Remember that THE JOURNAL office is headquarters for job printing.

The cool nights which we are having of late leads us to remark that we will take wood on subscription as in the past.

Don't forget when you gather in your fall crop of cash that the printer is entitled to his pay just as much as any other business man.

T. O. Williams informed us Tuesday that oats in the vicinity of Pleasant Ridge threshed out over forty bushels per acre. That is not bad for a high dry table.

The eclipse of the moon on last Friday evening was watched with a good deal of interest by the people here. The sky was cloudless and afforded an excellent opportunity for watching the phenomena.

A brother of N. D. Hamlin who arrived here from Iowa recently with a bunch of horses which he did not want to starve, was so well pleased with what he found here that he left the horses and went east to get his family and more stock and come here to live.

Some idea of how stock is selling in other parts of the state may be gained from the fact that the Holdridge Live Stock Co., sold over seventeen hundred head for three dollars twelve and a-half cents a head. Sioux county stock owners do not have to make such sacrifices.

A man living in Lincoln county wrote to a relative in the eastern part of the state that in the precinct in which he lived there were 41 votes cast last fall and this year there will only be five or six. That is about the way a good many localities have been deserted in the drought stricken districts.

Henry Covey dug some Early Ohio potatoes the last of the week, and after sorting out those not good for market had enough to show a yield of 192 bushels per acre. That is not bad for a dry year, and on a high table where no water can be had from any source but the clouds.

Now would be an excellent time for the farmers to prepare to construct some dams and reservoirs. It will cost nothing but work and if the water which has gone rushing down the ravines and doing no good in the past is held, and led out onto the meadow or farm land, good results may be obtained.

It has been suggested that the people of the town club together and have a dam and reservoir constructed so as to make a sample of work for others to see and also to prove what can be accomplished. There are places where such a plan could be carried out and enough be raised on the land in one season to pay for all expense. All that is needed is for some one to take the lead in the matter.

It would be a good plan for the people to organize some kind of a society by which entertainment and education could be furnished. The evenings are long enough now and there is no need to wait until cold weather to begin. The entertainment last Friday evening demonstrated that the people would appreciate anything of the kind.

The social given by the Epworth League at the court house on last Friday evening was one of the most interesting affairs of the kind that has occurred for some time. Every one seemed to be in good spirits and determined to have the best time possible. If it was so that a stage and curtain could be arranged many interesting features might be added to such gatherings.

Almost every day we learn of those who contemplate coming here to give their children advantage of the school. It is getting too late to herd the little ones on the range so some arrangement will have to be made to house them. It is a good thing for the town and the people should see that every thing possible is done to advance the school interests. The schools are the best possible chance of the people of a community.

Yesterday afternoon Pat Lavy, Frank Johnson and James Johnson, with their families, making thirteen in all, arrived here from Iowa and expect to settle in this vicinity. Another party was also expected to get here yesterday, as they were reported to have camped at Andrews Tuesday night. Others are expected from various points in the near future, most of them coming overland. Such things indicate that good government land will not be so plentiful after a few months.

Steps are being taken to have a mail route arranged so that the offices at Royville and Belle will be furnished from the Harrison office. They are both in Sioux county and are patronized by the people of this county and they desire to have as good connections with the county seat as possible. An office could be established in the Robinson neighborhood and be included in the same route and it will be an advantage to all. It would be the means of bringing some people to this place and would bring quite an amount of trade from the localities reached by the line which now goes to other towns. All such things are worth looking after if it is expected to build up the town.

SIOUX COUNTY GETS 5TH.

State Fair Exhibit a Winner.

$200.00 and 69 Subscriptions to the Nebraska Farmer.

13 Individual Premiums Awarded to Sioux County Products.

The results achieved at the state fair with the exhibit sent by Sioux county are very satisfactory to all concerned, and but for some oversights there is every reason to believe the much better score would have been made. There were twenty-two county exhibits from Nebraska and Kansas and in making the awards Sioux county got 5th premium of $200.00 and 69 subscriptions to the Nebraska Farmer for a year.

In addition to the above the following premiums were awarded to individuals on products from Sioux county:

- Full cream cheese, 1st premium, A. Knorr, Harrison.
Sweepstakes, farm dairy cheese, A. Knorr, Harrison.
Grand Sweepstakes, best cheese, A. Knorr, Harrison.
Field peas, 3d premium, Henry Covey, Harrison.
Sheaf white spring wheat, 3d premium, Henry Covey, Harrison.
Sheaf flax, 1st premium, Robert Wilson, Harrison.
Sheaf timothy, 1st premium, M. H. Green, Glen.
Late Irish potatoes, 3d premium, C. A. Puddy, Glen.
Mange wurtzels, 1st premium, Leopold LeBack, Bodare.
Cauliflower, 1st premium, Leopold LeBack, Bodare.
Cabbage, 3d premium, Leopold LeBack, Bodare.
Hops, 1st premium, C. A. Puddy, Glen.

Besides the above the first premium on cabbage was awarded to that furnished by Robert Harrison but which was swiped by James Crawford and entered in the name of a Crawford man, so that included, Sioux county captured seven first premiums, four second premiums, one sweepstakes and one grand sweepstakes, in addition to what was won by the county collective exhibit. That is a pretty good showing when it is considered that the past season was not a favorable one and that it was decided to make an exhibit but three weeks before the car was loaded.

It has been suggested that a meeting of the agricultural society be called in the future so that the reports may be made and the future course of the organization decided on.

The change in the rules of the railroad company in the matter of freight gave rise to the telegram "eat the exhibit." In former years the freight has been on the car from here to Lincoln before the car started and when the stuff was on exhibition a certificate from the secretary would be presented at the freight office and the money refunded and used by the committee for expense money. This year the stuff had to be returned to this place before any refund could be had so it left the committee short of funds so they wired for money. The telegram "eat the exhibit" was sent by County Clerk Blewett as a joke and a draft for enough to pay the expenses sent by mail. The episode has caused a large amount of merriment.

A daughter arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Hall on last Monday.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Commercial Bank was held on Tuesday. No changes were made in the officers or management.

Almost every day we are told of new people who are coming to Sioux county to locate. They have found out what they can get here and are coming to take advantage of it.

C. E. Coffee intends to ship about three hundred head of fat cattle to Omaha on Saturday. The stock owners of this country have the advantage of those in the east whose cattle are suffering for want of something to eat.

Rev. J. W. Kendall expects to leave today, accompanied by his family, for his new field of labor at Hemingford. During the year he has been here the church organization has become stronger and his friends wish him success in his future work.

Rev. J. W. Kendall returned from the annual conference on Monday and he has been busy since getting ready to move to Hemingford, where he will have charge for the ensuing year. Rev. Connell will look after the interests of the Methodist organization here. Mr. Kendall stated that the conference came near being an irrigation convention.

The bishop is a practical man and called the members of the conference up and made inquiry as to the condition of the various parts of the district and what, in their judgment, would do the most to develop northwest Nebraska. On the latter point the answer of each of the ministers was that irrigation would do more for the territory in question than any other one thing. From that it is safe to presume that every one of them will stick with it for some time.
