The local statistician is at work again and figures that the wheat shipment up to this time from Dawes and Sheridan counties has netted the railroad company about one-bair in freights that the total stock shipment of the season did. This is estimating that the company made $500,000 in stock freights, and has already received nearly $250,000 for wheat shipment. Of course this does not include the wheat bought and used by the various flour mills in the two counties. -Chadron Journal.

In view of the position taken by Rose water and his Bee toward Gov. Thayer in the matter of the contest against alien-Boyd, the demand of the Bee that Gov. Thayer let his meat ax detach the official head of State Oil Inspector Cases comes with rather poor grace. So long as Rose water believed he could control the actions of Gov. Thayer all was well, but when the chief executive demonstrated that he had a mind of his own and would not allow himself to be dictated to, the Bee at once proceeded to jump on his neck, but it availed naught.

It is becoming pretty well demor strated that the Keeley cure is a good thing. A club of ex-Keeley patients has been organized at Omaha with Pat. O. The Mississippi outlaw, Bob Sims, and three of his followers were captured a few days ago, the sheriff having proported that W. H. Westover is taking cord with the resolution adopted at the the treatment. The treatment appears to afford an avenue of escape for those who desire to leave off drinking and have not the will-power to overcome the craving for drink.

> invariably have a hard time for the first few years, but a case of real suffering from want is scarcely ever found in the frontier districts or, in fact, in any of the rural districts. In contrast to this, look for a moment at the condition of hundreds of thousands in the large towns and cities all over the nation. It is not simply an isolated case here and there, but house after house is found where poor, miserable, half-clad and starving people can be found every winter. During the summer they are able to eke out an existence because some work can be obtained and the cost of living is less but when the cold blasts of winter come, their systems, weakened by exposure and lack of proper clothing and food rapidly yield to the severity of the weather and they fall prostrate, with every means of suppost vanished and their neighbors, being equally as destitute, are unable to assist them and they are thrown upon the charity of a cold

The plan of establishing factories for the manufacturing of sugur and have a large relinery located at a convenient place appears to be gaining ground and is likely to be the plan adopted in the pear future in the sugar industry in Ne-braska. Under that system factories would cost a great deal less and could be located at more places which would save hauling or transporting the bulky beets. The cost of transporting the raw sugar would be a small item, comparatively, and the refining could be done more cord with the resolution adopted at the the cultivation of beets.

A young man appeared at the Vanderbilt residence in New York a few even ings since while a party was in progress and demanded the brains of the great financier for analysis in order to find why it was that Vanderbilt could accumulate a vast amount of wealth while the man making the request could not make a living. He was promptly put in charge of an officer and will likely find his way to an insune asylum. A good many people who are not unbalanced, mentally, uo doubt, would like to know what the difference is in the brains of men and their ability to prosper and accumulate wealth, but it would take more than an analysis of the brains of different men to Sioux County Lumber Co. settle the point.
