published by the pope concerging the public press, which reads as follows:

"We are aware that already there labor in this field many men of skill 1518 Douglas St. and experience, whose diligence demands words of praise rather than of encouragement. Nevertheless, since to prefer to associate with Catholics. you, and since according to circum- it quite agreeable to the American peostances it can be productive either of good or evil, every effort should be made to increase the numb r of intellitercourse and intimacy between Cathothe Catholic name - a condition of people great circumspection and more than ordinary firmness. It is necessary to instruct, admonish, strengthen and urge them on to the pursuit of virtue and to the faithful observance, amid so many occasions of stumbling, of their duties toward the church. It is, of course, the proper function of the clergy to devote their care and energies to this great work; but the age and the country require that journalists should be special work; but the age and the country require that journalists should be equally zealous in this same cause, and labor in it to the full extent of their powers. Let them, however, seriously reflect that their writings, if not positively prejudicial to religion, will surely be of slight service to it, unless, in concord of minds, they all seek the same end.

"Those who desire to be of real service to the church, and with their pensheartily to defend the Cathelic cause, should carry on the conflict with perfect unanimity, and, as it were, with serried ranks; for they rather inflict than repel war, if they waste their strength by discord. In like manner their work, instead of being profitable and fruitful, becomes injurious and disastrous, whenever they presume to call before their tribunal the decisions and acts of bishops, and, casting off due reverence, cavil and find fault, not perceiving how great a disturbance of order and how many evils are thereby produced. Let them, then, be mindful of their duty, and not overstep the proper limits of moderation. The bishops, placed in the lofty position of authority, are to be obeyed; and suitable honor, befitting the magnitude and though a proper to the condensation of authority, are to be obeyed; and suitable honor, befitting the magnitude and the condensation of the condensatio thority, are to be obeyed; and suitable honor, befitting the magnitude and sanctity of their office, should be paid to them. Now this reverence, wh'ch is lawful to no one to neglect, should, of necessity, be eminently conspicuous in Catholic journalists. For journals, naturally circulating far and wide, come daily into the hands of everybody, and exert no small influence upon the exert no small influence upon the opinions and morals of the multitude.

"We have ourselves, on frequent occasions, laid down many rules respecting the duties of a good writer, many of which were unanimously inculcated, as well by the third council of Baltimore as by the archbishops in their meeting at Chicago, in the year 1893

Let Catholic writers, therefore, bear impressed on their minds our teachings and yours on this point, and let them resolve that their entire method of writing shall be thereby guided, if they, indeed, desire as they ought to desire, to discharge their duty well."

In other words, the bishops of the papal church are constituted by the pope the censors of the public press in the United States and though an ecclesiast should commit any crime, from petit larcery to high treason, the pub lic press are enjoined from commenting thereupon. It is time that American newspaper men paid more attention to the canons and bulls of Rome than to the banquets and soft words of treasonous papal delegates, otherwise they will jose not only their borsted freedom as representatives of the press, but their libertics as well.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the var. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflan ed condition of the mucous liming of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless tenfan mation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever also cases out of tenfar caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the nucous surfaces.
