The placing of one such judge upon the bench would immeasurof an evil-disposed would-be dictator, and, needless to say, would be a public calamity. The judges of our courts are public servants in whose keeping are entrusted to a great extent the property, the lives and the rights and liberties of the people; and they should be selected by the people and not by some unscrupulous politician who may have nefarious designs to cary out. no one but the people who entrust them with the highest and most sacred Republicans. A NON-PARTIZAN JUDICIARY.

Daily Tribune (Democratic).

party organizations are a necessity. Wise governmental policies and reforms can be carried out only by organized effort, and without such unity of purpose as is secured by party organizations made up of the great masses of the voters, government by the people in America would prove as ignominious a failure as it did under the old republics of Greece and Rome. Only by uniting together in great bodies can the masses of the people carry out their will; and the disintegration of parties and abandonment of all political organization would result in anarchy. Under such a state of affairs, history would repeat itself-some ambitious dictator would selze the reins of government, intrench himself in power, and the people would have to content themselves to live under a gailing despotism. It is not only the right but it is the duty of every true, patriotic citizen of this country to become identified with some political party; and the moment he does so he becomes a "partizan"; for that much abused word simply means, "one who adheres or belongs to a party." The lawyer, the physician, the merchant, the banker, the farmer, the mechanic, and the rallway locomotive engineer, are partizans, in the discharge of their duties as citizens and voters; and there it ends. In the conduct of their professions, their business, or their public duties, partizan ship has no influence and no part.
