Preaching at the M. E. church next Sunday morning and evening. All invited.

Dr. Shafer informs us that a daughter arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Asa C. Lavis on Tuesday. All doing well.

Charles Smith has purchased the interest of his brother, Frank, in the livery establishment and will continue the business alone in the future.

A number of pine trees have been set in front of the business houses, which add greatly to the comfort during the hot days.

By taking advantage of our new clubbing offer you can get a large amount of good reading for a small amount of cash.

An ice-cream social will be given next Friday evening under the auspices of the Ladies Aid society. All are cordially invited to attend and have a good time.

In another column appears the advertisement of Mrs. H. A. Cunningham. Her stock of millinery has arrived and she is now prepared to take care of all the ladies wants in that line.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Cunningham were the recipients of a handsome hanging lamp as a wedding present from one of the wholesale houses with whom Mr. Cunningham deals.

It is reported that John Gibson, who left the Hat Creek country last winter just ahead of an officer, returned a few days ago and soon an officer came from Lawes county and took him in on charge of horse stealing.

The crop reports from the south part of the county are in the same vein as from other localities. Small grain has suffered from lack of rain, corn and potatoes are still growing but need rain badly. Quite a large number of fruit trees were set out in that locality last spring and those that received proper attention are doing well.

The basket meeting at Bixby's grove on last Sunday was well attended and a pleasant time had. A new church organization was perfected, to be known as the Hat Creek class, and started out with an encouraging membership. Rev. Lusk is to be congratulated on the fact he can report to conference the organization of a new church in his territory.

The Bible School will convene at the church, next Sunday, at ten o'clock sharp. Every body requested to be on time if possible.

Lesson for July, 20th, will be found in Luke 14: 25-35.

Miss Ellen Batterlee was added to the corps of officers last Sunday, being elected assistant organist.

A new time card went into effect on this line last Sunday. The passenger from the east arrives at the same time as before, and going east arrives here at 6:28 a change of only seven minutes from the old time. The freight going west arrives here at 5:23 a. m. and going east arrives at 8 p. m. The passenger goes west only as far as Louisa and a mixed train is run from there to Casper. It will not be long now until the Cheyenne & Northern will be completed and then it is quite likely that additional train service will be put on. The consolidation of the Northwestern and U. P. companies as good as gives them a double track from Omaha to Denver and it is probable that the bulk of the through traffic will be run over this line.

—On last Saturday evening, the school board held a meeting and selected a teacher. A number of applications had been made and the result was the selection of Miss Eva Conner. The lady selected has the reputation of being a good teacher and will doubtless give satisfactory service. The contract will be for three months, and school will begin on August 4th, that being the first Monday in the month. There will be little chance for vacation as there is to be ten months school during the school year.

—The report of the village treasurer has not yet been published. It is rumored that warrants were issued last year, far in excess of the limit fixed by law. If the village board will comply with the law and publish the financial standing of the village and would give an opportunity to know the condition of affairs. The continued neglect to comply with the law makes it appear as if matters were in such a condition that they dare not let the public know the true state of affairs.

—The Dorsey organs are making capital out of the fact of Judge Kinkaid declining to be a candidate for congress, and some of them go so far as to assert that Kinkaid has said that Dorsey is the best man in the district for representative. That statement is absolutely false. Judge Kinkaid never said it, and such statements, misrepresenting leading men of the district, will not add strength to the chairman of the house committee on banking and currency. Some Dorsey organs pretend to believe that he will be nominated by acclamation but there is not one of them who would not give a good deal to be certain of such a thing. Those who are booming him quote what the democratic papers say in favor of his nomination. Of course the democrats want him nominated. Democrats work for democratic success and that is what they look for if the republicans nominate Dorsey for a fourth term.

—We are informed that L. Gerlach has been appointed local organizer for the farmers alliance and it is probable that a number of subordinate alliances will be established in the county in the near future. The entire state is pretty well organized into alliances and the members are taking an active part in the political moves. In some places they are going into the primaries of their respective parties and nominating men favorable to them. In others they are putting independent tickets in the field and in other localities they are waiting to see if the old parties put up the right kind of man and if they do not, an alliance man will likely be put up. The indications are that the aspirant for office who is not in sympathy with the farmers will have a rocky road to travel.

—In conversation with some of our farmers the question of listing or planting corn came up for discussion. The general opinion appeared to be that the best results were to be obtained by listing. The only trouble with that method is the cultivation of the corn when it is small. In the eastern part of the state where a large proportion of the corn is listed they have a cultivator especially gotten up for that work and since those cultivators have been in use better results have been derived than ever. There appears to be every reason for listed corn doing well in Sioux county and before another crop is planted it is probable that some one will introduce those cultivators. We should like to have all the information we can from those who have experimented with listed and planted corn in this county so that we may enable the farmers to get the best results from their labors.

—The board of county commissioners adjourned on last Friday. As soon as the work as a board of equalization was completed Commissioner Weir went home and did not attend any of the time during the session. A number of points can be noted by perusal of the proceedings of the board, which appears on the third page of this issue.

One of the most important points to the taxpayers is that the new board propose to keep within the law. Another is that no bills created prior to December 1, 1888, will be allowed for payment out of the 1890 funds. Another point is that every bill is examined and if it is not as it should be it is ordered corrected or rejected, and still another fact is very noticeable, and that is that they know neither friend nor foe in the discharge of their duties. The new administration has no pets and if any one has any dealings with the county they must be correct or they are laid over for correction. For all the bills allowed, the warrants are drawn and only need the signature of Commissioner Weir, as chairman of the board, and then they can be delivered to those to whom they belong. The course taken by Commissioners Grove and Green in regard to the bills presented will meet the hearty approval of every honest man in Sioux county. The proper thing for an official to do is to "how to the line," and no honest or fair-minded person will have reason to complain of the results.

—The base ball boys of Lusk are expected here on Wednesday to try a second game with the Harrison boys. A good game will be played, and although the score may not be as low as in some of the league games, there will be a lot of fun in it, both for players and spectators. A grand free lance will be given in the evening, and every body is invited to come and enjoy a good time.

—County Commissioner Weir came in yesterday, the county clerk having notified him that the warrants were drawn as ordered by the county board and only needed his signature, and is now at work signing the warrants. This is simply a clerical act on the part of the chairman of a board of county commissioners, as the statute is mandatory and states that the commissioner whose term shall expire within the year shall sign. So he has nothing to say in the matter.

—The republican primary for Bowen precinct was held at the court room yesterday, from 3 to 6 p. m., under the rules adopted by the county central committee. The delegates elected to the republican county convention which meets on Saturday were C. E. Verity, G. Guthrie and Geo. Olinger. E. E. Livermore was nominated for assessor and P. L. McCrea for road overseer. N. L. Pollard and David Bartlett were nominated for constables and S. H. Jones for justice of the peace to fill vacancies. Candidates were also nominated for judges and clerks of election.

Married.
JONES—PRICE—At the residence of the bride's parents, in Sioux county, Neb., on Wednesday, July 16, 1890, by Rev. I. F. Lusk, Mr. S. H. Jones and Miss Wiza Price, all of Sioux county, Neb. The contracting parties are both well and favorably known to the people of this locality. The groom is one of the most popular young men of the county and holds the position of deputy county treasurer. The bride has a large circle of friends, won by her kindness and pleasing manner. All extend best wishes to the happy couple for a long, happy and prosperous married life.

Prohibition League.
Pursuant to call published last week, the Advisory Committee of Non-partisan prohibitionists met in the court house in Harrison, last Thursday, for the purpose of organizing a "Non-Partisan Prohibitory Amendment League." Thomas, Charles U. Grove, and Asa C. Lavis, were elected vice-presidents.

Voted, That the several Associate Committees hold meetings at such place as they may designate within their precinct on Saturday night, July 19, 1890, for the purpose of consummating the organization of Auxiliary Leagues in the different precincts of Sioux county.

On motion the meeting adjourned to meet at the call of the executive committee.

S. L. R. MAINE, secretary.

Mr. Van Pelt, Editor of the Craig, Mo., Meteor, went to a drug store at Hurdale, Mo., and asked the physician in attendance to give him a dose of something for cholera morosa and looseness of the bowels. He says: "I felt so much better the next morning that I concluded to call on the physician and get him to fix me up a supply of the medicine. I was surprised, when he handed me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He said he prescribed it regularly in his practice and found it the best he could get or prepare. I can testify to its efficiency in my case at all events." For sale by C. H. Andrews.

J. C. Northrop left on last Friday for a visit to the east. He will be absent four or six weeks and it is rumored that he will not return alone.

Andrew Lahlman was in Harrison on Friday. He has been up in the hills for some time at work and intended to return. He says all the Sioux county men there are doing well.

Ability Abroad.

Speaking of the celebration at that place on July 4th the Alliance Times of the 11th inst. contains the following paragraph:

"After parading the principal streets, the populace assembled at the bowery to listen to the exercises of the day. Among the most interesting was the reading of the Declaration of Independence by Mr. F. M. Knight, a number of happy toasts by prominent citizens of the city and Nonpareil, the oration of the day by Hon. C. E. Holmes, of Harrison. The latter was the grandest treat in oratory our citizens ever listened to. Always a forcible talker on any topic, the speaker warmed up to his subject almost at the beginning and delivered a powerful speech that held his hearer's attention from first to last."

In speaking of the same speech, Gene Hunt's Grip makes the following comment: "which was followed by the orator of the day, Mr. C. E. Holmes, whose well arranged oration coupled with his graceful style of delivery, was highly appreciated by the large audience, and was loudly applauded."

A Good Sort of Man.

Norfolk Journal.

There was, according to accounts a superior brand of harmony at the Dodge county republican convention on Friday last at Fremont. The chief business was to get L. D. Richards formally into the field for governor, which was done, and very well done, in a preamble of four whereas and one resolution. Mr. Richards responded in a very neat little speech referring to the office for which he was endorsed, in which he said: "I shall make no scramble for it. If it comes to me, it will come in an honorable way. The contest must be a fair and honest one as far as I am concerned. But if it should come to me, I shall try to prove myself worthy of it, and to fulfill its duties to the best of my ability." Mr. Richards seems to be a very good sort of a man. His neighbors say it, anyway.
