Corrected every Thursday.

—John I. Davis has moved to his farm west of town.

—All kinds of wood work done at Priddy's blacksmith shop, opposite THE JOURNAL office.

—J. I. Davis and D. M. Sutton have taken a contract to put up hay at Van Tassel.

—For reliable, first class dental work of any kind, go to T. J. Gibson, Crawford, Nebraska.

—John Daut has gone into the sheep business and expects to have several hundred of the woolly coats in a short time.

—The attention of our readers is called to the very liberal campaign offer made by the Omaha Weekly Bee in the advertisement in another column.

—A train load of United States troops passed through here on Sunday on their way to Rawlins, Wyo., where they went to protect property from the striking railroad men.

—THE JOURNAL wants a correspondent in every settlement in the county who will send in the local news each week. If those who will act in that capacity will send us notice to that effect, we will send them stationery at once.

—The Junior League will give a concert interspersed with recitations and tableaux, at the church Wednesday evening July 18. Admission 10 cents, children free. GEO. WILLIAMS, Sec.

—STRAYED—From Andrews, Neb., five head of horses, branded either half-moon H or half-circle H. A liberal reward will be paid for their return or for information leading to their recovery. JAMES H. COOK, Royville, Neb.

—STRAYED—From the residence of the undersigned, near Glen, two dark bay mares, three years old, weight about 1,200 pounds, each, branded colt's foot. A liberal reward will be paid for information leading to their recovery. JAMES T. MASON, Glen, Neb.

—Don't wear out yourself and your mower sickles by using the old-fashioned grinding stone, but get a Cline sickle grinder of E. E. Livermore. He will be in Harrison each Monday and Saturday and will show you all about them. They will save more than they cost in one haying season.

—The fourth and last quarterly meeting for the present conference year will be held at Harrison August 18 and 19. A full attendance of the officials of the church is desired as matters of importance will come before quarterly conference.

—The indications are that a great many people will be in Harrison on Saturday to witness the game of ball which is to take place between the Montrose and Harrison clubs. Much sport is looked for by all as the teams are likely to be quite evenly matched.

—The county commissioners have again looked at the condition of the foundation of the court house and found that it must be fixed in some way to protect the building. The sooner it is fixed the less it will cost and it is hoped that prompt action will be taken.

—The reports are that the prospects for corn never were better in Sioux county than they are now and the small grain in the valley will do much better than was expected a short time ago. The rains have caused everything to come out very rapidly and the potato crop will be immense.

—Severe local storms seem to be quite frequent this season. On last Friday one visited the place of Geo. H. Turner and washed things out in great shape and scared the people very badly, and a short time ago a similar storm struck Agate Springs Stock Farm and accomplished about the same results. In both instances but a small amount of territory was covered.

—W. R. Smith is here from Chadron trying to get the people of this locality to contribute toward the bonus which Chadron is trying to raise to secure a beet sugar plant. So far as we have learned the people here would like to have a factory located at some point within reach and would be willing to contract to grow beet and ship to it, but they do not feel inclined to give land or money to help build up some other town. Mr. Smith says that Alliance has the bonus already raised and the plant will be located there if Chadron does not get so that the people of this locality will be able to ship to it in either event.

—A party was given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hester on Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Anna Price. Those present included Misses Louie and Claudia Hester, Gerlach, Kendall, Price, and Mesdames W. H. Davis and V. A. Hester, and Messrs. Blewett, Marsteller, Davis, Hester, Hough and Smith. A very pleasant time is reported by those who were present.

—There does not appear to be reason for complaint of lack of rain lately. The rain of the 4th put things in excellent condition and the one on Friday evening soaked the ground as deep as the water could penetrate. The latter was accompanied here by considerable wind but no damage was done except one of the chimneys of the court house was blown down, but it would not have occurred had not the brace been defective.

—Commissioners Weber and Tinkham started yesterday for the south part of the county to view and appraise the lands recently selected by the state as additional school lands. It is in a locality where there are no settlers and they will likely have a hard job to find the land they are looking for, but as it is at the expense of the state the people of the county have no kick to make. They went prepared to camp so that they do not have to depend on settlers.

—As a rule the people of the county take an interest in the school matters and the annual school meeting, but in some cases they fail to do so. In one district we learned of, but one man went to the school house on the day of the meeting. He was equal to the emergency and called the meeting to order, elected a full set of officers, voted a levy of twenty-five mills, decided on the number of months of school for the year and all other business necessary to be done at the annual meeting.

—On last Friday evening a party was given, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Simmons by Miss Minnie Smith, in honor of Miss Daisy Doane. The rain in the early part of the evening prevented some from being present and also interfered with the outdoor part of the program. Those present were Misses Doane, Price, Marsteller, Louie and Claudia Hester, Smith and Mrs. W. H. Davis, and Messrs. Davis, Marsteller, Churchill, Blewett, Hough and Smith. A very pleasant evening was spent, during which the young people were regaled with ice-cream and cake.

—In another column appears the announcement of the county superintendent of the sixth annual teachers institute. He is making arrangements to have the best institute ever held in the county. It was desired by many of the teachers that a three weeks session be held but the county board did not appropriate funds sufficient to allow that, some of the board wanted to make no appropriation whatever for institute but we are glad to know that the majority of the commissioners are better friends of education than to make such a record. The progressive teachers who attend institute in order to be better prepared to perform their duties in the school room will be pleased to know that Supt. Davis will not issue certificates to those who do not attend institute and then attempt to get a certificate on some flimsy trumped up excuse. Mr. Davis is an official who knows no pet and all who have the interests of the schools at heart will uphold him in his position.

Announcement.

To the Teachers of Sioux County: The sixth annual teachers institute will begin on August 20 and continue two weeks. The services of two excellent instructors have been secured, and it is the purpose to make this institute the most interesting and instructive of any yet held. In order to accomplish this it will necessitate the attendance of entire corps of teachers in the county.

While the superintendent fully understands and appreciates the difficulties with which the teachers have to contend, he feels that it is his duty and that it is just to those who do attend, that he refuse certificates to persons who do not attend institute for at least one week (which is required by law) unless a very reasonable excuse can be given.

Every effort to curtail expense to teachers will be made and the superintendent will endeavor to secure board and rooms for the teachers if they so desire. Very Respectfully W. H. DAVIS, Co. Supt.

The New Sectionalism.

So far as Populism stands at Washington, it is only right that it should be fairly reported. We are hearing much of a new sectionalism which is said to be arraying the West and Southwest against the East, to be instigated and propagated by the populist party. We have even heard threats of the secession from the Union of a portion of the United States unless certain legislation should be accomplished. From Kansas Colorado and other Western commonwealths have come to the Eastern press many extravagant reports of extreme political and social unrest, mingled with warnings calculated to alarm the timid Eastern mind and to deepen the conviction already existing among the untraveled residents on the Atlantic seaboard that the West is rabid and terrible, and that its views and sentiments must of necessity be treated with sharp suspicion. It is extremely unfortunate that this sectional spirit should have been so disagreeably awakened. The blame is perhaps to be about evenly divided. The East might well have ascertained that a few noisy and extreme men do not make up the West nor express its sentiments. The West, on the other hand, as represented by some of its chosen leaders, might well have spoken with more discrimination and sobriety regarding the moneyed classes of the East. The populists declare that their party is not a transient movement but that it has come to stay permanently and to prevail. The leaders of all the third-party movements that have preceded the populist party since the war have held the same view. They have declared that the old parties, one or both, were doomed to speedy disintegration and that the new party was destined to rise to a period of dominance, just as the republican party, seizing upon new issues, had made itself the party of progress and had at length triumphed in 1860. But the third-party movements of the past twenty-five years have all been transient, so far as the structure was concerned. That they have exercised a widespread and important leavening influence is not to be denied.—From "The Progress of the World," July Review of Reviews.

PATENTS FOR INVENTIONS

PROCURED BY THE Press Claims Company.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the Government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuations because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With a view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY has retained counsel expert in patent practice and is therefore prepared to OBTAIN PATENTS, CONDUCT INTERFERENCES, MAKE SPECIAL EXAMINATIONS, PROSECUTE REJECTED CASES, REGISTER TRADE-MARKS and COPYRIGHTS, RENDER OPINIONS as to SCOPE and VALIDITY of PATENTS, PROSECUTE and DEFEND INFRINGEMENT SUITS, ETC., ETC.

If you have an invention on hand send THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are not necessary unless the invention is of a complicated nature. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.
