BELLE BECOMES A NUN.

Miss Mamie Cabanne, a Beautiful St. Louis Heiress, Enters a Convent.

Miss Mamie Cabanne, one of the richest and most beautiful society young ladies of St. Louis, Mo., on October 17 entered, as a postulant, the Visitation Convent. The Cabanne family is closely identified with the history of St. Louis, Miss Mamie's great-great-grandfather having settled here in the eighteenth century. Cabanne place, the most exclusive residence quarter of the town, where the family now resides in a splendid mansion, formerly belonged to the paternal estate. The young candidate for religious orders made her debut in society only two years ago, and, though very popular, she has since shown far more interest in works of charity than in social functions. She was educated at the Loretta Academy of the Sacred Heart, and has always, from a child, been greatly attached to her religious duties. She will take with her into the church a large fortune.

AMUSEMENTS.

De Wolf Hopper and his excellent company will be the attraction at Boyd's Theatre this afternoon and evening. The popular comic opera, "Dr. Syn's," will be presented at both performances.

Manager Haynes of the Boyd has just closed a contract with the Dames Opera Company, for December 26th, 27th and 28th. This is the largest operatic organization traveling, numbering 165 people.

No play ever produced tells, in such a vivid manner, the old story of right and justice prevailing, as does the "Black Crook." It is a good sermon and in it is extolled the virtues of Stalacta and the bravery of Rudolph. Hertzog (the Black Crook) sells his soul for eternal life, and endeavors to drag into perdition Rudolph, so that he (Hertzog) may longer live. He is foiled by the fairy queen (Stalacta), and in the end virtue triumphs, and the wicked are punished. It is an impressive story, and embellished as it is with all its wealth of gorgeous scenery, beautiful costumes and lithesome dancers, representing fairies), it has ranked among the high-class theatrical attractions for over a quarter of a century. It will be seen here at Boyd's Theatre on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday next, with special matinee Tuesday. The seats are now on sale.

The great Sandow and the Trocadero Vaudeville company will be the attraction at Boyd's Theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 4, 5 and 6.

Welcome as oysters are in the first cool days of autumn is the Honorable Bill Hoey. We haven't had a real hearty laugh in the theatre for weeks, and if the original Old Hoss cannot tickle our lonesome ribs, as the raggedy man says, who can? Mr. Hoey comes to Boyd's Wednesday and Thursday, October 30 and 31, with an entirely new play and a cast which is old in spirit but not in form. The piece is a comic play, written by Louis DeLange and called "The Globe Trotter." Hoey will appear in his familiar tramp attire and the fond memories of Old Hoss will be vividly recalled, doubtless by what he does. The comedian will shave off that wonderful beard of his in Act I and become a deaf and dumb old woman; later on he will appear as an English lord. Hoey's fashionable gowns are said to be elaborate and costly. The other members of the company are Frederic Bryton, M. A. Kennedy, Louis DeLange, Burton Colever, R. D. Abbey, Mrs. Dion Boucault (Louise Thorndyke), Miss Gerome Edwardy, Ada Alexandra.
