HARRISON, - - NEBRASK

From the Aut -Foreign & ols SHANGHAI, Nov. IT. The special corres pondent of the United press has had an interview with Missionary Cockburn of the Scotch mission at Yohang, who has been among the sufferers by the recent anti-foreign riots at that place. Mr. Cockburn is a shrewd observer and a man of long experience among the Chinese. He says that he believes that the present trouble springs from hatred of foreigners as a race on the part of the Chinese, and not from any special prejudice against foreign religion. This view as to the motives for the outrage and murders is shared by the Rev. Mr. Dart of the American mission. There seems to be just now considerable apathy at Shanghai. Everybody is waiting to see what the foreign governments will do. To all appearances all except the French are unwilling to take any step that might bring an actual war. The French are aggressive, but in this respect they stand alone among the

The English are bent upon giving protection in every instance where it appears to be needed, so far as their forces in Chinese waters will permit, but they apparently have a stronger sense of Russian encroachments on the Pamier where China may prove a valuable ally, than of danger to British subjects in Chins. The Chinese authorities, under apprebension of punishment from the foreign fleets, are showing a little more diligence in the punishment of the insurgents that fall into their hands. Two more rebels have been beheaded at Ichang and a number of others have been subjected to the various tortures which the Chinese know so well how to apply.

The foreign colonies are also gratified by the news just communicated to the United Press correspondent that China had paid two idemnities, one of $10,000 for the outrages committed by the riotars at Wuhu and another of $20,000 to the relatives of the victims massacred at Wusih. This peace-bearing announcement is marred by the information that 15,000 rebels are in arms at Tehwei; that they have repeating rifles, and that they are particularly animated with hatred for foreigners.

The British consul said in an interview, that in his opinion, the present claim was deceptive; that the volcano was alumbering, but not extinct, and that a general outbreak would probably take place in the spring, to be followed sacres in the summer. The consul believes that light draught gun boats are urgently needed, so that the towns further removed from the coast can be visited and their foreign residente protected.

A Disastrous Fire.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 17 .- At 8 o'clock out in the business centre of this city. It originated in the Standard bottling works and soon spread to surrounding blocks on Frankfort street, between Bank and Water streets. The flames spread and attacked the large printing establishment of Short & Forman, a ive story block to the east of the structure, where the fire began, was reached by the flames. It was filled with a number of small manufacturing establishments and the grease and oil added fresh fuel to the blaze. It looked as though the entire corner was doomed and the greats in the Johnson house and Weddel house began to move out their effects. By good work the firemen succeeded in keeping the fire within its original bounds, and it was extinguished after three blocks had been gutted.

When the fire first began the men of engine company No. 1 were ordered into the burning block. Without any warning an upper story suddenly fell in and Captain John Grady was cut off from his comrades and burned to death almost before their eyes. Fireman falling walls.

SIXTY-FOUR ARRESTS.

The Various Methods in Vogne to Defraud the Government.

Has Done Good Work in Checking

Smuggling HIS OCCUPATION WILL BE DONE.

WASHIGTON, Nov. 21 -A. K. Tingle, supervising special agent of the treesury department, in his annual report to the secretary of the treasury, makes the folowing report of the work of his office:

Number of suits commenced, fiftyeight; number of seizures, 1.036; number of arrests for smuggling, sixty-four; velue of seizures, $143,23617; amount recovered on account of seizures, fines, penalties and duties, $225,000.75; reduction in expenses, $321,030.25; amount expended for salaries and traveling expenses of special agents, $83,012.54.

Mr. Tingle mentions the various methods in vogue to defraud the government by undervaluation, many of the cases being exposed by special agents ject of opium smuggling he says: "One of the serious questions confronting the department in the exercise of its function of collecting the revenues is the great difficulty under political conditions of enforcing the laws against smugglers who make the Dominion of Canada the base of their operations. Until within the past few years the line from the lakes to the Pacific ocean needed but little watching, as the international boundary line ran through a region some hundreds of miles in width, practically, uninhabited, now all this is changed. Railways running parallel on both sides of the boundry line intersected by other railways cross ing the line have brought with them population and constant communication between the two countries. There are but four collection districts upon the northern frontier between the Lake of the woods and the Pacific ocean, a distance of about 11.000 miles, each district embracing a large territory. The number of officers for preventive duty upon this long line of frontier does not exceed twenty, and the present customs appropriation will not admit of any material increase of this force. Although these officers are active and vigilant, making frequent captures of smuggled goods, chiefly opium, it is apparent that their efforts to prevent smuggling are in a large degree futile. A similar condition of affairs exists upon the long boundry line between the United States and Mexico. The district of Puget sound, comprising many islands within a few miles of British territory and a long line of water front, furnishes faci ities for smuggling and the clandestine introduction of Chinese, against which he ending officers have vainly contended. The revenue steamer on that station, under its present energetic commander, has done good work in checking smaggling, but this vessel is unfit on account of her size and want of speed to render an efficient service. It is believed that it will be necessary to employ a number of speedy steam launches to patrol the waters of Puget sound in order to break up this illict traffic. I am reliably informed that during the last year 125,000 pounds of crude opium were imported and manufactured at Victoria, making about 70,000 pounds of the prepared article for smoking purposes and nearly every pound of it was s.nuggled into the United States. It is more profitable to take the risk of an occasional capture and confiscation than to pay the enormous duty of $12 per pound which is prohibitive of legitmate importations and is the essential basis of the smuggler's profit. Reduce the duty to #4 per pound and his occupation will be done.

More Satisfactory. Paris, Nov. 21.-A semi-official dispatch received here from Shanghai states that the situation arising from the recent action of the Chinese in attacking and threatening foreigners in Howley was crushed into eternity by Hunan is more satisfactory, owing to the energetic action of the representatives of the foreign powers. The chief of Kalao Hui, a secret society, was recently arrested in Shanghai. His right band man, Chen Kin Lung, shortly afterward was arrested at Soo Chow. Chen Kin Lung was subjected to torture, but would confess nothing. However, papers found upon him gave the Chinese authorities a clue to the perpetrators of the attacks, Numerous arrests have been made, and it is said the government has greatly increased the severity of its messures against criminals of this class and seems determined to exert all its power to protect foreigners.

The First Accident.

COLORADO SPRINGE, Col., Nov. 21-The first socident of any kind that has ever occurred on the Pike's Peak road since it has been in operation occurred Thursday. About 3 o'clock in the afternoon while unloading a flat car on the heavy grade the car was started and sollided with an engine a few feet below. Brakeman W. H. Tucker was thrown against the engine, knocking off a steam cook and letting the steam out upon him. He was so badly scalded that he died yesterday morning.

The Suffering and Death of P. W. Nally London, Nov. 20 .- The story of the suffering and death of P. W. Nally, the Irish patriot, has created a sensation hardly inferior to that caused by the Pigett revelations. On all sides are heard bitter denunciations of the government for permitting such brutality. and it is believed in liberal and feared 'n tory circles that Mr. Balfour's position as leader will be greatly weakened at the opening of parliament by this new evidence of prison abuses under his administration and possibly with his consent. Nally's friends charge that it was the intention of the government authorties that he should not live out his term in prison and that the officials in whose custody he was understood this. They did not want the story of the attempt to secure him as a witness for the Times to reach the house and be was gradually done to death with that object. The smuggled letter, telling the very story that they dreaded and emphasized by Nall, 's death, has come upon them with crushing force, because it was unexpected. They had hoped the secret would die with Nally. The and the offenders arrested. On the sub- story of Nally's imprisonment and death with the Times episode are to be printed for extensive use in the general election. Every English and Scotch, as well as every Irish voter, will have an opportunity to read it.

> A Terrible Story. WEST SUPERIOR, Wis., Nov. 20,-C. B. Gear arrived in the city looking for relatives of James McBride, who lies s critical condition at his home on claim adjacent to Grand Rapids. Minn. Gear says that a few weeks ago a party made up of men named Hahn, Redding. Bruce, McBride and two unknown nen. started on a hunting trip to the Rainy Lake country. Last Friday McBride came to his cabin with his feet bare, left arm broken and hands and feet frost bitten and in a delinous condition. In his lucid moments the following story was gleaned. After the party had been out several days Redding, who furnshed the supplies, cut off the whisky rations. This enraged Hahn and his friends and they tied Redding and Mc Bride in trees. Afterward McBride was leased and driven from camp without even a blanket.

McBride hung around out of reach of the men, who became wildly drunk. Next day he returned to camp and found Redding still tied so the tree. with his head blown off, and at his feet was Bruce, his body full of bullets. No trace of the others could be found. Mc-Bride managed to make his way back and is now being cared for.

Considerable Excitement. HONOLULU, Nov. 20.-There has be considerable excitement here the past wo weeks over the arrest and detention of the owners of the British yacht Bedle charged with smuggling a large amount of British money into port. About September 1 the yaciit, containing Messrs | the cause of the fire, but it is thought Bloom and Douglass, the owners, and to have originated in an unknown mana young man named Joseph Byrne ner in the packing room on the fourth there became tranquil and the political was placed in the dry dock for a thorough overhauling while the party rented a fine residence, furnished it handsome ly and entertained royally. Money was spent freely, all payments being made in English sovereigns. On the arrival of the steamship Australia from the colonies came a detective with a story of the robbery of a bank at Sidney of over 50,000 English sovereigns. The photographs he had tallied with the appearance of the people here. He went to San Francisco for the purpose, he said, of cabling to Sidney for further instructions, as there is no extradition treaty between Australia and Hawaii for such s crime. Several days before the return of the steamer the marshall notised the yachting party getting ready to leave. As he could not them any other way, they were arrested on a charge of smuggling in money. The detective did not come on the steamer, however, nor send any testimony, and as the officers could not find the money in the yacht, the charge had to be dismissed and the mysterious party sailed away.

She Married Him

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 20.-8n un usual and interesting ceremony was that which made J. Hubbard Marr and Miss Willie Baker man and wife. Marr was arrested charged with the betrayal of Miss Baker at McPherson, Kas., and was lodged in sail in Kansas City, Kan. Marr intimated his willingness to atone for the crime, by marrying the girl who consented. The prosecuting attorney however would not allow the usual ceremony to be performed ane the sheriff being under the latter's orders would not permit a minister or justice of the peace to enter the jail. Marr's attorney then performed a common law marriage, the bride and groom clasping hands through the bars of the prison cell and several other prisoners acting as witnesses. Later a marriage by proxy was performed before a justice of the peace, one of Marr's friends acting as the groom.
