To Subscribers.

THE JOURNAL is now more than three years old and has never urged its sub-Turner's. scribers to settle, owing to the hard to contend, but now with the good crops of and general prosperity of the people, it is but justice to ask those who are indebted on subscription or other accounts to call and settle. It is a small amount to each individual but in the aggregate amounts to hundreds of dollars, and as we have shared the hard-hips of the past with you, we desire to share the prosperity of the present with you also. If you cannot settle in full, pay a part of it as it will all help us meet our bills and run-will bring a prompt response. THE PUBLISHER.

Babcock to appear and give evidence before the U.S. grand jury at Omaha. Judge A. W. Crites was also on the list. It is not known what is being investigated, but it is surmised that it is something connected with the famous Crites letter

Last Tuesday was the fifth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Griswold and some of their friends planned a surprise for them. A party large enough to pretty well fill the Griswold residence swooped down upon them unsuspectedly and proceeded to run things to suit themselves and a very pleasant time was had and at a late hour the party broke up wishing Mr. and Mrs. Griswold many happy returns of the aninversary and leaving a token of regard to commemorate the occasion.

-The sample sugar beets sent by W. C. O'Connor for analysis yielded 14.2, 15.1 and 16.9 per cent of sugar. The yield per acre was twenty-two tons. At the rate at which the factories are now contracting the beets would be worth $4.50 per ton at the factory, so that an acre would bring $99.00. The small cost necessarally expended to grow the beets in this locality would leave a nice profit on the crop. One thing has been pretty well demonstated in the experiments made here with sugar beets and that is thingles constantly on hand at my that it is highly important that the ground be thoroughly subdued and cultiyield a large per cent of sugar. There are three contests for judgeships grown out of the late election, but the most important one will without doubt be that of Judge F. G. Hamer against Silas A. Holcomb. The contestant changes illegal arrangement of election booths, failure of the judges of election cause, the permitting of persons, other than members of the election board to board electioneering, etc. The case will be watched with a good deal of interest as many of the important points will be tests of the new law. If the court holds his charges true the members of boards of election who were guilty of illegal acts should be prosecuted. It is right and proper that an example should made of such men in order that other unscrupulous tricksters may understand that they cannot violate the law with impunity.
