denounced the A. P. A.? Not one Democrat left to go back to tell the tale of woe in the congressional delegation from this state.—Omaha Bee.

The American people are "slow to anger," but when they do rise up in their righteous indignation they are more majestic than any army with banners, and who know nothing about patriotism.—Burlington Hawkeye.

Where was Sibley when Linton was pleading for the members to observe the constitution and not appropriate money to the Catholic Indian schools, and where were the boys when he wanted their votes?—Highland Light.

Wisconsin, a Roman center, passed special resolutions wherein the Democratic platform said, down with the patriotic orders. The people said, no, no forward, patriotism. And it did come forward, sweeping from office every Democratic congressman in that state.—Wisconsin Star.

We hope we violate no confidence in saying at this time that William M. Singery ran for governor of Pennsylvania, and he at one time said something about a patriotic order which was un-American and unchristian. We wonder if he wants to call the A. P. A. any more names?—Cleveland Press.

General Weaver is beaten, of course. He was not beaten because he did not live in the Ninth district. He was beaten because the people are tired of sensational demagogism. Weaverism, Kellyism, Coxeyism and all that everlasting foolishness has had its day. The people want conservatism and good money.—Iowa Capital.

JAPAN seems to have the best of the fight with the "heathen Chinese."

Articles of Incorporation of the Shoshone Gold Mining Company.

ARTICLE I.—NAME.

The name of this Corporation shall be Shoshone Gold Mining Company.

ARTICLE II.—PRINCIPAL PLACE OF BUSINESS.

The principal place of transacting the business of this Corporation shall be the City of Omaha, Douglas County, Nebraska.

ARTICLE III.—GENERAL NATURE OF BUSINESS.

The general nature of the business to be transacted by this Corporation is the location, acquiring, buying, owning and holding of real estate and personal property, rights, privileges and franchises of every name and nature, which is, or may be necessary or needful in owning, operating and conducting the business of mining.

ARTICLE IV.—CAPITAL STOCK.

The amount of the Capital Stock of this Corporation shall be four thousand five hundred dollars, divided into forty-five shares of the par value of one hundred dollars each to be paid in as follows: To-wit: Twenty-five per cent on the 1st day of November, 1894; twenty-five per cent on the 15th day of December, 1894; twenty-five per cent on the 15th day of January, 1895; and twenty-five per cent on the 15th day of April, 1895.

ARTICLE V.—TIME OF COMMENCEMENT AND TERM OF INCORPORATION.

The time of the commencement of this Corporation shall be the 15th day of October, 1894, and the time of the termination of this Corporation shall be the 15th day of October, 1895.

ARTICLE VI.—INDEBTEDNESS.

The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which this Corporation shall at any time subject itself shall be the sum of three thousand dollars.

ARTICLE VII.—OFFICERS.

The affairs of this Corporation shall be conducted by a Board of seven Directors to be chosen annually by the stockholders on the second Thursday in October in each and every year.

ALBERT L. DEANE,
AUGUST WASSERFRED,
HENRY C. AKIN,
HAROLD ACKLAND,
JAMES W. DONNELL.

STATE OF NEBRASKA,
County of Douglas, ss.

On this 15th day of October, 1894, before me, Clinton N. Powell, a Notary Public in and for said County and State, personally appeared the above named A. L. Deane, August Wasserefred, Henry C. Akin, Harold Ackland, James W. Donnell, all of whom I know, and severally acknowledged the same to be their and each of their voluntary act and deed.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and notarial seal the day and year last above written.

(SEAL)
CLINTON N. POWELL,
Notary Public.

Special Master Commissioner's Sale.

Under and by virtue of an order of sale on decree of foreclosure of mortgage issued out of the district court for Douglas county, Nebraska, and to give effect to the same, on the 15th day of December, A. D. 1894, at 10 o'clock a. m. of said day, at the north front door of the county court house, in the city of Omaha, Douglas county, Nebraska, there shall be public auction to the highest bidder for cash, the property described in said order of sale as follows: To-wit:

Lot number seventeen (17), in block number one (1), in Monmouth Park, an addition to the city of Omaha, as surveyed, platted and recorded, together with all the appurtenances thereto belonging, all situate in Douglas county, state of Nebraska, and said property is to be sold to satisfy John Basset's claim in the action, in the sum of nine hundred, nine and 80/100 ($909.80) dollars judgment, with interest thereon at rate of eight per cent per annum from September 17th, 1894, and twenty-eight and 31/100 ($28.31) dollars costs therein, with interest thereon from the 15th day of September, A. D. 1894, until paid, together with accruing costs according to a judgment rendered by the district court of said Douglas county, at its September term, A. D. 1894, in favor of John Basset, who was plaintiff and George S. Weeks and others were defendants.

Omaha, Nebraska, December 15, 1894.

CHARLES L. THOMAS,
Special Master Commissioner.

Dexter D. Thomas, Attorney.
Basset vs. Weeks et al. Doc. S. Page 44.

Legal Notice.

Neils Hendrickson take notice that on the 20th day of September, 1894, Edmund Bartlett, a Justice of the Peace of Douglas county, Nebraska, issued an order of attachment for the sum of $84.00, in an action pending before him when the said order was issued, against Neils Hendrickson defendant; that property of the defendant, consisting of one sewing machine, three upholstered chairs, one dining table, one bed, one bureau, one carpet and two quilts, has been attached, under said order, and was continued to the 22nd day of December, 1894, at 10 o'clock A. M. Omaha, Nebraska, November 21, 1894.

Axel Meyer,
Plaintiff.

Legal Notice.

In District court, Douglas county, Nebraska, Soren T. Peterson, plaintiff, vs. Jacob Kendis, Leah Kendis, George Grympus Wand Ida uterick, defendants.

The above named George Grympus, non-resident defendant, will take notice that on the 10th day of January, A. D. 1894, plaintiff herein filed his petition in the district court of Douglas county, Nebraska, against the defendants, the object and prayer of which is to foreclose a certain mortgage executed by Jacob Kendis and Leah Kendis upon lot number sixteen (16), in block number three (3), in Arbor Place Addition to the city of Omaha, Douglas county, Nebraska, to secure the payment of a certain promissory note dated January 30th, 1887, for the sum of $900, which promissory note is past due and unpaid, and plaintiff prays for a decree that defendants be required to pay the same or that said mortgaged premises be sold to satisfy the amount found due.

You are required to answer said petition on or before the 10th day of December, A. D. 1894.

Dated Omaha, Neb., November 24, 1894.

By A. Bevins, his attorney. 11-2-4

WEBSTER'S

INTERNATIONAL

DICTIONARY

Successor of the "Webster's"

Ten years spent in revising, 100 editors employed, more than $300,000 expended.

A Grand Educator

Absorb of the Times

A Library in Itself

Invaluable in the household, and to the teacher, professional man, self-educator.

Ask your Bookseller to show it to you.

Published by

G. & C. MERRIAM CO., Springfield, Mass., U.S.A.

Send for free prospectus containing specimen copy (Illustrations, testimonials, etc.)

Do not buy reprints of ancient editions.