Snow drifts have delayed trains every day this week. It was worse in the eastern part of the state than here of late.

A couple of young men attempted to jump their board bill at the Northwestern hotel this morning but were brought back and made to "ante."

On the second page of this issue appears a synopsis of the new ballot law of the state. The salient features of every section are given, so that all our readers will be well advised of its provisions.

On last Saturday O. A. Gurten was at work in the timber, when a tree fell on him, injuring his right leg quite severely. It is quite likely that the bone between the knee and ankle is cracked.

The gang organ refers to the property interests of a couple of individuals.
Their property and the records will show for themselves and it is safe to say that they will not, like the editor of the Her- ald, make a statement different to the records and ask people to take their statements in preference to the records.

We need some wood and now that the snow is going off, we hope our friends who have promised us wood on subscription will make their promise good. It will not be long until spring work will be on hand and then it will be hard to find time to haul wood. We should like to have a supply large enough to last through the busy season.

We have received the bar docket of the district court of Sioux county, Nebraska, from which it appears that H. T.
Conley is getting a good share of the law practice in that county. There are forty-five cases on the docket, and Mr. Conley appears as counsel in thirty-one of them. Besides being county attorney, he has a large civil practice. The docket was printed by the HARRISON JOURNAL, and is a very creditable piece of work.— Seward Reporter.

A change occurred in superintendent of this division of the F. E. & M. V. on the 4th inst. T. B. Sealey resigned recently and E. C. Harris was put in his place. Mr. Harris has been in charge of the division at Norfolk for a long time, and is known as a thorough railroad man. Mr. Sealey has proven himself a good man for the place and leaves with the good wishes of employees and patrons of the road.

A correspondent of the Crawford Democrat, writing from Cottonwood precinct, Sioux county, asks where the aid sent for the needy of this county goes, and states that there are a few families in that locality who could stand a little aid. The committee appointed by the commissioners to have charge of this work receive the goods and distribute them to parties that apply taking a receipt therefor. If the people of Cottonwood who are in need had appeared and asked for supplies they would doubtless have been treated the same as others but the settlers in that part of the county can hardly expect that the committee is going to send out goods without a request or receipt.

The question of artesian wells in northwest Nebraska appears to be settled. While returning from Chadron recently J. M. Daniels was informed that a well near Whitney was throwing water about five feet above the top, and that the well was but 80 feet deep. The roads and weather were bad and he could not spend the time to visit. He informed the people here and others have also brought information concerning it.
Judge Barker will, in the near future, visit the well and ascertain the altitude and all else he can in regard to it. This ought to induce some of the people in the valley to have a test well put down.
It is quite likely that some of the well drillers would make a reasonable price for sinking a test well. It is of interest to all to know if artesian water can be had at a reasonable depth in Sioux county for if that proves true it will add to the material wealth of the entire county. Artesian wells are a great benefit to any locality.

The gang organ apparently does not like the idea of the records of its backers and strikers being investigated by an expert and raises a terrible howl for peace.
It is a poor time to ask for peace after the acts of the gang and its organ for the past three years. The mills of justice may grind slowly but as a rule they do a pretty thorough job before they get through. The cry for peace ought to have been made long ago. Did the gang or its organ ever say one word about peace when they were dragging those who dared oppose them from court to court on charges for which there was no foundation? And even now in the same breath that cry for peace they continue to "wade into" those whom they have been fighting, regardless of the truth.
The fact is that justice, too long deluged is getting in shape to lay the grasp of the law on some evil doers and lodged a grand jury on a technically, and the gang is reading the hand-writing on the wall. Now that they are down they cry for peace, but with dogged tenacity want to dictate the terms of peace.

They cry for peace and demand that THE JOURNAL be set down upon; that some of its friends be ostracized; that the present county officials be condemned and that former officials be upheld and their records remain unmolested, and that everything go according to the wishes of the gang and its organ, as was the case in former years. They claim some people are keeping up an unnecessary fight. Just so long as the gang and its organ continue to uphold wrong doing among their friends and attempts to injure the standing or business of those who work for right and the advancement of the welfare of the settlers, just so long will this fight be kept up. If the gang and its organ want peace let them withdraw their mud-batteries and let justice take its course.

COMMISSIONERS' RECORD.

(Official.)
HARRISON, SIOUX COUNTY, NEB.
March 9, 1891.
Board met pursuant to adjournment.
Present: Commissioners Green and Knott and clerk.

Hat Creek Items.

Plenty of snow in the valley.
C. H. Redd, the mayor of the city, came down from Harrison last week to visit his pa and ma.
Mrs. Clara A. Andrews is having a house built on her homestead in the valley.
J. M. Daniels went to Chadron recently on pension business.
D. W. Woody has been putting up ice.
C. F. Coffee feeds about two tons of hay each day. That is the way to care for cattle.
The report has been received here that eastern capital is coming into northwest Nebraska, as one man is said to have invested $50,000.00 in and around Crawford. We hope it is true.
J. M. Daniels wants to trade his large gray team for a cheaper span of mares.

Verity, arrived here on Saturday to visit his daughter and look over the county.

J. W. Langdon spent Friday night in Harrison. He is now in charge of section No. 91, about 16 miles west of here.
His family will move back on their farm in Sioux county in the spring.

The New Land Law.

The bill in relation to government land was signed by the president on March 3d and thereby became a law. A number of very important changes are made.
The repeal of the pre-emption and timber culture entries and also the prohibition of offering public lands at public sale, thus preventing private or cash entries are important points. The new law also provides that no person who is the owner of more than 100 acres of land in any state or territory shall acquire any right under the homestead law. All entries of lands made prior to the taking effect of the new law, are to hold good so long as the party making the entry complies with the demands of the law.

The law further provides that if a person who has made a timber culture entry and after four years faithful compliance with the law as to cultivation and tree planting, fails to have the number of trees required by law, may commute the same and make final proof thereon by the payment of $1.25. The law is too long to be published in full in our columns, but a copy of the law can be seen by calling at THE JOURNAL office.

Copp's Settler's Guide, Revised.
Henry N. Copp, the Washington (D.
C.) land lawyer, has revised and reprinted his Settler's Guide, the seventeenth edition. In view of the recent confounding legislation of Congress, this book is an indispensable assistant to all who are, or expect to be, interested in public land.

Settlers will save money by purchasing it, and all who expect to take up land at any time in the future should get posted and save expensive mistakes. A chapter illustrated with numerous cuts, shows how to tell township, section, and quarter-section corners and explains the system of surveys. It gives full information about the homestead, pre-emption, timber culture, desert land and other laws. The price of the book is 25 cents.
Address the author.

It will tell you who is entitled to enter land; how continuous your residence must be; what improvements you must make; what affidavits you must swear to; about contests and on what grounds they can be commenced; also suggestions about state lands, stone and timber lands, mineral lands, desert entries, saline, railroad, coal, townsite and other lands. Its purchase will save you money and trouble, as erroneous statements circulated by conversation among settlers may, if acted upon, cost you a contest, perhaps your land and improvements.
