THURSDAY, APRIL 13, 1893.

In hunting for people whom they might impeach ex-Auditor Benton and ex-Attorney General Lease were added to the list, making six who will be called before the supreme court to give an account of their stewardship.

It is reported that the wheat in Illinois and Indiana has so badly winter killed that not more than half a crop can be harvested. Much the same report comes from parts of Iowa and Missouri and southeastern Nebraska. The winter wheat in northwest Nebraska is reported as being in excellent condition.

A resolution of thanks to the presiding officer was introduced just before the adjournment of the senate and the only vote raised against it was that of Stewart. Thus did he make a record. He will be remembered as the most bigoted, narrow minded being that ever drew his salary as a member of the senate of the state of Nebraska.

The consulate of the United States in Peru was attacked and sacked a few days ago and Secretary of State Gresham has ordered the representatives of this government to demand expression of regret, prompt prosecution or the guilty parties and reparation for injury done to American property of persons. In case the demand is refused Uncle Sam may be called on to put on his fighting harness.

It is stated that the new treaty submitted by Russia for ratification by this government contains a clause providing for the extradition of persons guilty of political crimes. Such a proposition should be promptly rejected. There is no such thing as a political crime known in the United States and none should be recognized in any foreign country.

The report of the secretary of the state board of agriculture of Kansas shows the winter wheat crop there to be in poor condition, in some counties as high as 70 per cent having been winter killed. The ground is also in poor condition in most parts of that state, owing to lack of rain last fall. The indications are that as a rule the wheat crop of 1893 will be light.

At the recent election of members of the board of education at Chadron the ladies took a lively interest and the result showed that two hundred and twenty ladies availed themselves of the right and expressed their choice of the candidates in the field. The reports are that the lady workers were quite as active as men in their efforts and drove carriages to the most remote part of the district to bring in voters. It seems that the ladies are working by easy stages toward a point where they will enjoy the full right of suffrage and by the time it is reached they will be full-fledged politicians.

Millions for impeachment, but not a cent to encourage the farmers to raise sugar beets. This legislature is making a record which posterity will look back upon with a sad heart. It is not imbued with a desire to do good; it is not patriotically enthusiastic for the real welfare of the state; it is not standing up for Nebraska as it should do. Punish evil doers, gentlemen, to the full extent of the law; purge the Augean barns of all uncleanliness; send bribers to jail and oust vengeful vipers from their perches in the official henery, but don't neglect the legislation promised upon the stump and in the fence corner. The time is short, the plow is rusting in the back lot, the seed is rotting in the crib and the Holstein calf is bawling for milk. You haven't long to stay, and the work to be done should be put off no longer. Pray do something and go home.—Lincoln Journal.

That the impeachment proceedings were started in the first place simply for the purpose of placing a blot on the character of the republican officials was clearly demonstrated by the attempts of the great Senator Steuart of the northwest district, to shield ex-Attorney General Lease from being called on to account for some of his acts while in office. From the reports it appears that the ex-attorney general, who is now one of the leaders of the reform party, is charged with more rank offenses than any of the present incumbents, but still the reform members of the legislature tried to defeat the resolution to impeach him and Lease was as silent as the grave in regard to him. The action of the presiding reformers in this matter ought to disgust any honorable person. If the reformers are so guilty let them be impeached, but simply because he stepped in the political party after he had not all been expunged from the hands of the reformers is no reason why he should receive this treatment.

Final Proof Notices.
All persons having final proof notices in the various departments of the government and many think that the new administration is practicing economy. That is a mistake. Removals of republicans for cause simply gives the administration a chance to fill the place with a democrat. As the civil service rules apply to such cases the removals could not be made for political reasons, hence the method referred to above is resorted to.
