Supt. W. H. Davis and H. L. Fisher were in attendance at the Northwest Nebraska Teachers Association the latter part of the week.

John Herman was over from Story the first of the week. He is the proud possessor of a new fully which arrived at his home a few days ago.

Teachers Association Meeting.

The meeting of the Northwest Nebraska Educational Association at Crawford last Friday was a success in every particular. Fully sixty teachers from Sherman, Kearney, Box Butte and Sioux counties, of which the latter furnished thirteen, were in attendance, besides a goodly number of other people interested in our educational work.

Every detail of the program was carried out as advertised with but a single exception, and the ability with which each subject was handled and the spirit of the discussions were sufficient evidence to prove that the northwest frontier counties are equal in strength and general ability to any section of the state. Visitors well acquainted with the associations of the state were free to express their appreciation of the interest and efforts of the Sioux county teachers in taking advantage of these means of improvement, and trust that the next meeting of the Association will contain our entire corps.

The officers elected for the following year are, President, Prof. Snodgrass, of Rossville; Vice-President, Secretary, Miss Noeland, Hemmingford; Treasurer, W. H. Davis, Harrison.

W. H. DAVIS, Co. Supt.

A Liberal Offer.

The enterprise of the publishers of The Youth's Companion, Boston Mass., has steadily advanced the paper year by year, keeping it always in the front rank of the best periodicals. It fills today as no other publication the popular demand for a practical family paper, one that is equally valued and enjoyed by old and young, and free from all objectionable features.

The best writers of all lands are engaged to write for its columns. Among the famous contributors for the volume of 1895 are two daughters of Queen Victoria; Mr. Gladstone, the most eminent living statesman, who has for the third time written an article expressly for The Companion; Sir Edwin Arnold, W. Clark Russell, Charles Dickens, Frank R. Stockton, J. T. Crowbridge, Mark Twain, J. W. Burman, the famous locomotive engineer, and more than a hundred other writers who are known the world over.

The Companion appeals to all, whether in the home, in professional or business life, to the educator and laborer in every department of work. Its sound practical editorials deal frankly, fairly and concisely with the questions of the day. Every utterance may be accepted without reserve. Full prospectus and specimen copies sent free on application. New subscribers will receive The Companion free to 1895 if they subscribe at once, sending $1.75, the year's subscription price. It comes every week, finely illustrated.

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

SAVED HIS LIFE

So says Mr. T. G. Reed, a highly respected Merchant of Middletown, Ill., of a Young Man who was supposed to be in Consumption.

"One of my customers, some years ago, had a son who had all the symptoms of consumption. The usual medicines afforded him no relief, and he steadily failed until he was unable to leave his bed. His mother applied to me for some remedy and I recommended Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The young man took it according to directions, and soon began to improve until he became well and strong."—T. M. REED, Middletown, Ill.

"Some time ago, I caught a severe cold, my throat and lungs were badly inflamed, and I had a terrible cough. It was supposed that I was a victim of consumption, and my friends had little hope of recovery. But I bought a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, took it, and was entirely cured. No doubt, it saved my life."—I. BOXES, Egberts Cove, Tenn.
