THURSDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1894

THE JOURNAL wishes all a merry Christmas.

Six horses sold on the streets yesterday for $10.80, all told. Horse flesh is "cheaper than bull beef at a penny a pound."—Fremont Tribune.

The tariff law and the income tax will be unchanged during the present congress. An attempt was made to repeal the latter but was defeated by a large majority.

It is reported that a bill providing for optional winter free range will be introduced by Senator Stewart. If such a law is desired it would be a good plan if those interested would have it introduced by some member whose actions will not be regarded with so much suspicion as will those of the fifty dollar senator.

The financial scheme advanced by Secretary Carlisle is not only calling out a good deal of opposition, but is developing the fact that a single gold standard is what it is seeking and that the general sentiment of the masses is as strongly opposed to such a plan as it is to the wild-cat feature of the plan or to the demands of the extreme silver advocates. What is wanted is both gold and silver at a ratio that will give each an equal footing, and admit of the coining of the entire product of the mines of the United States.

The Chadron Signal nominates Bert Cox for chief clerk of the house and calls on the Hemingford Guard and THE JOURNAL to help make it unanimous. THE JOURNAL is for Bert Box for chaplain of the house for some of the reasons for which it is for Scamahorn for a similar position in the senate, but it hopes that the member of the lower house from the northwest district will so conduct himself that he will be entitled to the respect of his associates, and not be like the member from the northwest district in the upper house.

R. B. Peattie, representing the World-Herald is making a tour of the drouth-stricken counties and writing up the case just as he finds it. In Logan county from one-third to one-half the people will have to be cared for and in other counties it is even worse. Added to the lack of something to eat the settlers have no fuel and scant clothing to protect them from the cold. The reports are even worse than was expected and it will take prompt action on the part of those in authority to prevent suffering. The settlers of Sioux county are to be congratulated on the fact that they have plenty of fuel to be had for hauling, and also for the reason that no one will need to ask aid from outside the county and few will have to be given assistance by the county officials.

Let's Irrigate.

Seward Blade.

The rainfall in Nebraska for the month of November is reported to be eleven-hundredths of an inch. This is less than has ever before been known. It has also been the dryest and hottest summer in the history of the state. The ground is very dry to a great depth, and it will take a good deal of snow and rain to place it in good condition for a good crop year.

Utah's Lesson on Sugar.

Chicago Inter Ocean.

There are many states that can take lessons from Utah with profit to themselves. In no equal area of the republic have greater results been achieved in the face of greater difficulties. The diversity of agriculture, the development of manufactures, and, above all, the nurture of a strong feeling of local pride—which happily is in subjection to a yet stronger feeling of nationalism—in Utah, would be remarkable in any state or territory, and are peculiarly remarkable in a community that has been so sorely exercised in the solution of social problems, as well as in those of successful resistance to adverse physical phenomena.

Among the industries created and nourished by the persevering genius of the people of Utah is that of beet sugar. The demand for sugar in Utah requires about 15,000,000 pounds for its yearly supply. The genius of the people already has furnished about one-third of this from beet roots grown on Utah soil, converted into sugar by Utah workpeople, and by the aid of machinery that is almost wholly of American construction. The Utah people justly pride themselves not a little on this last circumstance. Their Lehi beet sugar factory comes nearer to being purely American in every item of its construction than any other sugar works in the United States.

From that report we condense a few facts and a striking corollary. The fact is that the Lehi factory, with a capital of $500,000, yearly pays out $590,417 64, or much more than a third of its capital stock, for labor and material used in the manufacture of beet sugar. The account stands thus:

36,800 tons of beets, which cost	$143,263 96
4,500 tons of coal	13,500 00
300 tons of coke at $7 50	2,250 00
1,600 tons of lime rock at $2 50	4,022 00
40,000 cloth sugar bags at 10c etc.	5,000 00
4,750 yards of heavy duck at 8 cts.	422 50
1,050 yards of German duck at 30 cts	325 00
6,000 pounds of soda ash	15 000
4,500 pounds of coal flow	270 00
20,000 pounds of sulphur	400 00
10,000 pounds of muriatic acid	2 0 00
Laboratory and other supplies	1,000 00
Paid for labor	92,725 08
Total cash outlay to produce 4,000,000 pounds of sugar	$290,417 64

The number of people employed in the factory, inclusive of girls and boys, was 2,000. The season of work covers 110 days.

Now if one factory which turns out no more than 2,000 tons of sugar a year expends $290,417.64 a year for labor and material, what would be the amount of money expended for American-grown cane and beets, for American labor in sugar farms and factories, and for American-made machinery and chemicals if our market were supplied wholly with home-made sugar? The answer to the question is the striking corollary to the Utah fact. A partial answer is to be found in this statement:

If the entire amount of sugar consumed in the United States during the fiscal year ending June 30, '93, had been manufactured in this country the people of the United States would have received the following for sugar and beets etc.:

Cost 21,574,000 tons beets	$115,3[illegible] 80
Cost coal	10,[illegible]00 00
Cost coke	2,[illegible]00 00
Cost lime rock	5,[illegible]2 0
Cost sugar bags and ducking	5,[illegible]7 0
Cost salt soda	[illegible]0,[illegible]0 00
Cost tallow	2,[illegible]3 0 00
Cost supplies	[illegible]0,000 00
Cost muriatic acid	2[illegible],[illegible]0 00
Cost laboratory and supplies	4,[illegible]5,000 00
Cost wages	42,[illegible]2 40
Total that would have been expended at home	$185,546,000 20

The cost or machinery an of transportation of raw and manufactured material is not included in these estimates; probably they would add a third to the total.

But even on the basis of $185 546 000 we have an expenditure on home industries and on home labor far exceeding, very nearly doubling, that of the value of all the wheat exported from the United States. The exports of wheat during the year 1893 were of the value of $93,534,970. The amount spent in producing American-made sugar in quantity sufficient for the supply of the American market would have been near to $186,000,000. Is not Utah giving valuable suggestions as to farmers who are fretting under the unprofitableness of 50-cent wheat?

But we cannot produce American sugar in quantities adequate to the American demand under provisions of the Wilson Gorman sugar-trust tariff. Other nations have created sugar industries by sugar bounties. We must do likewise if we create them.

There is another lesson to be learned from Utah. As soon as the Cleveland-Wilson Gorman-favored sugar trust saw the growth of the Utah industry it resolved to destroy it. To that end it sought to deluge the territory with sugar at a lower cost than it could be produced at by the Lehi works. The motive was plain. The purpose was to break down the Utah industry by unprofitably low prices, and to recoup the trust by high prices obtained after it had regained a monopoly of the sugar supply. The Utah people rose to the height of the occasion. They refused to buy the cheaper product of the trust. They cheerfully paid a temporarily higher price for home produce, and by so doing prevented themselves from paying a higher price hereafter, and at the same time conserved a great home industry which, there is good reason to believe, is as yet but in its infancy.

PATENTS.

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

There never was a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and workshop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the appurtenances and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who being on the alert, and ready to perceive the existing deficiencies, does not permit the affairs of the government to suffer him from quickly concerning the remedy to overcome existing discrepancies. So great care can not be exercised in choosing a competent and scientific attorney to prepare and prosecute an application for patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable instances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially is this advice applicable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" system. Inventors who entrust their business to this class of attorneys do so at imminent risk, as the breadth and strength of the patent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee then due. THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY, John Wedderburn, General Manager, 618 F street, N. W., Washington, D. C., representing a large number of important daily and weekly papers, as well as general periodicals of the country, was instituted to protect its patrons from the dissolute methods heretofore employed in this line of business. The said company is prepared to take charge of all patent business entrusted to it for reasonable fees, and prepares and prosecutes applications generally, including mechanical inventions, design patents, trade-marks, labels, copyrights, interferences, infringements, validity reports, and gives especial attention to rejected cases. It is also prepared to enter into competition with any firm in securing foreign patents.

Sioux County,

THE LAND OF THE HOMESTEADER.

Free Homes for More Than 5,000 Men.

A new county with schools, churches, railroads, etc.,

AND 800,000 ACRES YET OPEN TO HOMESTEAD ENTRY.

Contains over forty-five miles of rail oad and has no county bonds.

NO BONDS, NO DEBTS, LOW TAXES.

Fuel, Posts, Logs and Lumber Cheaper Than at any Other Place in Nebraska.

Sioux county is the northwest county of Nebraska. It is about thirty miles east and west by about seventy miles north and south and contains of land. There are more bright, sparkling, small streams in the county than can be found in the same area elsewhere in the state. It has more pine timber in it than all the rest of the state combined. Its grasses are the richest and most nutritious known so that for stock-growing it is unexcelled.

OVER 1,300,000 ACRES

The soil varies from a heavy clay to a light sandy loam and is capable of producing excellent crops.

The principal crops are small grain and vegetables, although good corn is grown in the valleys. The wheat, oats rye and barley are all of unusually fine quality and command the highest market prices.

The water is pure and refreshing and is found in abundance in all parts of the county.

The county is practically out of debt and has over forty-five miles of railroad within its borders, has a good brick court house and the necessary fixtures for running the county and there has never been one dollar of county bonds issued and hence taxes will be low.

The Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley railroad crosses Sioux county from east to west and the B. & M. has about fifteen miles of its line in the northeast part of the county.

The climate is more pleasant than that of the eastern portion of Nebraska.

There is still

OVER 800,000 ACRES

of land in Sioux county yet open to homestead entry. It is better land and more desirably located than that for which such rushes are made on the opening of a reservation. There is no railroad land in the county and for that reason its settlement has been slow for no special effort to get settlers was made, as was done in the early days of the settlement of the eastern part of the state.

Good deeded land can be purchased at reasonable rates with government land adjoining so that a person who wants more than one quarter section can obtain it if he has a little means.

There are about 2,500 people in the county and there is room for thousands more.

Harrison is the county seat and is situated on the F. E. & M. V. railroad, and is as good a town as the thinly settled country demands.

School houses and churches are provided in almost every settlement and are kept up with the times.

All who desire to get a homestead or buy land cheap are invited to come and see the country for themselves and judge of its merits. Homesteads will not be obtainable much longer and if you want to use your right and get 160 acres of land from Uncle Sam free it is time you were about it.
