 The Sixth Year.

With this issue THE JOURNAL enters upon the sixth year of its existence. In the future as in the past it will use its best efforts for the advancement of the prosperity and welfare of the people. It believes that there is a bright future in store for the county but to reach it hardships incident to the development of a new country must be met and overcome.

The paper will advocate the best interests of the county regardless of any clique or ring and does not intend to knowingly support any man for office who is unworthy or unfit to fill the place to which he aspires or who would prove truant to the trusts which would devolve upon him.

The support given the paper in the past is appreciated and every effort will be made to merit a continuance of the same in the future.

Lauren Jones has established the Enterprise at Gordon. It is a neat, new five-column quarto and ought to be prosperous.

A second daughter arrived at the White House on last Saturday. Now the President ought to be able to pay more attention to the needs of the country.

The postmaster at Rosewater, Neb., committed suicide Saturday. It seems that his resignation would not be accepted by the department nor the name of the postoffice changed, and so the only thing he could consistently do was to suicide.—Fremont Tribune.

Rosewater is branding every one in the state who does not support his pet candidate for supreme judge as a tool of corporations and is slobbering all over the pops. He is evidently about ready to take his Bee and go over to that party.

How exceedingly popular Maxwell was with the pops. When his name was proposed in the state convention of that party it was greeted with hisses and when the vote was taken he received nineteen votes out of eight hundred and sixty-nine.

An expert was employed to go over the records of the school board of Crawford and found a discrepancy of $2,500 in the accounts of the treasurer. He at once put up the amount and interest at the same rate the district had been compelled to pay, so the taxpayers lose nothing.

It is stated by the Chadron Signal that a lot of property on the government reservation has not been assessed for some years which should have been taxed in Dawes county under the law. It may be that there is property on the reservation which should pay taxes in Sioux county. It would be well for the proper officials to look the matter up.

Senator Stewart is as mum as an oyster so far as an explanation of what the Fremont Tribune meant in these columns a few weeks ago. Does he think that because he fooled the people of this district into electing him that they are unable to catch onto his disreputable little games while at the legislature?

The pop state convention last week nominated Judge Sitas A. Holcomb of Broken Bow for supreme judge and A. A. Monroe, El. L. Heath and J. L. Brunsard for regents of the state university. There was a resolution passed that the nominee of the convention should consider himself pledged not to accept any transportation for himself or friends from any corporation or any other favor not granted to common people. The editor of the Bee was on hand to work up the boom for Maxwell, and his influence was shown when the vote was announced and it was found that that candidate had received nineteen votes. The convention re-affirms the Omaha platform and declares for free silver on a silver to one gold and a lot of other things discussed as is usual at the conventions of the world-leaving party. It was largely composed of office hunters and defeated candidates of the party. The nominee for judge has always been a democrat and it is safe to predict that should he be elected he would follow the example of Senator Allen and hang his hat in a democratic way and refuse that the pop would abuse.

The report came from Washington to the effect that the land districts of Alliance and Chadron are to be consolidated and the latter abolished. It is reported that it will make a great deal of extra trouble and expense to settlers in much of the territory, especially, in case of contests. It is hoped that the report will prove false.

It is a significant fact that neither Dawes nor Sioux counties were represented at the late state pop convention. For the past two years the two counties have been strongholds of that party, but the people have become aware of the fact that the leaders of that party are doing what they are for office, revenue or boodle and are dropping away from it. The people may be a little slow in catching onto the new schemes of the pop bunco-steerers, but they know what to do when they do get their eyes open.

The Omaha Bee in an editorial makes the following reference to populist lawyers: "Now, with possibly two or three exceptions, every Nebraska lawyer who professes to be a populist is an imposter, simply playing apostate to his old political faith to sell out the new party to the highest bidder. This is a very caustic charge, but it is the unvarnished truth. The average lawyer who talks loud against monopolies and bankers is a monumental fraud, either hired by corporations to work the populist racket or else waiting ready to do the bidding of the corporations for a price or a position on a railroad staff."

The last legislature was determined to reduce the appropriations no matter how much the public interests suffered. It has been found that no appropriation was made for procuring school record books and as a result each district will have to purchase its own supplies of that kind and the cost to the taxpayers will be considerable more. The trouble does not stop there for the reports will not be uniform and the work of the county and state superintendents will be greatly increased and the results unsatisfactory. It is another illustration of the penny wise and pound foolish policy of the pops.

The railroads seem to be determined to knock out as many of the laws passed by the last legislature as possible and have taken steps to check the operation of the transfer law. It seems that such a law is no more than right and just and a switch at every town where railroads cross would be of benefit to them as well as to the public. The last legislature in its fool economy made no appropriation to pay the expenses of the secretaries of the state board of transportation nor to carry out the provisions of the transfer switch law and as a result the state authorities are in very poor shape to look after the interests of the people where switches are asked for.

The reports of the state pop convention contain no mention of the great reform statesman from Sioux county. It would be impossible for him to have been there and not have shot off his mouth so as to get mentioned in the papers so it must be that he did not attend. He likely inquired and found that there would be no contests on which to vote and so no opportunity for him to make expenses and of course he would not ride on a pass and he decided to stay at home. That is the reason or else he knows that the party and the people in other parts of the state are onto him and his schemes and he did not want to be snubbed. All he can do now is to run the pop party in Sioux county, as he seems to have that under his thumb in pretty good shape.

Some of the papers in the east part of the state are calling on those in the west that have been urging the nomination of a western man for supreme judge to name the man. So far as this paper is concerned it is in favor of selecting a western man as the head of the republican ticket simply as a move in the interest of the party. There are a number of good men for the place and one could be selected by the convention who would be satisfactory to the west. It is not a good plan to have the members of the highest court bunched so close to the capital. There has never been a judge of the supreme court who has resided much over one hundred miles from Lincoln and most of them have been either residents of that city or some place close to it and it would be a good plan to scatter such things a little.

The grand rush for claims in the Cherokee strip will take place on Saturday at noon. The crowd is said to be greater than at the opening of any other reservation, and the disappointments will be more numerous as there is less to be had than is desirable. In addition to having to reside on their claims for five years in order to obtain title to the land the settlers will have to pay the government from $1.00 to $2.00 per acre for their land. It is singular that people will go wild over the opening of a strip of territory when there are still hundreds of thousands of acres of land equally as good and where the climate is much more desirable still to be had on homesteads. If any of those who will take part in the rush on Saturday, had come to Sioux county they would have done much better than they will when they have gone.

Some months ago when Ed. L. Heath took his Rushville Standard and went with it into the camp of the populists, he wondered what he was after. The report of the late pop state convention furnishes the explanation. Mr. Heath is put on the state ticket of that party as a candidate for regent of the state university. When a fellow flops into that party it is safe to bet that he does it for office or boodle. No active pop is in it simply for his health.

The United States senators are still talking about silver and doing nothing. The vote in the house has restored confidence enough so that business relations are slowly becoming better. Most of the banks which suspended at the time of the panic have resumed and many of the business houses which were forced to close have again opened their doors. Some of the factories have asked their employees to work at reduced wages until such time as it is decided by congress what is to be done in regard to the tariff question and by the hands agreeing to such proposition they are enabled to keep running. An early expression by congress as to what it will do on tariff legislation would do much to overcome the feeling of distrust which now exists among manufacturers.

Rosewater is making a terrible roar because every republican will not fall down and do his bidding in regard to the supreme judgeship. He attempts to make out that it is simply because Maxwell's opinion in the impeachment cases that the fight is being made against him. Rosewater is talking through his hat as usual. Judge Maxwell has been a member of the supreme court for twenty years. That certainly ought to satisfy any man. He should not be a hog and want all there is in the trough. Twenty years of service on the supreme bench should be enough so that a man would want to retire. The question of decisions or opinions rendered by him should not be taken into consideration in the case. Judge Maxwell has many admirers in the state who feel that he has done excellent service while on the bench, but who believe that a change would be for the best interests of the public. Judge Maxwell has grown old public office and should be willing to step aside and give some younger man a chance.
