

Indulgent mothers are the ones who permit their children to annoy others. It is easy to see through people who are always making spectacles of themselves. The average man feels that he is only getting what he deserves when he draws pay for doing nothing. The man who can come down town of a cold morning and refrain from lying about his thermometer has a pretty fair chance of slipping through the golden gates.—Chicago Record.

Deafness Cannot be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running sound or tingle in the ear, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; none can out of ten are cured by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

OF OUTER GARMENTS.

THE ADVISABILITY OF CLOAKS, CAPES OR BLOUSES.

All Three Are in Evidence Among the Fashionables and You May Wear the One that Best Becomes Your Figure and Circumstances.

Fashions for Femines.

UNDER her lovely opera cloak a woman may have almost any sort of a skirt and waist, but an opera cloak is the heels made of rich material and set off handsomely with a fur cape, a high collar for you to nestle your head and throat in, and lined either with fur or with a rich silk of contrasting color, will be a very expensive garment. Yet it will last a season or so and will save quite a penny in gowns. Pearl gray with chinella for the fur is the favorite combination just now. The one sketched here was pearl gray satin lined with rose pink. The fur collar was lined with the same shade and could be worn separately as a collar, and by edging of the wrap's fronts being alone fixed.

All questions of cost aside, there are many reasons for preferring a cape to a long, loose cloak, handsome and rich as the latter is. The short cape has a more wholesome, healthy look. Such a garment, we argue, makes quite as good a background when slipped back as does the long cloak, and it is a deal more dainty before it is slipped off. To be sure, the young matron with a lovely figure to consider may prefer a down-to-the-heels redingote, richly trimmed with fur and with big sleeves and armholes, to either the long, loose opera cloak or the short, saucy cape. Such a redingote is eminently becoming, and you can spend all the money you can get out of him on it. He would need to be easily approachable to have provided the one the artist pictures, for it was made of purple mirror velvet trimmed with black silk braid and white Thibet fur. Fine as this looked and sounds, the redingote really is not as generally useful as either the long, loose cloak or the little cape. For one thing the tight fitting garment is not as gracefully slipped off as are the other two styles, and then so far as appearance goes the accompanying large picture is a strong argument in favor of the more perky cape. These have altered little from the models first offered several years ago, except that, as a rule, a single cape suffices, and that the layer style in vogue a few seasons ago is voted lamp-shady. The collar is a feature of all. It must come very high and softly about the face, and the fitting and shaping don in fur is simply wonderful. Coming to details of the three show here, there is in the picture diagonally opposite to the redingote already described an exquisite cape of dull gray pique de soie. It was finished with mouflon and bow-knots and wavy ends of silver ribbon were applied on it

BLOUSES IN ALL BUT LOOSENESS.

This applique of bow-knots is much done this season, is very effective, and is very easily accomplished by any stitching has been used as a finish to the edges of garments in close row, as on the edges of the wheel skirt, but only lately has stitching in wonderful swirls been practiced. It results charmingly, giving stiffness and body

IDEAL GRANDMOTHERS.

Women Who Know the Laws of Nature and Obey Them May Live to Green Old Age.

Mrs. Pinkham Says When We Violate Nature's Law Our Punishment Is Pain—If We Continue to Neglect the Warning We Die.

Providence has allotted us each at least seventy years in which to fulfill our mission in life, and it is generally our own fault if we die prematurely.

Nervous exhaustion invites disease. This statement is the positive truth.

When everything becomes a burden and you cannot walk a few blocks without excessive fatigue, and you break out into perspirations easily, and your face flushes, and you grow excited and shaky at the least provocation, and you cannot bear to be crossed in anything, you are in danger; your nerves have given out; you need building up at once! To build up woman's nervous system and restore woman's health, we know of no better or more inspiring medicine than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Your ailment taken in time can be thrown off, if neglected it will run on into great suffering and pain.

Here is an illustration. Mrs. Lucy Goodwin, Holly, W. Va., says: "I suffered with nervous prostration, faintness, all-gone feeling and palpitation of the heart. I could not stand but a few moments at a time without having that terrible bearing-down sensation."

"When I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I only weighed 105 pounds, and could not sit up half a day; before, however, I had used a whole bottle, I was able to be about. I took in all about three bottles of the Compound, and am entirely cured; now I weigh 131 pounds and feel like a new woman, stronger and better than ever in my life."

So it transpires that because of the virtues of Mrs. Pinkham's wonderful Compound, a woman can be cured and live to a green old age.

BETTER THAN FUSION.

Don't monkey with politics and neglect the farm. Along with your other crops this Spring, sow some well-selected Fisk seed on your new ground. Nothing will pay so well. The average yield will be light and the price ought to be high. There will be a better market for your seed than ever before. Diversify your crops, and have more than one string to your bow.

A hard-working, industrious woman, active, and to all outward appearances healthy, a woman used to doing all the work about her home and sometimes going out to service, relates that when she lived at Oyster Bay, Long Island, and especially on ironing day when confined to a hot laundry, she would often become faint, a condition usually preceded by a shortness of breath. At times she could barely keep up to come out into the fresh air to refresh herself. After she moved to New York, the shortness of breath affected her when working in a close room or after climbing stairs. At one time, while so suffering, she was recommended to try some Ripans Tablets. The improvement in her breathing was such that she felt greatly relieved and she now keeps the Tablets always at hand, and since she has done this she says that the faintness has not been noticed and she can now readily climb stairs or work in a close room without any of the symptoms of distress which formerly oppressed her. When this experience was related to a physician who is familiar with Ripans Tablets, he said: "The Tablets are not advertised to cure faintness or shortness of breath, and my impression is that the symptoms referred to were caused by the stomach being distended with gas, as is sometimes to be noted with persons who use vegetable food mainly. Potatoes or cabbage," he said, "were quite likely to produce such a condition."

A new style racket containing THE RIPSAN TABLETS in a paper case (without glass) is now forwarded same drug stores. FOR THE CURER. This low-priced racket is intended for the poor and the afflicted. One dozen of the five-cent cartons (25 tablets) can be had by mail by sending forty-eight cents to the RIPSAN COMPANY, No. 10 Spruce Street, New York—or a single carton (25 tablets) will be sent for five cents.
