

DID PENAe AFTER EACH SIN.

Miss Nellie Thomas Stuck Her Legs and Feet Full of Needles.

CINCINNATI, O., July 21.—A well-dressed young woman applied at the Cincinnati Hospital for admission yesterday afternoon. She presented a letter from the mother superior of the convent where the young woman had resided. The letter said the beaver, Miss Nellie Thomas, had been employed for some time at the convent, and was suffering from swollen legs and feet. Nothing except the symptoms referred to in the letter was found in the preliminary examination, but later it was decided to lance the feet, when it was found the legs and feet were stuck full of pins and needles. Forty-one needles were extracted from her body, and she was not able until today to endure further operations. It is thought others will be found. The physicians believe that blood-poisoning will set in, and the case in any event may prove hopeless.

The girl protested, till after the operations, that she could not tell how her feet and limbs became imbedded with these needles, but finally she said she had been at the convent of the Good Shepherd for several years. She was an orphan and alone in the world. During her stay there she had done wrong. Not once alone, but persistently. She had done that which she knew was not right, and for every sin she had committed she had done penance by thrusting a needle into one of her legs. She explained that each operation had caused her agonizing pain, and that at times the operations were almost unbearable, but she felt she must bear the pain as a recompense for the sin committed. This mode of doing penance, she said, had covered more than two years. Her wrong doings had been of frequent occurrence, and she was unable to estimate the number of needles she had placed in her limbs.

Sister Superior Mary Malone stated that the outcome of the examination of Miss Thomas was a startling revelation to her. She had been aware of the condition of the patient's legs and feet for several months, but had no idea of the cause. Miss Nellie was able to talk tonight, but was very weak and suffering intense pain.

Where He Is at Home.

Who can expect any movement in the line of temperance reform from the Roman Catholic church while its revenues are largely derived from the contributions of rum-sellers and while priests of the church are saloon-keepers? A St. Louis correspondent of the Boston Citizen cites two notable instances, as follows: "A Roman Catholic priest of this city is running a saloon full blast at No. 216 South Fourth street, and a short time ago a gang of counterfeiters were, by accident, traced to his place, where they were making counterfeit money in the cellar, and had been making this priest's cellar, under his saloon, their headquarters for some time. They probably would have been there yet, but they got so bold in passing their product that they were tracked to Father McGinnis' saloon, and caught. In South St. Louis, about seven miles from the court-house, on South Broadway, a priest has a row of business-houses, and is running a saloon. He does not pay taxes on the property, for it is, and has been for years, given in by the assessors as church property. The Roman Catholic church has over $50,000,000 worth of church property in this city, and not one cent of taxes do they pay. Many thousands of dollars' worth have been bought by the church on speculation."

Picturesque Waterson.

Colonel Henry Waterson of the Louisville Courier-Journal is certainly picturesque when he turns a full head of steam on. From a three-column editorial addressed "To the Democrats of Kentucky," we make the following extract:

The course of national developments is upon the ascending, not the descending scale, and no fast-and-loose, catch-as-you-can, go-as-you-please, slobbery, jobby concern—half sport and half tramp—with Cameron in the lead and west to bring up the rear—with Morgan to furnish the learning and Jones to fill the basket—and Colorado to point the moral and South Carolina to adorn the tail—can ever swallow Democrats enough to carry the day and to lower the flag! America is still for Americans. We are not yet reduced to the importation of Chinese lanterns in philosophy, and Mexican methods of calculation. But if some of our local statesmen do not have a care, they will be completely lost in the double-shuffle going on before their very eyes.

Denver Orangemen.

Although the Orangemen of Denver have never yet paraded the streets of the city on the 12th of July, as the Hibernians were wont to do on the 17th of March, they have each year, since the institution of the first lodge here, always met in a pleasing reunion to celebrate the anniversary of the battle of the Boyne.

The affair this year eclipsed all its predecessors. Haish Hall was crowded with Loyal Orange men and women, and the following program was rendered:

"America," by the audience; prayer; duet, Mrs. Hurt and Mrs. Clark; address of welcome, J. H. Jackson; vocal solo, A. I. Warren; address, L. R. Howze; piano solo, Mrs. Voght; address, Mr. McGee; vocal solo, Mr. Howze; address, C. W. Stephenson; song, Mr. Haman. Refreshments.

No association on earth, oath-bound or otherwise, is more honorably loyal in its brotherhood than is the Loyal Orange Institution. So long as there is honor in the individual member and almost without exception there always is honor in every member—so long may he rely upon his brothers for protection against the slanderous venom or the deadly malice of his foes, whether hostility be engendered because of Jesuitical plotting or from the malice of political foes or personal enemies. Yet no church association in Christendom more seriously inculcates good morals, good citizenship and devotion to the precepts of Holy Writ than does the Orange lodge.

Americans may well rejoice because of the growth of the order in this land, for the nation will have no more loyal defenders than Orangemen will ever prove themselves to be. The victory of William III. was but the forerunner of the victories of Washington. By the downfall of the popish king of Britain religious and civil liberty, untrammeled by ecclesiastical interference, was first secured. It was the descendants of the Puritans who struck the first blow for freedom in America.—Denver American.

Resolutions by St. Joseph (Mo.) Friends.
At a meeting of St. Joseph Council No. 28 American Protective Association, held Thursday evening, July 11, 1893, the following resolutions were presented and unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, In the mysterious dispensation of human life and death, our friend and co-worker, James M. Cutler, has failed before the relentless sickle of the silent reaper; and,

WHEREAS, Friend Cutler was long a faithful member of this council, a man of sterling Americanism, unfaltering in his devotion to the principles and interests of the order, and an untiring worker for its advancement; therefore, it is

Resolved, That while we bow in humble submission to fate's decrees, we most sincerely deplore the loss of our friend, and shall ever hold his memory sacred to the cause he so earnestly espoused.

Resolved, That the sincere sympathy of this council be extended to the family of our deceased friend, and as a mark of respect, be given to the assessors as church property. The Roman Catholic church has over $50,000,000 worth of church property in this city, and not one cent of taxes do they pay. Many thousands of dollars' worth have been bought by the church on speculation."

CHURCH ROW RENEWED.

Polish Affairs at Winona More Mixed Than Ever.

WINONA, Minn., July 16.—The Polish people are again in trouble and it is feared that the troublesome scenes of last summer may be repeated. It seems that the contractors of the fine new church, which will cost nearly $80,000, are in a squabble.

It is well known that in the building of a new edifice there are always extra bills that have to be met. The contractors, Hall & Waselewski, of Minneapolis, say that these bills will not be paid by the building committee. Thus the main contractors cannot pay their men or the subcontractors, and the men are in just about a good state to declare a strike. The Polish building committee has about $13,500 to the credit of the church fund, and the contractors say if they can get what is due them they can have their work completed in about two months.

On the other side, it is claimed that the main contractor has been paid a good round sum, and has never turned any over to the subcontractors.

But this squabble is not half the trouble. It is said some time ago a stock company was formed, the object of which was to have the parishioners lend the church money for the completion of their new edifice, and about $24,000 was thus collected. The loaners were given no security, and are now attempting to collect their money without anything to show that they ever lent the church a cent. Here is another howl.

Then, too, in addition to this amount, the building committee has borrowed $17,000 and mortgaged all the old church property near the new building to secure it. This was stoutly fought against by some of the members of the building committee, and their side is taken by a number of the parishioners.

With all this mixture of facts and crookedness, and the various bitter stories afloat, it is feared that the Poles may become violent, and taking sides, repeat the stormy and disorderly scenes of last summer.

The church which is in course of construction is one of the handsomest of its kind in the northwest. The exterior is about completed, and is decorated with large statues covered with genuine gold leaf.

Swearing Policemen.

A subscriber to the Woman's Voice writes:

"I want to call attention to the fact that many of the police officers of Boston are using profane language while on duty. I have heard it many times of late, and think it is demoralizing to the young. Passing through LaGrange street last week, two policemen passed, one pouring forth volumes of profane language because a case had been decided as they thought wrongly in court.

A few days ago I was waiting for a car at the corner of School and Tremont street, and heard a police officer, not on duty, conversing with a young girl using most profane language. In every instance the officer has been an Irishman."

The remedy for this evil is to have men chosen to the police force, not because of a political pull, but because of their fitness for the position.

Resolved, That while we bow in humble submission to fate's decrees, we most sincerely deplore the loss of our friend, and shall ever hold his memory sacred to the cause he so earnestly espoused.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon our minutes, a copy presented to the family of our deceased friend, and a copy sent to THE AMERICAN and to the American Citizen, Boston, for publication.

P. O. S. of A. Reunion.

The reunion on Saturday last was a very enjoyable affair for those participating, and quite a large number was present. The day was suited for outdoor recreation, and Park Grove evidently had many attractions, as but few strayed back to town until well toward evening.

The P. O. S. of A. Band of Osceola is an organization of which the order at large may well feel proud. Composed of men neatly uniformed, correct in deportment and playing nicely, they formed a pleasing feature of the parade and added vastly to the pleasure and enjoyment of all concerned.

The camp at this place realized fairly well from their venture, and the boys have received a new impetus in the patriotic work through an interchange of views and a co-mingling with their brethren from elsewhere.—Householder.

Catarrah Cannot Be Cured

with Local Applications, as they cannot reach the seat of disease. Cancer is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrah Cure is not a specific medicine. It is recommended by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the blood vessels, a perfect combination of the two ingredients, which produces such wonderful results in curing Catarrah.
