Republican County Ticket.
For County Attorney,
H. T. CONLEY.
For County Commissioner,
ELI J. WILCOX.

The country has six sorts of money—gold coin, silver coin, gold certificates, silver certificates, greenbacks and national bank bills—now, and it will have another sort—the Treasury bullion notes which the new silver law provides for—a few weeks hence.

It is reported that First Assistant Postmaster General Clarkson is about to purchase the machinery and outfit of the Omaha Republican. If the Clarksons take the paper in hand the republican party in Nebraska will be benefitted by the change.

The lottery company may not make as much out of its new contract with Louisiana as it imagines. Federal legislation shutting the lottery swindlers off from the mails and the express companies would make the new charter which they expect to get worthless. This legislation, too, is likely to be had.

The contents of the gang organ last week was largely composed of personalities regarding the person who conducts this paper. If the Herald continues in the same line for a few weeks its readers may be able to form some idea of what a monster the editor of THE JOURNAL is.

The congressional convention which was held at Columbus last week by the union labor and alliance organizations nominated O. M. Kennen, of Custer county as candidate for member of congress from the third district. It is considered as a victory for the union labor part of the convention, as Kennen is said to be a union labor democrat.

The action of County Attorney Walker at the republican county convention on last Saturday entitles him to a great deal of credit. When his name was mentioned for the nomination for county attorney he at once declined to allow his name to be used before the convention in that connection. His doing so proves that the statements of his enemies, to the effect that his course in the past was simply to get himself into office, were false. He has made a hard fight to get the affairs of Sioux county on a proper basis and now he proves by his action that he was sincere in his work, and the people of Sioux county will have far more respect for him now than ever before, and his enemies cannot accuse him of having made the fight which he has waged simply because he was "office struck."

The report of the secretary of agriculture contains a great deal of valuable information and among the facts stated therein is that in the vicinity of Yuma, Colo., they are raising excellent crops of small grain and corn, and it is the result of deep cultivation. A few years ago, that country was looked upon as utterly worthless. Its altitude is as great as it is here and it was generally supposed that it would never amount to anything as a farming locality. But the settlers made a determined effort to raise crops and success has crowned their efforts. The soil there is very similar to that of Sioux county and the farmers of this locality will do well to profit by the experiments made in Colorado. We hope that when the ground is prepared for the next crop that the plows will be set deep and we believe that much better results will be obtained.

The chairman of the fusion-ring-office-for-revenue-only county committee and editor of the flipper-flopper-gang organ certainly performed an extraordinary political feat last week. He lives with his family in Harrison but was billed, as member of the fusion committee of which he was chairman, to hold a primary in Bodarc precinct on Tuesday evening, July 15th. On Wednesday, July 16th, he acted under the rules and oath prescribed by the republican county central committee, at the republican primary, also in Bodarc precinct and voted for delegates to the republican county convention which was held at the court house on Saturday, July 19th, and beside all that he on Friday, July 18th, as chairman of the fusion committee called the convention called by this organization to order at Anderson's hall and in the deliberations of that body he represented Bodarc precinct as a delegate, and was elected by the fusionists as delegate to the constitutional and representative conventions. It is evident that that individual took part in the primaries of two organizations within twenty-four hours. The fact of his acting as organizer at the republican primary in Bodarc precinct and then going to the fusion convention Friday is certainly a remarkable feat. The statistics of the fusionists show that the fusionists were successful in the election and almost every precinct would have been carried.

Blading twine is advancing in price. The reason given is that 500 tons of it recently burned in Minneapolis. The real reason, however, is that the trust wanted to take advantage of the demand, and almost every protest would have been suppressed.

Suggestions in regard to Sugar Beet Culture.

Reports from the sub-stations established in the spring, by the Experiment Station, for the purpose of determining the effects of the varying conditions of soil and climate on the growth of, and the production of sugar beets, in the main, are good.

In many places, especially in the extreme western part of the state, beets have suffered from hot weather and lack of rain, as a rule though they seem to withstand these unfavorable conditions as well as corn and better than small grain.

From some points reports tell us that insect enemies have begun their ravages.

As the best methods of cultivation with us are to be determined by experiment, the suggestion is made to those having small plots, that during the dry weather, the ground be frequently (at least once a week) hoed or stirred. Not only will this method of procedure keep the ground free from weeds, but it will also aid the plant to withstand the effect of dry and hot weather. This last effect is caused by breaking up the little canals or channels, formed in the soil by the passage of the moisture from the ground to the air, thus retarding the evaporation of moisture from the soil and permitting the free circulation of air throughout its upper layers. Both of which actions have a general tendency to keep the soil cool and moist.

If possible, hoe one-half of the plot every week and the other half but once in two or even three weeks and carefully note the effects on the growth.

As there are several kinds of insects that attack the beet, and as they have already been reported as having begun operations, it seems the proper time to begin to learn something of their appearance, habits, and best means of meeting their advances. To this end the beets should be watched very carefully, from day to day and at different times of the day and even in the evening, for any insect, bug, or worm that seems to have an interest in them; search the leaves, pull up the beets and search the roots and the top layer of the soil, and when any marauder is found send it to the Experiment Station for study and identification.

Directions for sending such specimens I copy from Bulletin XIV, on "Insects Injurious to Young Trees on Tree Claims," just issued.

"Whenever possible, insects should be packed alive in some tight tin box—the tighter the better, as air holes are not needed—along with a supply of their appropriate food sufficient to last them on the journey; otherwise they generally die and shrivel up."

"Send as full an account as possible of the habits; what part of the plant it infests, time of the day when it is most active, amount of damage done, etc."

"Packages should be marked with the name of the sender and should be addressed to the Entomologist of the Agricultural Experiment Station, Lincoln, Neb."

It will aid materially in forming conclusions if all people who have planted seed this season will send, from time to time, reports of the condition of their beets to the Experiment Station.
