The republican vice presidential candidate is a tax dodger, and besides he now proclaims to the world that all Democratic soldiers no matter what rank they fill in the army, they are cringing cowards, whether at home or abroad, thus General Lawton, Wheeler Miles, and numbers of others, who have laid their lives down for their country and the flag have been cringing cowards. Shame on such a candidate as Mr. Roosevelt, without doubt, he will never be permitted to sit in the vice presidential chair. At any rate a tax dodger should never be made one of the nation's officials.

The Administration through the crite diplomacy of its Secretary of state, John Hay has disposed of 2,000 square miles of Alaskan territory to the British government. It looks as if Sir Julian Pauncefote was the head man in president McKinley's cabinet. It will not be long—the way it looks now—until the United States will be added to the colonial possessions of England.

It Helped Win Battles.

Twenty-nine officers and men wrote from the front to say that for scratches Bruises, Cuts, wounds, Sore Feet and Stiff Joints, Buckles Arnica Salve is the best in the world. Same for burns, Skin Eruptions and Piles, 25 cts. a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by Dr. J. E. PHINNEY, druggist.

To show our readers that Hon. William J. Bryan, the candidate of the people, and who stands for the "Declaration of Independence," the Constitution of the United States, and a American Republic, founded upon those principles is drawing prominent public men, national, as well as locally, we give a few names of the most prominent and their affiliations, during the campaign, four years ago!

Genl. J. B. Henderson, ex-U. S. senator, Repub. Mo.
J. S. Fowler, ex-senator, Tenn.
Senator Wellington, Md. W. A. Croft, J. A. Habercorn, Genl. William Birney, Col. Chas. James, H. F. Keenan, Capt. Patrick O'Farrell, ex-Lieutenant Governor, Judge C. L. Houtz, Chas. M. Stafford, Chas. F. Bacon, E. L. Godkin, Edwin F. Walker, Webster Davis, Judge P. A. Louie, E. M. Orinway, Joseph Britinger, J. Haskins Hobson, Geo. M. Holliman, Judge Thomas A. Moran, Seligman Zussler, J. P. Hopkins, Rev. Dr. Silas C. Swallow (a presidential nominee himself), John DeWitt Warner, Genl. John G. Beatty, and Patrick Egan. Then ex-president Harrison, it is reported in a special dispatch to the daily press, will likely support the democratic ticket. Thus, it will be seen very readily that where we loose one from the Democratic ranks, we gain more than a dozen in their place.

The above gentlemen are more than two-thirds of them republicans while the rest of them were Palmer & Buckner Democrats and they are from Washington, D. C. Missouri, New York, Illinois, Ohio, Maryland, and other states.

GERMAN AMERICANS.

Getting Into Line—Habercorn Joins Davis In Supporting Bryan.

In a formal statement Mr. H. L. Habercorn, one of the most influential German-Americans in the United States, who managed the german republican vote in the first Harrison campaign and who was until recently in charge of the German Bureau attached to the republican national and congressional committees, announces that he has left the republican party and will give his support to the democratic ticket. Mr. Habercorn was one of the auditors of the treasury department under Harrison, and is the second official of high rank to make a public declaration of his intentions to support Mr. Bryan. Webster Davis being the first.

Mr. Habercorn says he has been driven from the republican party by imperialism, which he considers the most serious menace that ever threatened the life of the republic. Continuing his statement he says:

"I left the republican congressional committee in May, partly because I needed more time for my private business and largely because I was not in full accord with the party, and especially could not define and promote its expansion and foreign policies.

"A government with imperialism over our possessions cannot long remain a republic at home. As the government could not live half slave and half free, so it cannot live half imperial and half republican.

"The republican party now stands for imperialism, and is already busy cultivating the spirit of militarism. The Democratic party has earnestly, clearly and forcibly pronounced against imperialism with its resultant evils, and stands for the preservation of the republic and the constitution."

Who will be next to proclaim fidelity to principles and love of country paramount to party favors or high honors? Daily World-Herald.

We are prepared to take care of our trade at all times.

Rev. Dr. Silas Swallow, formerly prohibition candidate for president, says: "If we must choose between the candidates of the old parties, I must say that I should support the man" (Bryan) "who clings to principle and adheres to what he believes to be right, rather than the man" (McKinley) "whom the people never know where to find on any vital issue, who was against the liquor traffic at one time and for it now; who was for free silver and is now for gold; who was a free trader with Porto Rico and then for a Porto Rico tariff."

"Who will pull down the flag? The president and his cabinet have done so, where it waved over 2,000 square miles of territory in Alaska, and turned over to the British government United States territory as large as the state of Rhode Island, without any consideration whatever, and has bought two more Mahanad islands of Spain, paying $100,000 for them. Anything that president McKinley can do to accommodate the imperial governments of the earth, the republican administration will do it, but where people are fighting for liberty and independence, you can safely depend upon the republican party opposing it."

It is ungentlemanly, to say the least to hear how "Rough rider Roosevelt" brings in his famous war record. Why bless me, how many thousands of our brave noble soldiers, fought and bled in the Spanish war in Cuba, whose heroism if recorded would indeed make "Teddy" appear rough, but not a word of bravo from them, so it must all come from the great "I am." He seems to glory in relating in almost every speech he makes how he met a single insurgent and spared no time in dispatching him, what a brave man is Teddy but our American soldier goes to war with a people or nation, not to murder one lone man.

The Germans Doubly Strong.

The Rochester Democrat asserts that "there is no 'German-American vote.' There is a thoroughly American vote by American citizens of German birth and descent. These citizens know what imperialism is. They had it in the fatherland and do not want any more of it. They know what 'Americanism' is. They learned it from the declaration of independence, the constitution and the farewell address of Washington.

So we have a true 'German-American' vote. It is anti-imperialist—both by reason of its German experience with imperialism and its American study of the documentary expositions of Americanism.

The "German-American" vote is doubly American. Its knowledge of militarism in Germany makes it the more earnest to hold America to true Americanism.

When such distinguished men, as Ex-speaker Reed, ex-president Harrison, U. S. senator Wellington of Maryland, and Silas C. Swallow, who have been life-long republicans—and partisans too—turn their back upon president McKinley it begins to look as if the British, imperial president, of the United States of America, would be ignominiously defeated for the second term. People fought, bled and died during the early history, and the birth of this nation and they will not now permit Mark Hanna, who, in reality is the president, by proxy to sell out.

Recent dispatches relate that Governor Roosevelt has been obliged to consult his physician on account of a troublesome sore throat. The keynote of Roosevelt's speeches on the trip which has disabled his throat, was the declaration that the Democrats stand for lawlessness and dishonor, for "discuss and disaster at home and cowardly shrinking from duty abroad" such barefaced lies made Roosevelt's throat sore, yet this man is asking the support of our Fusion voters. Wilhroite?

A Word to Roosevelt.

"They stand for lawlessness and dishonor, for discuss and disaster at home and cowardly shrinking from duty abroad."—Governor Roosevelt speaking about the democrats.

Come, come, Colonel Roosevelt, you don't believe that. You don't believe it and republicans generally don't believe it. What you believe and want to say is that the six or seven million American citizens who will vote for Mr. Bryan next fall are law-abiding and orderly people honest and honorable, favoring liberty under proper restriction, and general prosperity at home and unswerving and unflinching facing of duty abroad but they have what you believe to be a misconception of the proper policy of the government.

That's what you think, Colonel Roosevelt. Then why not say so? Here abuse is easy. Sometimes it is amusing for a time. But it is never convincing, and even when it is clever, it entertains only for a little while. No mind is immortal, and the American public soon tires of a mud throwing campaign.

If there are six or seven million persons in this country who stand for "lawlessness and disorder, dishonesty and dishonor, disaster at home and cowardly shrinking from duty abroad." God help the country. It is worse off than China. But there aren't.—Chicago Journal (ind. rep.)

Among the latest converts to rally to the support of Bryan and Stevenson is Perry Belmont, brother of O. H. P. Belmont of New York city. Four years ago Mr. Belmont was one of Mr. Bryan's most bitter political antagonists. Still there are more to follow.

According to Mondays' daily papers, the army of the allied Powers now on their way to Pecking China, to relieve the besieged representatives of their respective governments, engaged in a bloody fight with the imperial forces on the 4th, resulting in the loss of 1,200 men, mostly Russian and Japanese troops, the dispatches report that probably three or four times that many of the enemy's troops were killed.

Secretary of the navy, John D. Long who was a prominent candidate for vice president at Philadelphia, and Hon. Senator Horr, of Massachusetts, have been invited to make stump speeches in Maine and Vermont for the G. O. P. for the state elections which take place there in September, but both have courteously declined to assist Mark Hanna in his effort to sustain and maintain the administration policy in the election of state officials in that state. The republican national committee are very much alarmed over the apathy of its public party apell binders in taking the stump for the party this fall.
