THE obtaining of good friends, which most look upon as a matter of happy accident...

About the sacred and divine art of making and keeping friends I speak...

Our Best Friends. The best friends we have ever had appeared at some juncture when we were especially bombarded...

If when set upon by the furies you can have grace enough to keep your mouth shut and preserve your equanimity...

It is my ambition to project, especially upon the young, a thought which may help to shape their destiny...

Occasional Tides of God's Grace. Before you begin to show yourself friendly you must be friendly...

The Pole of the Head. Now, supposing that you have a divine regeneration got right toward God and humanity...

Consecration.—We consecrate a church; and we think that God, in some peculiar and special way, is there...

Dangerous Experiment.—It is a dangerous experiment for men to reject Christ in this world with the hope of having a second chance after death...

arrested the decline by your silence, by which he conceals, "If I were really as badly off, he would have said something about it."

My dear sir, my dear madam, what do you mean by going about this world with disheartenment?

The Spirit of Sacrifice. We want something like that spirit of sacrifice for others which was seen in the English channel...

Oh, my friends, better cover up the faults and extol the virtues, and this habit once established of universal friendliness will become as easy as it is for a spring...

But here comes in a defective maxim, so often quoted, "Where there is so much smoke there must be some fire."

Short Sermons. Power.—God help you women to see your power and to use it for him, and yours will be the honor not only of making home life sacred...

Expressions of Nature.—Acts are the language of nature. When let alone they are true to nature...

The Universal Religion.—The partial in religion is giving way to the universal in religion, and the universal religion is to have its increasing number of teachers and its to build its churches...

Consecration.—We consecrate a church; and we think that God, in some peculiar and special way, is there...
