The dispatch from General Chaffee has no date, showing that it came from Pekin, but the war department officials are satisfield that it was sent from the Chinese capital.

This one dispatch from General Chaffee relative to conditions in Pekin, was made public today. It is apparent that our government is again in a waiting attitude.

General Chaffee had not received the department's instructions when he sent his message made public today, but without doubt has it now. His offer to escort Li Hung Chang was in conformity with the expected purpose of the state department to facilitate in every proper manner the journey of the Chinese viceroy to Pekin. Still. it is now regarded as just as well that the offer was declined and the responsibility for Li's safety left with the

If it shall appear that there is a disposition on the part of any considerable portion of them to reject in advance the well meant efforts of the United States to bring about a conference and negotiations in which they could participate on equal terms with our government, with the purpose of terminating the Chinese difficulties, then Mr. Conger's instructions may require recasting.

'Powerful Political Force" Being Brought to Bear to End the Trouble.

Philadelphia, Pa .- (Special) - The towtring feature of the coal strike situation, and one which attracted the attention of all interests involved, was the widely circulated report that negotiations are pending and rapidly reach ing completion for an amicable settle ment of the strike.

While the identity of the person or persons who are said to be at work, endeavoring to bring about a penceful adjustment of the differences between the employers and employes has not been disclosed, it was openly admitted in authoritative sources that such enleavor was in progress.

President Truesdale of the Lackawanna is quoted as making such adnizzion, but in what mannet, or by declined to state. President Mitchell and decided to offer the miners an inrease of wages, but he too declined o admit whether he possessed any furner information on the subject.

From Scranton comes a report that work were strong politically and that the operators were obliged to offer the men at least a concession of wages. The information upon which the operators based their conclusion that the working influênces were political could not be learned.

Coupled with nearly all the reports of the probable early settlement of the trouble, is that the men would be oftered an increase of pay, but the operators positively refuse to arbitrate the differences with President Mitchell or in any manner give recognition to the Mine Workers' union. This refusal to recognize the union would not prove a difficult obstacle to overcome. Presigent Mitchell in his open letter to the public having expressed his willingness to accept a settlement through separate conferences of committees of the employes and their direct employers.

If the ratiroad presidents and others were controlled, the miners would accept this proposition, he said he would waive all claim to the recognition of the union.

One condition he exacted, however, held the same day and in the same city. Matters were quiet throughout the strike regions today and the strikers' torces were increased by the closing of

IS GUILTY.

HOWARD FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER OF GOEBEL.

SENTENCED TO HANG

There Was No Doubt Expressed In Jury Room of Proof Howard's Terrible Crime.

Frankfort, Ky .- (Special.)-James B. Howard, who has been on trial for the past ten days, charged with being a principal in the assassination of Willam Goebel, was found guilty by the jury, his punishment being fixed at death.

The fact that the jury had deliberated a verdict led to the belief that it was hopelessly divided and this fact made the verdict shocking to Howard and those who hoped for his ultimate acquittal.

Howard did not lose his composure when the verdict calling for the extreme penalty of the law was read in the crowded court room. He glanced at his attorneys, and smiled, but said nothing.

After the jury had been discharged Howard was taken back to the tail and there for the first time, he betrayed emotion. He called for a pen and paper and wrete a long letter to his wife, during which tears coursed down his cheeks. He was joined later by his attorneys, who spent a good part of the day in conference with him in regard to the motion for a new trial which will be filed immediately, and other matters in connection with the case.

W. H. Culton, who is under indictment as an accessory to the Goebel murder and who gave damaging evidence against both Howard and Caleb Powers, was released on ball and his case continued until the January term. His bond was fixed at $10,000 and his brother-in-law, E. F. Hogg of Owsley county, and J. F. Halcomb and John Johnson of Jackson county became his Howard was represented by ex-Congressman W. C. Owens of Georgetown and Carl Little of Manchester. The prosecution was represented by Acting Commonwealth's Attorney Williams, T. C. Campbell of Cincinnati and H. B. Golden of Barbourville.

"Jim" Howard, as he is commonly known in the mountains, is a strikingly handsome man, 44 years of age, and would be the last man pointed out by a stranger as the man on trial. He had the record, however, of being the leader of the Howard-White faction in the Baker-Howard feud in Clay county, in which numerous lives were taken. This was while the jurors were in the jury room yesterday afternoon. The first ballot today resulted in a verdict, the two jurors who had voted for life imprisonment gave in to the majority and voted for the death penalty.

After the verdict had been rendered Howard was remanded to jail, where he was followed by his bosom friend, John G. White, who seemed almost paralyzed by the verdict. Howard's face looked blanched as he stood up to accompany the tatler back to tail.

The jury was composed of nine democrats, two republicans and one anti-

SOUTH GHAMA MARKET REPORT.

South Omaha, Neb., Sept. 3 Receipts for the past week have be jus tabout the same as last, although the run of Monday was the largest on record at these yards. About ninety per cent of the offerings have been western cattle, and mostly of rather off quality, desirable cattle being very scarce, especially those good enough for beef. The market for corn-fed cattie has been rather slow and dragging all the week, until yesterday, when prices firmed up a little and the murket was active. Today the supply of beef cattle was heavier and buyers went back to their old tactics of hammering prices, but were not able to do much damage. Fair to good cattle sold today at $5.15 to $5.35, common and half fat $4.40 to $4.90.

Cow stuff has been in very liberal supply this week and prices have held up very well. Monday prices were about a dime lower, but yesterday and today the loss was about regained, with the demand active from all sources. all of the afternoon without reaching Thin stock has met with a particularly good demand the past few days, both from packers and feeder buyers.

Receipts of feeders this week have been exceedingly large, but the demand has ben sufficient to take care of everything in that line, and prices are just about the same as last week. Good neavy feeders are still the most sought, But as was the case last week, buyers are taking more medium and light weight cattle and not a great deal of this kind of stuff is being carried over in the hands of speculators.

Receipts of hogs have not been as heavy the past week as the week before. Packers have shown a very bearish feeling all the week, and with large receipts and lower markets at outside points were able to hammer prices down 10 to 20 cents the early part of the week, but the last two days has witnessed a slight reaction for the better and prices are only a shade lower than last Friday and are about 90c to $1 higher than a year ago. The demand still continues for the light fat hogs, while the heavy, coarse and light skippy stuff is neglected and brings bottom prices.

He says there are in the neighborhood of 3,000 fat cattle ready for market and lots of hogs. Feeders are also putting in a good many cattle to be turned about the first of the year. Crops were well up to the average, in ood and there will be an abundance of ough food for stock during the winter.
