

THE SIOUX COUNTY JOURNAL

L. J. Simmons, Editor and Proprietor.

F. E. & M. V. R. R. Time table. Going West. Going East.

—For flour, feed or meat call on E. Rohwer.

—A nice little rain visited this locality on Tuesday.

—Paper napkins for sale at THE JOURNAL office.

—For reliable, first class dental work of any kind, go to T. J. Gibson, Crawford, Nebraska.

—One dozen full-blooded Poland China pigs four weeks old. For SALE by—Wm. NOBIESCH.

—Horsebound compound cough syrup the great remedy for coughs and colds at the Pioneer Pharmacy.

—LOST OR STRAYED—A brown gelding, 2 years old, branded circle on left thigh. A. MCGINLEY.

—If you want a farm paper get one published in Nebraska. THE JOURNAL clubs with the Nebraska Farmer. Call and see a copy of it.

—Several contemplate going to Fort Robinson next Sunday to witness a game of ball between the Chadron team and the soldiers.

—I. Richstein has been improving the residence part of his building by having it plastered. Wm. Norisch did the work.

—Commissioner B. F. Johnson is having an addition built to his house. He will have to hunt up a housekeeper to take care of it next.

—It is reported from Brown county that the small grain will be a total failure and all the farmers will have to depend upon will be the corn crop.

—The Seventh Day Adventists opened their campmeeting at Crawford today and it will continue until July 21st. All are invited to attend and participate.

—If the hair is falling out, or turning gray, requiring a stimulant with nourishing and coloring food, Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer is just the specific.

—A. McGinley was in town the last of the week wearing a new hat won as a wager that Chadron would not get a sugar factory this year. Mc. calls it his sugar beet hat.

—The cool weather during the past week has not been conducive to the rapid growth of crops. All crops are behind the season and some good growing weather is needed to bring them out.

—J. W. Farnest was in town the first of the week and informed us that he had his new house almost completed. He will be pretty comfortably fixed when it has received the finishing touches.

—The wind has peeled some of the shingles off the roof of the school house. It is too bad that the building cannot be moved to some less bleak location or a decent building erected on suitable ground.

—It has been suggested that, as no celebration was held here on the 4th, it would be a good plan to get up a county fair and race meeting. A good time can be had if it is given the needed preparation.

—Nels Engloret is having a well put down on his farm in Highland precinct and will have his new house completed this fall. Then all he will need to make his place complete will be a housekeeper and if reports are true he has been looking out for one.

—Mrs. Lars M. Peterson, who lived near Glen, died at a hospital at Omaha a few days ago, having been taken there for treatment. She had been sick for a long time and when notified that she could not live her husband was unable to go to her bedside. Deceased was formerly one of Sioux county's progressive school teachers.

—County Clerk Blewett is in receipt of a letter from the state engineer to the effect that it is expected that the work of gauging the volume of the streams of the state will commence in Sioux county in the near future. Those who are interested in ditches are anxious to have such action taken.

—Few medicines have held their ground so successfully as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. During the past fifty years, it has been the most popular of all cough-cures and the demand for it today is greater than ever before. Prompt to act and sure to cure.

—To prevent pale and delicate children from lapsing into chronic invalids later in life, they should take Ayer's Sarsaparilla together with plenty of wholesome food and outdoor exercise. What they need to build up the system is good red blood.

—Bloomers for lady cyclists are becoming very fashionable, and one well known lady of Seward has adopted the costume. She says that she rides with much greater ease and comfort, and will never again wear a dress while riding a wheel. We believe that the bloomer costume will soon be in general use, not only by lady cyclists, but also by equestriennes, and we hope to soon see the time when the dangerous, uncomfortable and ungainly side saddle will be a thing of the past.—Seward Reporter.

PERSONAL.

C. F. Coffee went out to the 7 box L ranch last Sunday.

Miss Maggie Lindeman left for Valentine last Saturday evening.

Witmer Phillips returned the first of the week from Edgemont.

R. L. Smuck started this morning for Alliance to attend the races.

Mr. W. H. Bonsell came down from Lusk Wednesday evening to visit awhile.

Frank Tankham and Josh Baker were up from Five Points the first of the week.

S. T. Williams, brother of T. O. Williams, arrived from Colorado a few days ago for a visit.

Mrs. J. M. Smiley and children started last week for the home for her parents in Seward county.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Tebbet were viewing the sights at Sioux county's metropolis Wednesday.

Jarvis Richards was up from Chadron the first of the week looking after interests in this locality.

Misses Louie and Claudia Hester, who have been visiting in Lusk and vicinity the past week, returned home last evening.

Mrs. J. H. Nowlin and Mrs. D. Klien came up from Glen on yesterday morning's train to visit Mrs. Andrew Christian of Pleasant Ridge.

Henry Brundige was in Harrison Tuesday on his return from Orin Junction and called and gladdened the heart of the poor printer.

Select something to go in the state fair exhibit.

The Ladies Aid Society will give an ice cream social at the Court House Friday evening July 12 at 7:30 o'clock. All are cordially invited.

The first crop of alfalfa has been harvested in this locality and the yield is reported to be from two and a half to three tons per acre. That is certainly better than to mow all over creation to get hay.

The crop reports from various parts of the county are somewhat at variance. Some say that they have better prospects than at this season last year, while others say rain is badly needed. The indications this morning for rain are good, but indications cannot always be depended on in northwest Nebraska. A rain, such as fell on the 4th of July last year would be highly appreciated.

The school board held a meeting yesterday to select teachers for the ensuing school year. A petition was filed asking that H. L. Fisher and Miss Cora Wurts be retained and on consideration of the matter they were elected. Mr. Fisher is to be the principal and as such will have supervision of the entire school. That arrangement will certainly prove more satisfactory than the rule which has been in force in the past, each department having been conducted, to a great extent, independent of the other. Now if some way could be devised to have better school rooms it would be a good thing.

50 Cents to January 1, 1896.

You will find it the farmer's daily. Markets alone are worth more money than that. If you take it the rest of this year for 50 cents you will want to keep it always. If you get up a club of five 50 cent subscribers you can have a copy free for your trouble. Address, Nebraska State Journal, Lincoln, Neb.

Bismarck as a Bimetallist.

Meanwhile the prince is said to be preparing to qualify himself for the presidency of another struggling nation. Herr Kardorff last month told the German bimetalist league that Prince Bismarck told him the other day that in reality he had always been a bimetalist from the bottom of his heart, but that when he was in the office he was so occupied that he could not devote the necessary attention to the matter. Herr von Kardorff added that Prince Bismarck would shortly express himself publicly in favor of bimetalism. Without waiting for Prince Bismarck's plume, the Lower House of the Prussian Diet, after two days debate, passed the following motion by 187 votes to 92:

"The House urges the government to request the Chancellor to take immediate and energetic steps calculated to lead to an international regulation of the currency question, with the final object of securing international bimetalism with the participation of England."

England, however, at present shows only slight indication of any approximation to bimetalism, international or otherwise. As the great creditor of the world, John Bull naturally shrinks from receiving his interest in depreciated silver which he thinks is what the debtor nations are aiming at; and he agrees with the writer in one of the reviews that bimetalism with many people is simply a new way to pay old debts. Sir William Harcourt last month expressed the attitude of the present English Government with the most unequivocal firmness. Bimetalism has strong friends in England, but they are in a small minority as yet. The latest news from Germany, also, is not encouraging to the silver men. The several states which make up the German empire have been asked by the imperial government to express themselves on the question of an international monetary conference, and they have not shown much zeal for the proposition. It is our opinion that world conditions are tending toward the point where an international monetary union will be demanded as a commercial necessity. But that end will not be realized this year or next.—From "The Progress of the World," in the July Review of Reviews.
