

How Old She Looks

Poor clothes cannot make you look old. Even pale cheeks won't do it. Your household cares may be heavy and disappointments may be deep, but they cannot make you look old.

One thing does it and never fails.

It is impossible to look young with the color of seventy years in your hair.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

permanently postpones the tell-tale signs of age. Used according to directions it gradually brings back the color of youth. At fifty your hair may look as if it did at fifteen. It thickens the hair also; stops it from falling out; and cleanses the scalp from dandruff. Shall we send you our book on the Hair and its Diseases?

The Best Advice Free. If you do not obtain the benefits you expect from the use of the Vigor, write the doctor about it. Probably there is some difficulty with your general system which may be remedied. Address, Dr. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

CONSTIPATION

"I have gone 14 days at a time without movement of the bowels, not being able to move them except by using hot water injections. Chronic constipation for seven years placed me in this terrible condition; during that time I did not eat anything I had not first tried on a rat; and as my case was so bad, I began using CASCARET, and now have from one to three passages a day, and I was rich I would give $100.00 for such movement; it is such a relief." — ATLAS, L. H. H. 1177, 1180 Russell St., Detroit, Mich.

Summer Hints for Girls. For whitening the hands and arms take a teaspoonful of borax, one ounce of glycerine and one pint of orange flower water. The following lotion renders the arms and neck soft and white: Mix together two drachms of hazel-nut, two drachms of benzoin, eight ounces of elder flower water, half an ounce of glycerine, one drachm of powdered borax. This is to be applied after washing and the arms bandaged with soft washed linen.

Serpent's Venom. Prof. T. R. Fraser, of Edinburgh, who has made a study of serpent's venom, and has suggested means for rendering it inert by "Antivenine," has recently called attention to the circumstance that serpent's venom when introduced into the stomach of an animal will produce no injurious effect although the amount of poison swallowed would be sufficient, if introduced beneath the skin to kill 1,000 animals of the same species and weight. He attributes this immunity from harm to the action of the bile. He has further ascertained that the bile of serpents when mixed with venom will prevent it from producing death, even when it is present in very small quantity. The bile of some other animals also possesses this antidotal quality, but not to the same extent as the bile of snakes.

Figs and Thistles. Charity is heart cement. Facts are the mirror of truth. The truth that lives in us will be lived by us. Small sins weigh heavy in the scales of character. In the races for wealth men run down their health.

There is a difference between having a cross to bear and being as cross as a bear. For Marking Sheep. An authority says that, to make an indelible marking ink for sheep, use shellac, 2 ounces; borax, 3 ounces; water 25 ounces; gum arabic, 2 ounces, and lamp black. Boil the borax and shellac in water until they are dissolved, and withdraw from the fire. When the solution has become cold, add water to make 25 ounces and lamp black enough to bring the preparation to a suitable consistency. When it is to be used with a stencil, it must be made thicker than when it is applied with a brush. This formula gives a black ink.

WOMAN'S HEROISM.

From the Register-Gazette, Rockford, Ill. During the Civil War nearly as much heroism was shown by the women of our nation as by the brave soldiers. Many a woman, weeping for her dead son, bound up the wounds of his suffering comrades, rejoicing in their renewed strength, even while sorrowing for the one who was gone. At that time, was laid the foundation for the world-famed organization known as the Woman's Relief Corps.

One of the most earnest members of the corps at Byron, Ill., is Mrs. James Housewheat, but illness once put a stop to her active work. A year or so ago, when she was nearly fifty years of age, the time when women must be more careful of their strength, Mrs. Housewheat was taken seriously ill. The family physician told her that she had reached a critical period of her life, and must be very careful. His prescriptions and treatment did not benefit her, and other treatment proved unavailing.

At last Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People were brought to her notice, with indubitable evidence that they were helpful in cases such as hers, and with renewed hope she tried the remedy. Last March she took the first box of the pills, which gave much relief. She was determined to be cured, and kept on with the medicine, until now eight boxes have been consumed, and she feels like a new woman.

Mrs. Housewheat said: "I have taken only eight boxes, but I have been improving since I took the first dose. I do not believe I could have lived without the pills. They certainly have done me more good than any physician or any medicine I have ever tried."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold in boxes (never in loose bulk) at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists, or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Has a Right to Wear Trowsers. Mme. Denislof is one of the best-known women in Paris and one of the most famous archaeologists in the world. She discovered the superb ruins of the Temple of Darius, now in the Louvre, at Paris, and for this notable achievement the French gave her the decoration of the Legion of Honor and the privilege of wearing men's clothes at all times. She avails herself of this freedom, and is said to wear the most stylish trowsers, coats and hats in Paris. She and her husband have the same tailor. The couple are thoroughly congenial, and have a most beautiful home and salon, where the savants assemble and many brilliant discussions take place. Mme. Denislof wears short hair and conducts herself like a man, though showing many little feminine ways.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

New Style Bicycle Rack. Perhaps the most original bicycle rack ever seen stands in front of a comfortable old inn at Canton, Pa. The inn stands on a road much traversed by touring wheelmen, many of whom find refreshment for the inner man beneath its old-fashioned roof. The landlord invented the bicycle rack, which has been voted a success by many tourists. It possesses the combined merit of being entirely efficient while extremely inexpensive. Mine host has taken the wheels off an old farm wagon, and, after cutting the spokes off halfway to the hub, has stood the hub on end in a wooden socket in a fixed position. The bicycles are pushed in between two spokes, which, radiating in all directions, make it convenient for every user to stow his wheel and remove it without interfering with any others. Many wheelmen have urged the landlord to patent the unique rack, but he has not yet decided to do so.

Bicycle Repairs Extraordinary.

Accompanying picture shows a bicycle wheel temporarily repaired by a Boer, the spokes being cut from the boer and fitted with a pocket knife. The Boer rode the machine in this condition nearly all the way from Pretoria to Pietersburg, a distance of 160 miles. One of the pedals was replaced by a peg of wood.

A Warning. From early morn till dewy eve, Scarce stopping for a meal, Through lanes and roads this maiden sped, Perched high upon a wheel.

At last she flew to realms above, But there—Oh, sad, sad fate— She found a sign, "No wheels allowed," A-hanging on the gate.

"Oh, let me in, kind saint," she cried; But Peter said, "No, no; You've brought your wheel; if you must ride, There's a cincher path below." —L. A. W. Bulletin.

Bicycle Bilets.

Certain students of the mind and its phenomena hold that there is a distinct psychological side to cycling, inasmuch as use of the wheel necessarily develops in the rider powers of concentration, quick perception, and prompt adjustment to new conditions.

Although the scorching is justly condemned as an enemy of the human race, there is no doubt that he has done the world service in proving the qualities of each new constructive feature of the bicycle. The road bend puts the machine to the hardest possible test.

The commissioner of internal revenue has held that certificates of membership in wheelmen's protective associations are required to have affixed to them revenue stamps at the rate of one-half cent on each dollar or fraction thereof of premium paid. The document is held to be a guarantee against loss or theft, and not a certificate in the usual meaning of the word.

A Good Feature.

"This paper," remarked Mrs. Midkiff, "tells of a man arrested an hour after his wedding and sent to prison for ten years. Isn't that awful?" "Oh, I don't know," answered Midkiff. "The law doesn't compel him to take his wife with him."

OUR LIBRARY

J. N. Mackall, an intimate friend of William Morris, is engaged upon a life of Morris.

Miss Rose Kingsley, the daughter of Charles Kingsley, is preparing a handbook to French art.

Henry James has written an introduction to an edition of the works of Pierre Loti, which will soon be published in England.

Colonel Haggard, brother of Rider Haggard, has written a novel, based on the military career of Hannibal, which is entitled "Hannibal's Daughter."

Miss Dorothy Leighton is engaged in dramatizing a popular novel by Grant Allen. The principal character and title role will, it is said, represent a strong part for a man.

The reigning Czar of Russia is said to be consulting with all the leading professors of history in Europe with a view to selecting a biographer to write anew the life of Peter the Great.

Following the issue of Peary's book on the far North will come that of his companion Astrup, announced by the Lippincott's for the early fall. Astrup's title is "With Peary Near the Pole."

E. P. Hutton & Co., New York, will bring out "Through Armenia on Horseback," by Rev. George H. Hepworth, being a condensed account of his tour of a year ago undertaken in search of the truth about the "Armenian Massacres."

Charles Scribner's Sons, New York, have just brought out a lavishly illustrated descriptive work on "Manila," by Joseph Earle Stevens, a young American business man, who has made Manila his home for more than two years past.

The cover of the Pall Mall Magazine for July was adorned with a representation of the American and British flags floating from crossed standards over the lines from Longfellow beginning, "Sail On, O, Union, Strong and Great!" A feature among the contributions was Clark Russell's story of "The Ship," which describes the birth and development of naval architecture.

A prediction has been put forward that the novels of the immediate future will be short-ranging in length from 30,000 to 40,000 words. This, we think, is doubtful. Human nature does not change, and human nature likes plenty for its money. Our own opinion is that novels will grow longer, even if they grow cheaper. Mrs. Humphrey Ward's "Helbeck of Helmsdale," just published, is about 150,000 words, which constitutes a bulk of reading worth sitting down to. Between books of such dimensions and the popular magazines, which have completely routed the shilling shockers and cheap novels from the book-stalls, we fancy that there will soon be nothing.

RECENT INVENTIONS

Two Western men have patented a seat for cleaning the outside of windows, which has a shelf at the bottom to rest on the sill, with clamps to engage the sides of the window frame and hold the chains which support the shelf, guide rails being provided to prevent the person from falling.

A bottle-stopper, invented by a New Jersey woman, is made of an elastic cap, which fits over the neck of the bottle and has a thick section at the end, with indentations showing where it is to be cut to open the bottle, the rubber tips closing automatically as soon as the pressure of the liquid is removed.

In a newly designed angling device a wire frame carries a pin which springs across a loop and impales the bait, the end of the pin resting against the side of the loop to prevent the bait from slipping off, while the bottom of the loop supports two hooks pivoted at right angles with the line to hook the fish.

Wooden wagon tires can be easily tightened by a new device consisting of a water receptacle to be placed on the fire with a slot through which the tire may be immersed in the boiling water, after which it is dipped in a bath of boiling oil, impregnated with gum-arabic and resin, which fills the pores of the wood and prevents contraction.

A Pennsylvania inventor has designed a pneumatic switch-operating device, which consists of attaching the switch bar to a piston which is operated by forcing air from a tank on the engine through an automatic coupling to the cylinder carrying the piston, the valve on the engine being closed by the engineer to prevent passage of air when the switch is not to be turned.

Keep Tab on the Ministers. Every time a Russian minister leaves town his colleagues are notified of the journey, besides the council of the empire, the cabinet of the emperor, the empire's comptroller and secretary, the sacred synod, the emperors' military secretary, the empress, the governors of Moscow, Varsovia, Kieff, etc. An inditum to all appearance. When he returns the same minute notification performance is gone through.

MANY FEMALE ILLS RESULT FROM NEGLIGENCE.

Mrs. Pinkham Tells How Ordinary Tasks May Produce Displacements That Threaten Women's Health.

Apparently trifling incidents in women's daily life frequently produce displacements of the womb. A slip on the stairs, lifting during menstruation, standing at a counter, running a sewing machine, or attending to the most ordinary tasks, may result in displacement, and a train of serious evils is started. The first indication of such trouble should be the signal for quick action. Don't let the condition become chronic through neglect or a mistaken idea that you can overcome it by exercise or leaving it alone.

More than a million women have regained health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If the slightest trouble appears which you do not understand, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for her advice, and a few timely words from her will show you the right thing to do. This advice costs you nothing, but it may mean life or happiness or both.

Mrs. MARY BENNETT, 314 Annie St., Bay City, Mich., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I can hardly find words with which to thank you for the good your remedies have done me. For nearly four years I suffered with weakness of the general organs, continual backache, headache, sickache, and all the pains that accompany female weakness. A friend told my husband about your Vegetable Compound and he brought me home two bottles. After taking these I felt much better, but thought that I would write to you in regard to my case, and you do not know how thankful I am to you for your advice and for the benefit I have received from the use of your medicine. I write this letter for the good of my suffering sisters."

The above letter from Mrs. Bennett is the history of many women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Ask Mrs. Pinkham's Advice—A Woman best Understands a Woman's Ills Ironical It. If you would succeed in life, learn to know what you can't do. If paying one's debts is a virtue, very few men are virtuous. If marriage is a mistake, it is at least one a man doesn't make every day. If volunteers were called for to pay the bill war would never be declared. If a man is his own worst enemy he has a natural born foe to take care of. If a man rises in the world at the end of a rope he is sure of an early downfall.
