SUGAR BEET FIELDS

—OF— NORTH NEBRASKA.

—Buy a can of that fine maple syrup at BARTELS.

—When you go to Chadron always stop at the Blaine House.

—Burt Dew is acting county clerk in the absence of M. J. Blewett.

—Come in out of the rain and buy a Slicker or Tarpolion at BARTELS.

—As we expect to move soon in the new store room, we will sell queens ware way down to avoid moving.

J. H. BARTELL.

—Attorney Guthrie and ye editor went to Chadron last Thursday, the former on business and the writer to meet his family.

—Charles U. Grove of Little Cottonwood was a pleasant caller at this office Wednesday last. Come again Charles, we are always glad to see the boys and get better acquainted.

—Editor, W. H. Davis of the North-western Press, attended the Press Association at Valentine last Saturday, returning Monday noon. He reports a way-up-time with the quill pushers of this congressional district.

—Joe parsons and M. J. Blewett went to Omaha last week, where they were summoned to appear before the federal grand jury, for what purpose no one seems to know. Doubtless we shall hear when they return what the trouble is.

—A. F. Christian, foreman on Chas. Coffee's ranch on the Raw Hide creek over in Wyoming, called at our office last Sunday and put in a pleasant hour's visit with ye editor and wife and not forgetting to leave one of those 50c dollars to continue THE JOURNAL for another year.

—Ye editor and his better half and children are deeply indebted to Mr. Saterlee the gentlemanly land lord of the Blaine House at Chadron who by the way is one of Sioux county's former sons. We would advise ALL when in Chadron to go there as they will receive the best treatment and fare the house affords and that is No. 1.

—V. A. Hester of the firm of Hester & Son lumbermen at this place, who lives three miles north of town, would no doubt be entitled to the champion's belt for his fleetness of foot which he proved on Tuesday of this week by running down and capturing a young antelope. We had the pleasure of seeing his catch as he very kindly brought it to our office on his way home.

—W. J. A. Raum who lives near Crawford, and who is one of the Sioux county Assessors was in Harrison last Monday and Tuesday doing business with the county clerk. He also called at our office and had a friendly chat. Mr. Raum thinks prosperity is a long ways ahead of the band-wagon and the republican party have done comparatively nothing to fulfill their post election promises.

—Mr. and Mrs. Pat Lacy paid THE JOURNAL office a call last Saturday, getting acquainted. Mr. Lacy informs us his house was broken into a short time ago by some unknown parties while they were away. Pat says he cannot tell who it was unless perhaps some parties from Omaha or Council Bluffs, that were in the neighbor at that time. The burglars ransacked the house generally but did not take anything to speak of.

—Mr. W. S. Johnson of Glen dropped in to our sanctum Tuesday of this week and entertained us pleasantly for an hour giving in detail a most interesting account of his two fish ponds which by the way he thinks is in a most flourishing condition. Mr. Johnson has at present two or three kinds of fish which he is propagating but, informed us that during the year he intends to increase the variety.

—Mr. James Wright of this place, has been employed to oversee the building of a large barn by Andrew Christian of Adams Bluffs, Wyo., about twenty miles west of Harrison. The barn is to be a double barn. Mr. Wright will commence on the barn about the first of July. For the present he will be engaged in building two or three large water-tanks for Mr. Christian. Mr. Wright is said to be a master mechanic in the carpenter trade.

—Little Frank O'Conner, son of William C. O'Conner living south-west of town three miles, had the sad misfortune to break his arm between the elbow and shoulder, last Monday. It appears that he was riding a horse, and it stumbled and fell breaking the boy's arm. The boy is only eight years old and this is the second time he has had his arm broken within the last two years, each time in a different place. Wednesday the little fellow was getting along very nicely.

—H. H. Russell who was arrested last week on a warrant sworn out by a Mr. Rodgers down at Andrews for assault, came in on Monday of this week and pled guilty to the charge and was fined five dollars and costs which amounted to twenty three dollars all told. Mr. Russell informs the court that he would see that his son—for whom a warrant has been issued on a similar charge at the same time and who has eluded the officers of the law until now—would come yesterday and plead guilty also and pay his fine. That is right boys if you have done wrong, own the corn and take your medicine. You know "open confession is good for the soul." "Brethren should dwell together in unity."

On Tuesday morning Richard Davenport assumed the duties of postmaster at Alpena. The Journal hopes to see Richard faithful to his trust, and enjoy the benefits of his position. He has made his daughter, his deputy, and soon as she returns from school at Rock Rapids, which will be in two weeks. Of the out-going postmaster the Journal has but to remark that he never had any complaint from the department and goes out with clean hands. May bro. Canon, now of the Sioux County Journal, enjoy prosperity and all that goes to make life happy. Mrs. Canon departed with the two boys for Nebraska on Thursday. Thus endeth the democratic-populistic administration.—Alpena (S. D.) Journal.

The Press Meeting.

VALENTINE, Neb., June 5, 1907. The members of the press from North-west Nebraska assembled as per call of the Valentine press and carried out the following program:

The meeting was called to order by W. S. Barker, who was on motion made temporary chairman. G. A. Miles was elected temporary secretary.

The chairman made a few remarks, stating the object of the meeting, after which he called on Rev. Moore, who favoured the press with a short and instructive talk as per program. On motion, at the conclusion of his speech, a vote of thanks was tendered the gentleman for his able address.

A motion was made and carried that the chair appoint a committee of three to draft Constitution and By-laws; and for said committee to report at the evening session. The chair appointed as such committee, J. O. Berkley, D. H. Cronin and G. W. Fritz.

Address, "Legal Printing," by C. C. McHugh, was along the line of organization and legislation. He reasoned that organization alone would not be a secure barrier to cutting of rates in these days of cheap printing material, but if supported by a stringent law would greatly overcome the difficulty and give to the publisher that which by law and right belongs to him. This subject later on was thoroughly discussed, the logical solution of the problem concurred in by the members of press, being presented by the introducer of the subject.

Address, "Duty of the Press to the Public," by J. O. Berkley, was handled in a manner productive of new thought, and if acted upon, a great benefit.

Address, "Early Press of Nebraska," by Jas. Morris, was taken up from the inception of the press in the territory to the present day, and located land-marks very beneficial to the younger newspaper men of the meeting.

A general discussion now followed on various topics of interest to the craft and was participated in by the members present pretty generally, and many a weak link was strengthened as a result of the discussion.

A motion was made and prevailed that he chair appoint a committee of three on resolutions, and for such committee to report at the evening meeting. The chair appointed R. H. Jenness, W. H. Davis and C. C. McHugh.

On motion meeting adjourned until 7 p. m.

To Chas. H. Cornell, who manifested and took such an interest in our welfare, comfort and pleasure;

To Editors Barker of the Republican, Good of the Democrat and Reinert of the News, to whom we owe a debt of gratitude for the calling together of this association and who spared neither time nor expense in their endeavors to make our visit most profitable and enjoyable;

And last, but not least, to that gallant soldier, Colonel John N. Andrews, 12th Infantry, U. S. A., Commanding Fort Niobrara, who marshalled his troops in grand review for our especial pleasure and entertainment; and to the officers of his regiment, more especially to Lieutenant Daniel F. Anglum, quartermaster, whose affable and courteous treatment we shall always remember with pleasure.

R. H. JENNESS.
W. H. DAVIS.
C. C. McHUGH.

Report was adopted and committee discharged.

Guitar and Mandolin Duet, Grand Selection, "El Travator,"—W. A. McCauley, John Borran, was rendered and elicited great applause.

G. W. Harvey, agricultural editor of the World-Herald, was introduced and spoke interestingly for half an hour.

The address was followed with music by the male quartette, "Speed Away," by Messrs. Beatty, Jeffers, Moore, and Holsclaw, which completely captivated the audience. They were followed by an address from Jas. Morris on the subject "Pulpit and the Press," which was one of the best speeches we ever listened to on this subject. More music, vocal and instrumental, followed, and a vote of thanks was tendered the musicians and singers, after which the meeting adjourned to meet at O'Neill, Nebraska, the first Saturday in June, 1908.
