G. Guthrie shipped another car load of wheat Tuesday.

Work has begun on the addition to the business building of H. A. Cunningham. J. H. Bartell is doing the work.

The relative of E. P. Maine who was last fall and filed on a piece of land a few miles north, is expected in a few days with his family to make his home in Sioux county.

It is reported that other parties are expected here about the 1st of March to look over the field with a view to putting in a mill. It is evident that the fine quality of wheat raised in Sioux county is becoming known in milling circles and they are going to investigate. People may rest assured that they can their milling done at Harrison by the time this season's crop is ready to be ground.

Last Thursday I. Mulkins, accompanied by his wife and three children, arrived to make his home in Sioux county. Mrs. Mulkins is a daughter of Geo. Slack, who has a claim a few miles southeast of town. The new arrival will soon file on a quarter section of Uncle Sam's land.

Although there has been a good deal of wheat shipped from Harrison it is evident that it is not all gone. On last Saturday our grain buyer, G. Guthrie, bought five hundred and fifty bushels of wheat. It is estimated that about seven car loads of wheat yet remain in this vicinity to be shipped out.

It is reported that a passenger train is to be put on this line on April 1st. It is to be hoped that the rumor will prove true. Better train service would be appreciated by the people along the line, but it cannot be expected until there is more business and the best way to bring that about is for every one to work to get more people here.

Nels Engbret informs us that four new houses will be erected on the table near his place east of town, on claims which have lately been taken. Just tell your friends to watch the gait Sioux county strikes in the line of settlement this season and they will see that if they want to get a quarter section of government land they will have to get a move on them.

Letters are being received daily by our people from eastern parties who are looking for a location. From the present outlook the population of Sioux county will be more than doubled within the next twelve months. The advertising that has been done in the past year or so will result in a great deal of good to the county. All that is necessary is to keep it up and it will not be long until every claim in Sioux county will be a valuable farm.

County Treasurer Gayhart arrived Tuesday after an absence of five weeks. He went to Lincoln to make his annual settlement with the state treasurer and from there he went to Omaha to visit his son, John, and while there he received word of the serious illness of his mother in Wisconsin. He went at once to the home of his mother who lingered for five days after his arrival and then died at the ripe age of 84 years. The disease which caused her death was the gripple. Mr. Gayhart states that a great many people have died of that disease in that locality. He further states that times are very dull there. Last year that part of the country was drought-stricken and prairie hay is selling for $16 per ton, and other kinds of feed in proportion and it has to be shipped in from long distances. It would be a good plan for some of the people there to come to Sioux county.

A report from the Chadron sugar beet convention has been received. It was expected that a representative of the Norfolk factory would be present, but by some means he did not get the date right and did not get to Chadron until Monday. He talked business on his arrival and stated that seed would be furnished at 10 cents per pound and that implements would be furnished $1 per acre if 500 acres would be put in. He guaranteed the freight rate from Chadron to Norfolk would not exceed 80 cents per ton, and the committee feel confident that a rate from Harrison of not more $1 per ton could be obtained. The Norfolk man further stated that if 500 acres of beets are raised at Chadron this season and prove satisfactory, and a guarantee of 5,000 acres for next year made a factory will be secured next year without question. Now the question is for our farmers to decide whether or not they want to raise beets this year and ship them to Norfolk. THE JOURNAL would like very much to see at least a few acres put in and the product shipped to the factory. It might not pay very big, but it would without doubt pay good wages for all the time spent in the work and the result would be a guide for future work in that line. The local committee will be glad to do anything they can to assist the farmers in arranging the matter. A circular showing the machinery can be seen at this office and action has been taken to find out still more in the matter.

All Around About.

Joe Konrath has traded off his "mashed" team.

Henry Priestoff has been breaking fiery steeds the past week.

Mrs. J. E. Hollingsworth is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Lockwood this week.

Mrs. Kays, J. Thom's nephew took his departure Monday in search of work.

C. B. Hollingsworth made a trip to Harrison Saturday.

M. D. Jordan went to town on Saturday returning Monday.

Miss Lou Woody came home from Chadron Saturday on account of sickness. The gripple has a pretty firm hold upon her, and the doctor said it would be some time before she would get rid of it.

Ferdinand Hittner went to Crawford to mill Thursday, returning Sunday. When the roads are so bad, the people in these parts wish the talked of mill at Bodare was in a tangible form.

Theodore Pickenbrock received a carload of lumber from the hills and it was unloaded at Ardmore. He and his brother are going to use the same to build a school house on Long Branch.

A. W. Mohr had the misfortune to lose a valuable two-year-old colt this week. It reared and fell, striking its head so hard as to cause death. We suppose it was a clear case of suicide. The prospects of work was too much for it.

Jacob Henry's two daughters, Misses Katie and Annie, have been spending a few weeks at home, but departed last Monday, Miss Katie for Dudley, and Miss Annie to the Fort.

D. W. Woody, in going to town Saturday, was so unfortunate as to have his team fall on the buggy tongue and break it. So he "climbed a tree" and cut it down with his jack-knife, and with the aid of hangers and spare lines he "repaired the breach" and made the trip in safety.

Monday noon, Peter Henry received the sad intelligence that his son, John, had been killed that morning at 6 o'clock at the mines in Wyoming. No particulars in regard to the accident further than that it was done in blasting, whether coal or rock is not yet known. Mr. Henry went at once to Ardmore to telegraph for the body. The sorrow-stricken family have the sympathy of the community in their sad affliction.

Cottonwood Items.

Farmers are preparing for Spring work. The ice harvest is over.

Foster Speas lost a valuable horse last week.

Chas. Grove is building an addition to his house.

The protracted meeting has closed with a roll of 20 converts.

Last Saturday evening was the last meeting of the Unionville literary society for the season. The society will meet again on the first evening in November.

A Christian endeavor society has been organized with a membership of twenty-two and will meet at the church every Sunday immediately after Sunday school closes.

A few days ago a watch and revolver were taken from D. A. Publow's house during his absence and on last Sunday evening someone relieved Chas. Grove's corn crib of a part of its contents. It is time a halt was called on such work.

MHI Prospects.

The prospects for a mill at Harrison are again bright. During the past week C. E. Boyd has been looking over this locality and the advantages offered for a milling enterprise. He is a practical miller of twenty years experience and he knows what is needed to make a mill a success. He saw a number of samples of wheat grown here and pronounced it the finest milling quality he had found. The test is higher, the bran thinner and condition better than that found in any other portion of the state. Mr. Boyd represents capital sufficient to build and operate a mill and is not looking for a bonus, but for a place where wheat of good quality can be grown, with an opportunity of finding a market for the flour. Here he found those conditions and also the cheapness of stone and lumber for building purposes and the cheapness of fuel, both wood and coal are items of importance and cannot be had at any other point where he has been prospecting.

The result is that Mr. Boyd returned to the east the first of the week to report to his business associates and he stated that his report would be very favorable in regard to Harrison and in ten days or two weeks a decision would be reached and if it is decided to build here work will soon be commenced.

The mill will be what is known as the long roller process of seventy-five barrels daily capacity and an elevator in connection so that all the farmers raise can be taken care of. The parties are looking for a permanent location, and will not build simply for a speculation but by getting good wheat, such as is grown in Sioux county and using the best machinery they will produce a quality of flour which can be put on the market and compete successfully with the product of any mill in the country.

In view of the prospects for a mill the farmers should get in readiness so that in case it is built they can put in a few more acres of wheat than they had first expected, and it will all help to make the county prosperous.

Some dissatisfaction is reported in school district No. 19 over the removal of the school house, as it is claimed that it is far from the centre of the district and not on a public road and can be reached by some of the pupils only by travelling a long distance out of their way. The legality of the removal will likely come before the county superintendent, who will without doubt, see that all parties have justice. Such matters are always unpleasant in a neighborhood and frequently a good deal of bitterness arises from the location of the district school house, but if the action is taken legally there is nothing for the disappointed ones to do but to submit.
