THE OHIO CONVENTION.

Who Will be Governor?

CLEVELAND O., July 17.—James E. Campbell is renominated for governor and the anxiety of the party leaders is now directed to the absorbing query: "Will Hamilton county support the ticket?"

It is almost a proverb in the political lore of the state that "As Hamilton county goes in the autumnal elections, so goes the state of Ohio."

The president refusal of Neal, Governor Campbell's defeated opponent, to appear before the convention and to tell how he stands, even after a committee had been appointed to convey him the formal invitation, has contributed more than anything else to the feeling of anxiety which pervades the democratic hosts this evening.

The first contest in the convention arose over the report of the committee on credentials. The dispute in the Twenty-fifth ward of Cincinnati and the Hamilton county delegation was the subject of the wrangle.

"Sit down! You are not a delegate!" shouted one of the Hamilton county men.

"The chair decides that the secretary, as an officer of this convention, is entitled to be heard," said the chairman, and an appeal from the decision of the chair was ruled out of order.

Secretary Coogan made his statement amid many interruptions from the Hamilton county delegates and was replied to by the Judge Erman of Cincinnati.

James F. Neal moved the question, and the minority report of the credentials committee was then adopted.

NEW YORK, July 16.—The duke and duchess of Aury have apartments at the New York hotel. There was a big row in their rooms at 7 o'clock Sunday evening, loud conversation, feminine screams and masculine shouts.

This is the story told by the people at the hotel. The maid's version is that the duchess has an extraordinary passion for dogs. She is such an easy prey for any one who has a dog for sale that the maid was detailed by the head of the family to see Madame did not waste her substance upon worthless Fido and Carlos.

The duchess of Aury is the daughter of the late F. G. Lamar, who was president of the Bank of the Republic, and a cousin of Justice L. Q. C. Lamar, of the United States supreme court.

"There is not a particle of truth in the dog story. I am at liberty to buy as many dogs as I please. I have my own private fortune, which no one can control."

The duke, at the Manhattan athletic club last evening, corroborated his wife's story. His face had been scratched. The duke's lawyers told him to take no notice of the summons as it should have been served personally.
