We learn from reliable source that our Co. Attorney and the estimable daughter of county treasurer John Seeres are to be married next week. Our informant did not catch the date. That is the rule, if a man is not married when he runs for office the next move is a wife to comfort him in his arduous official duties. But Co. Attorney O'Connell, will learn that "Benedict" takes upon themselves new responsibilities and duties, of life that meet if not all, after they are old enough to enjoy the matrimonial state, prefer to a single blessedness so go it while they are young for when you get old you

Their 25th Anniversary.

On last Sunday Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Smith pastor of the M. E. church in Harrison, completed their 25th year of married life and the fact of it being the Sabbath led them to celebrate the happy occasion the previous evening. About two weeks ago cards were issued to the number of seventy, and it is needless to state that all of those fortunate enough to receive one showed their appreciation of the favor by responding in person, or sending their regrets accompanied by a memento. About fifty guests were present and were received by their host and hostess in a most cordial and hospitable manner. The lawn was beautifully decorated and lighted with Chinese lanterns which added very materially to the festive scene. The guests many of them availed themselves of the beauty of the ideal evening, by arranging themselves under the soft light of the lanterns and engaged in merry-making. Indoors everything betokened merriment and hospitality. Miss Reez, daughter of the host and hostess entertained the guests by some well rendered instrumental music, and Mrs. Dr. Phinney followed. Next refreshments were served in the dining room, which consisted of ice cream and cake with fruit. The table was beautifully decorated with pansies and other flowers. The pastor and his estimable wife were seemingly happier than any one else, in making their guests happy. A large number of presents were received, about $25.00 worth of silverware and $24.00 silver dollars, also table linen and other souvenirs too numerous to mention. The guests on departing all wished Mr. and Mrs. Smith many happy returns of their wedding anniversary, and we scribble especially promised them that he will endeavor to be on hand at their golden event.

Breezes by the way.

Sunday evening July 29th, Here we are four miles north of Alliance camping not far from the poor farm, where feed and good water is plenty.

We left Mr. Parsons about 8 o'clock and drove to the Kanori ranch to feed and water at noon, then to Mr. Kay's ranch that night. Found Mrs. Kay very poorly and their bright little boy very glad of a chance to play with our little boy, we spent the evening very pleasantly with them. It was a fine still night to enjoy our sleep in the wagon. The hail had also deprived the Kay mansion of many window lights. We left there about 8 o'clock the next morning expecting to go Alliance, but were advised on the road to go to Hemmingford, found good feed and water at noon, in the afternoon it began clouding, all along the way dilapidated sod houses reminded us that the country had once been thickly settled and had tried farming unsuccessfully. When about 4 miles from Hemmingford the storm struck us quick as a flash. We pulled up beside an old sod barn that was some protection. It rained hard by spells all night, we fastidiously moved in a wagon. We did not get much wet however and the next morning after a heavy early shower we reached Hemmingford got some provisions, and while our better half was getting horse feed we called on the Rev. J. G. Battey of the Congregational church. When we made ourselves known nothing else would do but we must stay and take dinner. We were very highly entertained and were very glad to meet such an interesting family. Mrs. Battey surely knows how to appreciate a family of lively girls for they have raised five, one was married on last Tuesday. They played on the guitar, mandolin and organ for our pleasure as a song very nicely. We would have liked to have remained with them over Sunday as they insisted we should, but "dainty apron strings were pulling hard" as Aunt Samantha says, so after dinner we drove on and have spent a quiet Sunday by ourselves. Read Talmage's sermon in the Herald, also the S. S. Lesson and some in the Ladies Home Journal, sang some hymns and felt as near God as if we were at home. Just at evening a young man traveler drove into our camp. Continued in our next. Mrs. FRED W. KNOTT.

Miller, has a piece of corn of a win five acres which was in ear as we passed through the first of the week, a piece good to look at and of which he is justly proud. The departure of E. W.
