ABSOLUTELY PURE

Clothing.
It is another term... effort should be made... particularly in this end of the skin... warm by being with flannels. In for the changing climate, it is of flannels the weight and light adapted respectively and fall, and sum- weakening to be deck flannel on a frequently seen in to suffer from after how hot the is not proper to in contact with the exclusion of a very ble to and feet— in Babyhood.

Looking for Situations.
One of the Melbourne newspapers say that awhile ago a woman there advertised for two housemaids. The same day two stylishly dressed young women were shown into her drawing room, and were treated as callers until they remarked that they had come in answer to the advertisement. They explained that their father had recently lost his property, and consequently they found it necessary to take situations. When asked if they could wait at table, they replied "Well yes, we can wait, but would rather not, as we might meet a lot of friends."

The Only One Ever Printed. Can You Find the Worst?
There is a three-inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words alike, except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from the Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "reward" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, BEAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS or SAMPLES FREE.

How Patti Keeps Young.
Charm of manner and youthful grace are Patti's chiefest attraction, but she frankly owns her forty-nine years and as frankly disclaims the possession of any secret of eternal youth. Her explanation is, "I keep my temper and stick to regular hours." And she emphatically counsels: "Never lose your temper. No woman can keep young who often loses her temper. When I feel that my temper is getting the better of me I always get up and leave the room."

Her Patriotism Rewarded.
Miss Emma Conner, the school teacher of Clark township, Montgomery county, Ind., who came into prominence some weeks ago in her efforts to keep the national colors, flying over the school house in her charge, has been presented with a handsome gold badge, valued at $150 dollars by the Patriotic Sons of America of Leadville, Colo. and is set with a diamond.

Her First Pair of Shoes.
Mrs. E. N. Kinnebrew still has the first pair of shoes that she ever wore. They were made by some of the Indians that were carried away from this state in 1838, and were presented to Mrs. Kinnebrew in that year. She was then about one year old. They are made of buckskin tanned by the Indians. They are a curiosity. The sole and upper are alike. Mrs. Kinnebrew prizes them very much.—Eiberton (Ga.) Star.

Women Voters in Illinois.
School elections were held throughout Illinois on Saturday, and for the first time women exercised the right of suffrage. They turned out in large numbers, and in nearly every instance secured the election of their favorite candidates. In several towns a woman's ticket was in the field against the men's ticket, and in every case the women were victorious.—Chicago Letter.

Dressmaking in Public Schools.
The committee on industrial school has recommended that a kitchen be opened in a south side school and fitted up for September, 1892, and that the high school committee, in conjunction with Miss Ralston and Principal Wood, take into consideration a system of dress-cutting and fitting for the high and normal schools.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

To Cover Defects.
An interesting suggestion is that the sale of mantles, jackets, cloaks, shawls and wraps has been large, and as the long cloaks and mantles now worn cover up a multitude of defects in the dress, beneath, the latter have been made to do extended service.

Blood travels from the heart through the arteries ordinarily at the rate of about twelve inches per second; its speed through the capillaries is at the rate of three one-hundredths of an inch per second.

When the summer palace at Peking was sacked a head of Buddha, carved from a magnificent ruby, fell to the Duke of Brunswick as his share of the spoils. After his death it sold for $30,000.

For those who must necessarily be under mental and physical strain, a day of absolute rest and from thought is or work the very best medicine.

Where Dentists Get Rich.

Says an American dentist who is practicing in Mexico. "I am getting rich, and any good American dentist who will come here and stay can do likewise. I made $1,000 the first year, and I have done considerably better right along since that time. I can charge bigger prices. I get from $100 to $150 for a full set of teeth on rubber. The same thing in the states costs you fifteen dollars. Whenever I administer gas I charge ten dollars for the pulling of a tooth, and when a number are pulled I charge ten dollars for the first tooth and five dollars for all succeeding ones. For jerking out a tooth without gas I charge two dollars, and in the United States you would only get fifty cents for this work. As to fillings, they range from five dollars upward, and gold fillings cost from fifteen dollars up into the hundreds, according to the size of the cavity and to the size of the bank account of the man who has his teeth filled. I always get $50 for making a set of teeth on gold, and all other business is done at proportionate rates. I know of many dentists who are making more than I and I know of a number who charge more than I do. I often make $1,000 a month, but dentists in the City of Mexico make more, and I know a man there who gets fifty dollars a tooth for any kind of filling, and who came to Mexico from South America, where he made $40,000 in a single year."—Exchange.

A Black Cat in a Courtroom.

Toward the closed of the trial of M. F. Kerr, of Crawfordsville, Ind., for forgery, an incident occurred which, while amusing, demonstrated that the average American still believes in the efficacy of "signs." During a lull in the proceedings a strange black cat, with fierce, glaring eyes appeared in the doorway, causing a solemn silence to fall over the assembly. It paused, looked about, and slowly swishing its tail to and fro advanced toward the space between the prisoner and the jury's box. The silence became oppressive, and the judge, lawyers, jurors and prisoner craned their necks and open mouths gazed at the creature.

Indian Meal is Healthy.
A famous doctor says: Eat a good bowl of mush and milk for your breakfast, and you will not need any medicine. Indian corn contains a large amount of nitrogen has qualities anticonstipating and is easily assimilated. It is cheap and great nutritive properties. A course of Indian meal in the shape of Johnny cake, hoe cake, corn or pan bread and mush, relieved by copious draughts of pure cow's milk, to which if inclined to dyspepsia, a little lime water may be added will make a life now a burden well worth the living and you need no other treatment to correct your nervousness, brighten your vision and give you sweet and peaceful sleep.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Celebrated Dwarf.
Early in the last century a brother and sister attracted great attention for smallness of stature. They were of Polish birth, and were people of great accomplishments and elegant manners. When the brother Count Berowlaski was one year old he measured fourteen inches in height. Five years after he had gained but three inches but at the age of 20 he had reached to thirty-three inches and at 40 the measurement was six inches more, and then the growth ceased.

A Process for Making Tin.
Heretofore it has been impossible to get lead to adhere to iron without the aid of tin. This can now be done by the following means: First pickle the plates in a bath to remove the scale a weak electric current being sent through the bath. Remove the plates to a bath or lime water and thence to one of fresh water. From this place then in a bath consisting of a neutral solution of zinc and stannic chlorides, thence to a drying chamber heated by steam. When dry place them in a bath of molten lead 98 1/2 per cent pure.—New York Times.

Whist in Washington.
Whist is all the rage in Washington this winter. It is fashionable not simply to play whist, but to play it scientifically, or at least to think you do. Mrs. Harrison and her daughter are learning a large number of senators and representatives' wives are enthusiastic in the game, and a bright little woman from Boston, a Miss Clapp, is making hay while the sun shines. She is a professional teacher of whist according to Cavendish. Her charges are two dollars a lesson, and she teaches four persons in a class. That makes eight dollars per lesson. But she gives three and sometimes four lessons per day, and Miss Clapp's income from whist is at the rate of $150 per week.

Whitened Cape Diamonds.
It is stated that artificially colored diamonds have been sold lately in Belgium. A French chemist finds out that on being dipped in a weak aniline solution the diamonds lost their yellowish tinge, and appear as pure white as the Indian or Brazilian stone. The aniline can neither be seen by magnifying glass nor rubbed off with a chamois leather; so M. Guillot thinks that the dye must lodge in the sharp angle of the facet which remains unpolished, and so affect the light as it falls on the flat surface. A bath of nitric acid will show the fraud, or a little alcohol, which M. Guillot recommends diamond merchants to use for testing.

Fireproof and timeproof books, with leaves and covers of sheets of asbestos and printing in gold and silver letters, have been suggested.

It is estimated that not far from 30,000 persons sleep in rented rooms in Boston lodging houses. Most of these are young men and women from the country, a considerable proportion of whom are bravely struggling to live respectively on very small salaries.

The Imperial university, at Tokio, Japan, is probably the largest in the world, having an enrollment of 2,000 scholars and a faculty of forty members. It is under government control.

Mrs. William H. Crane has been the treasurer of her husband's theatrical company for more than ten years and handles between $40,000 and $60,000 per month.

She Had All Her Buttons.

Loving Wife—George, dear; what are those round pieces of ivory that I picked up on the floor this morning? They fell from your coat.

Embarrassed Husband—Why, my dear they are buttons I bought for your winter cloak. When I reached home I discovered that they had no holes with which to sew them on and I thought I'd take them back to-night and change them.

Loving Wife (inquisitively)—I should think that you would have noticed that they were not on a card.

Embarrassed Husband—I had some others that were on a card, but I lost them.

Loving Wife—You had better take these back to-night and put them on a card. If you win those that you lost last night just bring me home a cloak. Never mind the buttons. I've got all my buttons.

Danger In Too Much Food.

Very often the effort required in taking care of more food than is necessary overtaxes the whole system. A smaller quantity of nourishing food which could be readily digested and assimilated would give an increase of flesh and more symmetrical roundness to the whole body. An abnormal amount of flesh above one's average weight is an indication of ill health and it may be accompanied by extreme weakness and inability to work or exercise.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Where Fine Pearls Come From.

The finest white pearls are from India the Persian gulf and Panama; the finest black and gray pearls from the coast of Lower California. Beautiful pink and red pearls are often secreted by the common creek mussels. One valued at over $2,000 was found near Paterson, N. J. in 1856, and quite a number have been met with in Ohio, Tennessee, Kentucky and Texas, and also in England, Scotland and Germany.—Tacoma Leader.
